The Digital Dialectic Peter Lunenfeld, 2000 How our visual and intellectual cultures are changed by the new interaction based media and technologies      The Language of New Media Lev Manovich, 2002-02-22 A stimulating eclectic account of new media that finds its origins in old media particularly the cinema In this book Lev Manovich offers the first systematic and rigorous theory of new media He places new media within the histories of visual and media cultures of the last few centuries He discusses new media's reliance on conventions of old media such as the rectangular frame and mobile camera and shows how new media works create the illusion of reality address the viewer and represent space He also analyzes categories and forms unique to new media such as interface and database Manovich uses concepts from film theory art history literary theory and computer science and also develops new theoretical constructs such as cultural interface spatial montage and cinegratography The theory and history of cinema play a particularly important role in the book Among other topics Manovich discusses parallels between the histories of cinema and of new media digital cinema screen and montage in cinema and in new media and historical ties between avant garde film and new media      Leonardo's Choice Carol Gigliotti, 2009-09-18 Leonardo's Choice Genetic Technologies and Animals is an edited collection of twelve essays and one dialogue focusing on the profound affect the use of animals in biotechnology is having on both humans and other species Communicating crucial understandings of the integrated nature of the human and non human world these essays unlike the majority of discussions of biotechnology take seriously the impact of these technologies on animals themselves This collection's central questions revolve around the disassociation Western ideas of creative freedom have from the impacts those ideas and practices have on the non human world This transdisciplinary collection includes perspectives from the disciplines of philosophy cultural theory art and literary theory history and theory of science environmental studies law landscape architecture history and geography Included authors span three continents and four countries Included essays contribute significantly to a growing scholarship surrounding the question of the animal emanating from philosophical cultural and activist discourses Its authors are at the forefront of the growing number of theorists and practitioners across the disciplines concerned with the impact of new technologies on the more than human world      Understanding New Media Kim H. Veltman, 2006 This book outlines the development currently underway in the technology of new media and looks further to examine the unforeseen effects of this phenomenon on our culture our philosophies and our spiritual outlook      Digital Performance Steve Dixon, 2015-01-30 The historical roots key practitioners and artistic theoretical and technological trends in the incorporation of new media into the performing arts The past decade has seen an extraordinarily intense period of experimentation with computer technology within the performing arts Digital media has been increasingly incorporated into live theater and dance and new forms of interactive performance have emerged in participatory installations on CD ROM and on the Web In Digital Performance Steve Dixon traces the evolution of these practices presents detailed accounts of key practitioners and performances and analyzes the theoretical artistic and technological contexts of this form of new media art Dixon finds precursors to today's digital performances in past forms of theatrical technology that range from the deus ex machina of classical Greek drama to Wagner's Gesamtkunstwerk concept of the total artwork and draws parallels between contemporary work and the theories and practices of Constructivism Dada Surrealism Expressionism Futurism and multimedia pioneers of the twentieth century For a theoretical perspective on digital performance Dixon draws on the work of Philip Auslander Walter Benjamin Roland Barthes Jean Baudrillard and others To document and analyze contemporary digital performance practice Dixon considers changes in the representation of the body space and time He considers virtual bodies avatars and digital doubles as well as performances by artists including Stelarc Robert Lepage Merce Cunningham Laurie Anderson Blast Theory and Eduardo Kac He investigates new media's novel approaches to creating theatrical spectacle including virtual reality and robot performance work telematic performances in which remote locations are linked in real time Webcams and online drama communities and considers the extratemporal illusion created by some technological theater works Finally he defines categories of interactivity from navigational to participatory and collaborative Dixon challenges dominant theoretical approaches to digital performance including what he calls postmodernism's denial of the new and offers a series of boldly original arguments in their place

Art and Innovation Craig Harris, 1999 The idea behind Xerox's interdisciplinary Palo Alto Research Center PARC is simple If you put creative people in a hothouse setting innovation will naturally emerge PARC's Artist in Residence Program PAIR brings artists who use new media to PARC and pairs them with researchers who often use the same media though in different contexts The result is both interesting art and new scientific innovations Art and Innovation explores the unique process that grew from this pairing of new media artists and scientists working at the frontier of developing technologies In addition to discussing specific works created during several long term residencies the artists and researchers reveal the similarities and differences in their approaches and perspectives as they engage each other in a search for new methods of communication and creativity

