The Disobedient Writer Women And Narrative Tradition:

The Disobedient Writer Nancy A. Walker, 1995 For centuries women who aspired to write had to enter a largely male literary tradition that offered few if any literary forms in which to express their perspectives on lived experience Since the nineteenth century however women writers and readers have been producing disobedient counter narratives that while clearly making reference to the original texts overturn their basic assumptions This book looks at both canonical and non canonical works over a variety of fiction and nonfiction genres that offer counter readings of familiar Western narratives Nancy Walker begins by probing women s revisions of two narrative traditions pervasive in Western culture the biblical story of Adam and Eve and the traditional fairy tales that have served as paradigms of women s behavior and expectations She goes on to examine the works of a wide range of writers from contemporaries Marilynne Robinson Ursula Le Guin Anne Sexton Fay Weldon Angela Carter and Margaret Atwood to precursors Caroline Kirkland Fanny Fern Mary De Morgan Mary Louisa Molesworth Edith Nesbit and Evelyn Sharp

Revisionary Rhetoric, Feminist Pedagogy, and Multigenre Texts Julie Jung, 2005 In this precise and provocative treatise Julie Jung augments the understanding and teaching of revision by arguing that the process should entail changing attitudes rather than simply changing texts Revisionary Rhetoric Feminist Pedagogy and Multigenre Texts proposes and demonstrates alternative ways of reading writing and teaching that hear silences in such a way as to generate personal pedagogical and professional revisions As both a challenge to prevailing revision pedagogies and an elaboration of contemporary feminist rhetorics the volume encourages students and instructors to examine their identities as scholars of rhetoric and composition and to question how and why revision is taught Jung analyzes feminist texts to identify a revisionary rhetoric that is at its core most concerned with creating a space in which to engage productively with issues of difference This synthesis of feminist theory and revision studies yields a pedagogically useful definition of feminist rhetoric through which Jung examines the insights afforded by multigenre texts in various related contexts the academic essay the discipline of rhetoric and composition studies feminist composition and the subfields of English studies including rhetoric and composition literature and creative writing Jung illustrates how multigenre texts demand innovative methods of inquiry because they do not fit the conventions of any single genre Because genre is inextricably tied to the construction of social identity she explains multigenre texts also offer a means for understanding and revising disciplinary identity Boldly making a case for the revisionary power of multigenre texts Jung retheorizes revision as a process of disrupting textual clarity so that differences can be identified contended with and perhaps understood Revisionary Rhetoric Feminist Pedagogy and Multigenre Texts makes great strides towards defining feminist rhetoric and ascertaining how revision can be theorized not just practiced Jung also provides a multigenre epilogue that explores the usefulness of reconceiving revision as a progression towards wholeness rather than perfection

Stories in Letters - Letters in Stories Rebekka Schuh, 2021-10-04 This book deals with letters in Anglophone Canadian short stories of the late twentieth and the early twenty first century in the context of liminality It argues that in the course of the epistolary renaissance the letter which has often been deemed to be obsolete in literature has not only enjoyed an upsurge in novels but also migrated to the short story thus constituting the genre of the epistolary short story Life-writings by British Women, 1660-1815 Carolyn A. Barros, Johanna M. Smith, 2000 A pioneering diverse collection that provides insight into the powerful motive of self expression that inspired women autobiographers around the eighteenth century Edith Wharton and the Visual Arts Emily J. Orlando, 2007 This work explores Edith Wharton's career long concern with a 19th century visual culture that limited female artistic agency and expression Wharton repeatedly invoked the visual arts as a medium for revealing the ways that women's bodies have been represented as passive sexualized infantilized sickly dead Well versed in the Italian masters Wharton made special use of the art of the Pre Raphaelite Brotherhood particularly its penchant for producing not portraits of individual women but instead icons onto whose bodies male desire is superimposed The Critical Waltz Rhonda S. Pettit, 2005 This is the first collection of critical essays devoted to the writing of Dorothy Parker Its four part organisation reflects a necessary shift away from her identity as primarily a humorist or Jazz Age literary celebrity Aesthetics and Gender in American Literature Deborah Barker, 2000 In their challenge to a gendered racialized evolutionary aesthetics as embodied in the female copyist as an icon of cultural reproduction these women writers enact in a fictional format what many recent feminists address at the theoretical level a resistance to essentialist definitions of women's nature and to universal standards of high culture BOOK JACKET Folktales and Fairy Tales Anne E. Duggan Ph.D., Donald Haase Ph.D., Helen J. Callow, 2016-02-12 Encyclopedic in its coverage this one of a kind reference is ideal for students scholars and others who need reliable up to date information on folk and fairy tales past and present Folktales and fairy tales have long played an important role in cultures around the world They pass customs and lore from generation to generation provide insights into the peoples who created them and offer inspiration to creative artists working in media that now include television film manga photography and computer games This second expanded edition of an award winning reference will help students and teachers as well as storytellers writers and creative artists delve into this enchanting world and keep pace with its past and its many new facets Alphabetically organized and global in scope the work is the only multivolume reference in English to offer encyclopedic coverage of this subject matter The four volume collection covers national cultural regional and linguistic traditions from around the world as well as motifs themes characters and tale types Writers and illustrators are included as are filmmakers and composers and of course the tales themselves The expert entries within volumes 1 through 3 are based on the latest research and developments while the contents of volume 4 comprises tales and texts While most books either present readers with tales from certain countries or cultures or with thematic entries this encyclopedia stands alone in that it does both making it a truly unique one stop resource Rewriting Christian Moraru, 2001-09-20 Examines the tendency of post World War II writers to rewrite earlier narratives by Poe Melville Hawthorne and others Imperial Tapestries Julia L.

Farmer, 2016-07-26 Imperial Tapestries represents a transnational approach to questions of monarchical power and literary form in early modern Europe. In line with Barbara Fuchs's recent call for considerations of center versus periphery in Old World contexts, it explores the ways in which some of the most significant authors of the early modern era questioned the structures of Spanish Habsburg authority through imperial texts, texts that call attention to their organizational process in order to mirror authors' perceptions of the structures of Habsburg power. With a contextual basis in Fuchs's notion of imperium, studies of ideas of self-fashioning and theories of early modern reading, the study explores the ways in which complex narrative forms in the early modern period reflected the concerns with the structures of Habsburg imperial power subtly portrayed within the narratives themselves. A close reading of the various strands that form the tapestries of the texts at issue reveals a deep undercurrent of misgivings toward various manifestations of Spanish Habsburg power on the part of authors who had experienced its effects first hand. Whether the complex narrative devices in question cast the Habsburg monarchs as monster, misogynist, sorceress, aloof shepherdess, or mad would-be knight errant, they all have one thing in common: the spatialized forms that they create correspond directly with the ways in which the authors in question perceive the more disillusioning aspects of Habsburg hegemony. Authors studied in the volume include Ludovico Ariosto, Garcilaso de la Vega, Jorge de Montemayor, Miguel de Cervantes, and Mar a de Zayas.
