The Good German Of Nanking By Rabe John:

The Good Man of Nanking John Rabe, 1998 As the Japanese army closed in on the city and all foreigners were ordered to evacuate Rabe felt it would shame him before his Chinese workers and dishonor the Fatherland if he abandoned them Sending his wife to the north he mobilized the remaining Westerners in Nanking and organized an International Safety Zone within which all unarmed Chinese were to be by virtue of Germany's pact with Japan guaranteed safety The Good German of Nanking John Rabe, 2000 A unique and gripping document the recently discovered diaries which reveal the story of an elderly German who saved so many lives he became known as the Oskar Schindler of China Representing the "good German" in Literature and Culture After 1945 Pól Ó Dochartaigh, Christiane Schönfeld, 2013 Essays analyzing postwar literary cultural and historical representations of good Germans during the Second World War and the Nazi period In the aftermath of the Second World War both the allied occupying powers and the nascent German authorities sought Germans whose record during the war and the Nazi period could serve as a counterpoint to the notion of Germans as evil That search has never really stopped In the past few years we have witnessed a burgeoning of cultural representations of this other kind of Third Reich citizen the good German as opposed to the committed Nazi or genocidal maniac Such representations have highlighted individuals choices in favor of dissenting behavior moral truth or at the very least civil disobedience The good German's counterhegemonic practice cannot negate or contradict the barbaric reality of Hitler's Germany but reflects a value system based on humanity and an other ideal community This volume of new essays explores postwar and recent representations of good Germans during the Third Reich analyzing the logic of moral behavior cultural and moral relativism and social conformity found in them It thus draws together discussions of the function and reception of Good Germans in Germany and abroad Contributors Eoin Bourke Manuel Bragança Maeve Cooke Kevin De Ornellas Sabine Egger Joachim Fischer Coman Hamilton Jon Hughes Karina von Lindeiner Strömsky Alexandra Ludewig Pól Ó Dochartaigh Christiane Schönfeld Matthias Uecker Pól Ó Dochartaigh is Professor of German and Dean of the Faculty of Arts at the University of Ulster Northern Ireland Christiane Schönfeld is Senior Lecturer in German and Head of the Department of German Studies at Mary Immaculate College University of Limerick

Hitler's Asian Adventure Horst H. Geerken, 2025-05-07 From 1963 to 1981 Horst H Geerken lived in the new born Republic of Indonesia at a time of upheaval after the end of almost 350 years of colonial rule and exploitation by the Netherlands In both his professional and private activities he constantly came across German Japanese and Indonesian eyewitnesses who had lived through the Japanese occupation and the presence of the German navy in Indonesia The relations between the German Reich and what was then the Dutch East Indies were obviously closer and more varied than had been previously assumed Hardly anyone was aware that Hitler was extremely interested in this distant archipelago and that thousands of German officers and seamen were in action in East and South East Asia Who knows that German U boats and auxiliary cruisers penetrated deep into the Pacific and that the German Navy used the