Art + DIY Electronics Garnet Hertz, 2023-05-30 A systematic theory of DIY electronic culture drawn from a century of artists who have independently built creative technologies Since the rise of Arduino and 3D printing in the mid 2000s do it yourself approaches to the creative exploration of technology have surged in popularity But the maker movement is not new it is a historically significant practice in contemporary art and design This book documents tracks and identifies a hundred years of innovative DIY technology practices illustrating how the maker movement is a continuation of a long standing creative electronic subculture Through this comprehensive exploration Garnet Hertz develops a theory and language of creative DIY electronics drawing from diverse examples of contemporary art including work from renowned electronic artists such as Nam June Paik and such art collectives as Survival Research Laboratories and the Barbie Liberation Front Hertz uncovers the defining elements of electronic DIY culture which often works with limited resources to bring new life to obsolete objects while engaging in a critical dialogue with consumer capitalism Whether hacking blackboxed technologies or deploying culture jamming techniques to critique commercial labor practices or gender norms the artists have found creative ways to make personal and political statements through creative technologies The wide range of innovative works and practices profiled in Art DIY Electronics form a general framework for DIY culture and help inspire readers to get creative with their own adaptations fabrications and reimaginations of everyday technologies New Media Anna Everett, John T.

Caldwell, 2003-02-28 The mushroom like growth of new media technologies is radically challenging traditional media outlets The proliferation of technologies like DVDs MP3s and the Internet has freed the public from what we used to understand as mass media In the face of such seismic shifts and ruptures the theoretical and pedagogical foundations of film and TV studies are being shaken to their core New Media demands a necessary rethinking of the field Writing from a range of disciplines and perspectives the scholars here outline new theses and conceptual frameworks capable of engaging the numerous facets of emergent digital technology New Media Kelli Fuery, 2017-09-16 New media is becoming integral to our lives But for how long can we refer to emerging media as new in this fast moving digital age What makes it new And what problems do interactive media create for us as cultural beings This book investigates the culture and context of new media Exploring and critiquing debates drawn from media and cultural theory Fuery clearly explores and defines the concepts of new media and interactivity With a clear and structured approach the book questions existing ideas about digital culture and explains the problems that emerging technologies can present to our culture from issues of surveillance and power to the digitalisation of the body In particular the book includes A variety of perspectives and approaches to the idea of the new Consideration and evaluation of work from key media theorists from Foucault to Bourdieu Relevant and innovative examples that bring the complexities of new media to life A glossary for quick reference and explanation of complex concepts New Media Culture and Image interrogates the key concepts models and approaches surrounding the formation and evolution of new media It will encourage all students of Cultural Studies and Media Studies to question and reconsider their ideas about media and cultural theory Tactical Publishing Alessandro Ludovico, 2024-01-16 How to level up to the next transformative phase of publishing with a critical methodology that transcends the dichotomy of paper and digital media production Publishing is experiencing one of the most transformative phases in its history In Tactical Publishing a sequel to Post Digital Print Alessandro Ludovico explores the forces driving this historical phase highlighting the tremendous opportunities it presents Our task he believes is to develop an alternative publishing system that transcends the dichotomy between paper and digital media He focuses first on the two activities on which publishing is premised reading and writing with an emphasis on writing machines and post truth in the latter and then deconstructs the concept proposing alternative strategies inspired by recent practices and unconventional uses of technology Ludovico shows how the radical and strategic use of print in the past can serve as the basis for our transition to the next phase of publishing He argues that the new ecology of publishing should be based on three main elements the stimulation of our senses the role of software in forming the publishing infrastructure and the importance of archives During this transition from the current post digital phase to the next phase independent publishers and artists as well as readers and machines will enable new structures and actions that realize the potential of publishing and the preservation of content thereby enriching social practices The author also considers the crucial social role played by new forms of libraries as artists and publishers shape the coming publishing world in its various manifestations Combining analytical accounts of tactical strategies with examples from artworks and experimental practices the book concludes with a manifesto for publishing in the twenty first century and an appendix with a selection of one hundred publications representing the periodic table of future publishing