Kerguelen Islands in the South Polar Sea as a secret base Or that Hitler gave massive support to the independence movements in Indonesia and India Many of the German naval personnel chose to make Indonesia their home after the war and joined the Indonesian freedom fighters The Second World War heralded the end of the colonial era in Asia especially in South East Asia The role played in this process by the Third Reich should not be underestimated The collaboration between the Axis powers especially that between German and Japan with all its problems is also investigated There was a lively exchange of new weapons technology There was even the re creation of a German Radar system in Japan under the management of a German engineer Documents from the Third Reich s Foreign Ministry published here for the first time show how brutally and inhumanely the German men women and children in the Dutch internment camps in the East Indies were treated by their captors These documents are supported by evidence from contemporary witnesses The author has encapsulated his many years of research in the two volumes of Hitler s Asian Adventure It is a fascinating documentation of the German Navy s involvement in a theatre of war that has until now been neglected by historians The Rape of Nanking Zhang Sheng,2021-11-08 The Massacre of Nanking took place in 1937 during the War of the Japanese Invasion of China 75 years after the event we are finally able to analyze and study what happened in Nanking on three levels as an historical event as a legal case and as an object in the Chinese people s collective consciousness Museums for Peace: Transforming Cultures Clive Barrett,Joyce Apsel,2012 The Role of Museums in the Transformation of a Culture of War and Violence to a Culture of Peace and Nonviolence papers based on the 7th conference of the International Network of Museums for Peace Barcelona Peace Resource Center May 2011 The Nanking Atrocity, 1937-38 Bob Tadashi Wakabayashi,2007 Events in Nanking during 1937 38 are the subject of a ferocious historiographical debate between Chinese Japanese points of view This volume seeks to debunk the myths promoted by scholars on both sides of the argument present a revisionist view of the atrocity that complicates the picture The Good Man of Nanking John Rabe,2000-03-14 The Good Man of Nanking is a crucial document for understanding one of World War II s most horrific incidents of genocide one which the Japanese have steadfastly refused to acknowledge It is also the moving and awe inspiring record of one man s conscience courage and generosity in the face of appalling human brutality Until the recent emergence of John Rabe s diaries few people knew about the unassuming hero who has been called the Oskar Schindler of China In November 1937 as Japanese troops overran the Chinese capital of Nanking and began a campaign of torture rape and murder against its citizens one man a German who had lived in China for thirty years and who was a loyal follower of Adolph Hitler put himself at risk and in order to save the lives of 200 000 poor Chinese 600 of whom he sheltered in his own home The Nanking Atrocity, 1937-1938 Bob Tadashi Wakabayashi,2007-12-15 Events in Nanking during 1937 38 are the subject of a ferocious historiographical debate between Chinese Japanese points of view This volume seeks to debunk the myths promoted by scholars on both sides of the argument present a revisionist view of the atrocity that complicates the picture Historical Dictionary of the Chinese Civil War Christopher R. Lew, Edwin Pak-wah Leung, 2013-07-29 The Chinese Civil War which lasted several years or several decades depending on how you define it was one of the most momentous wars of the 20th century for it determined the fate of the world's most populous country and was bitterly fought with millions of combatants involved and hundreds of millions of civilians affected. More to the point it was won by the Chinese Communist Party under Mao Zedong who imposed Communist rule while the Nationalists retreated to Taiwan. It also heated up the Cold War for quite some time as the Communists were supported by the Soviet Union and the Nationalists by the United States. This second edition of the Historical Dictionary of the Chinese Civil War studies the longer broader war and its chronology carefully tracks the major events. The introduction then provides a broad overview describing the contending forces and showing how the Communists come out on top. The details and these are crucial are laid out in over 200 cross referenced dictionary entries dealing with the opposing forces and parties, the major campaigns and battles, the Long March and of course the leadership on both sides. This book one of few such in English provides a very solid basis for study but that can be accomplished more effectively by consulting the titles listed in an extensive bibliography.

The Nanjing Massacre and the Making of Mediated Trauma Hongtao Li, Shunming Huang, 2021-08-24 Drawing on cultural trauma theory this book investigates how collective memory of the Nanjing Massacre is fashioned in China and how the mass media political power and public praxis jointly shape the politics and culture of memory in contemporary China. Allowing for the dimensions of history and different mediating spaces, the authors first conduct textual analysis of news reports from traditional media since the event took place, revealing that the significance of the Massacre was initially portrayed as a local incident before its construction as a national trauma and finally a collective memory. In a study of physical and online memorial spaces, including the Memorial Hall, commemorative activities on the Internet and new media platforms, the book unveils the production and reproduction of trauma narratives as well as how these narratives have been challenged. The final part further studies the interactions between media and other institutional settings while exploring issues of global memory and reconciliation in East Asia. The title will be an essential read for anyone interested in memory studies, media and communication, and particularly the collective memory of the Nanjing Massacre. The British National

Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2001 Terror in Minnie Vautrin's Nanjing Minnie Vautrin, 2024-04-22 In December of 1937 the Japanese Imperial Army marched into China's capital city of Nanjing and launched six weeks of carnage that would become known as the Rape of Nanjing. In addition to the deaths of Chinese POWs and civilians, tens of thousands of women were raped, tortured and killed by Japanese soldiers. In this traumatic environment, both native and foreign born inhabitants of Nanjing struggled to carry on with their lives. This volume collects the diaries and correspondence of Minnie Vautrin, a farmgirl from Illinois who had dedicated herself to the education of Chinese women at Ginling College in Nanjing. Faced with the impending Japanese attack, she turned the school into a sanctuary for ten thousand women and girls. Vautrin's firsthand accounts of daily life in Nanjing and the intensifying threat of Japanese invasion reveal the courage of the occupants under siege: Chinese nationals as well as Western missionaries, teachers, surgeons and business people, and the personal costs of violence in wartime. Thanks to Vautrin's painstaking effort in keeping a day-to-day account, present-day readers are able to examine this episode of history at close range through her eyes. With detailed maps, photographs and carefully researched in-depth annotations, Terror in Minnie Vautrin's Nanjing Diaries and Correspondence 1937-38 presents a comprehensive and detailed daily account of the events and of life during the horror-stricken days within the city walls and in particular on the Ginling campus. Through chronologically arranged diaries, letters, reports, documents and telegrams, Vautrin bears witness to those terrible events and to the magnitude of trauma that the Nanjing Massacre exacted on the populace.
