Sympathy in Perception Mark Eli Kalderon, 2018 A wide ranging study of the nature of perception discussing touch hearing and vision and bringing together analytic and continental approaches Understanding Human Evolution Jeffrey K. McKee, Frank E. Poirier, W Scott McGraw, 2015-10-16 For the one term course in human evolution paleoanthropology or fossil hominins taught at the junior senior level in departments of anthropology or biology This new edition provides a comprehensive overview to the field of paleoanthropology the study of human evolution by analyzing fossil remains It includes the latest fossil finds attempts to place humans into the context of geological and biological change on the planet and presents current controversies in an even handed manner Joint Attention: Communication and Other Minds Naomi Eilan, Christoph Hoerl, Teresa McCormack, Johannes Roessler, 2005-03-03 An international team of psychologists and philosophers present the latest research into the fascinating cognitive phenomenon of joint attention Some time around their first birthday most infants begin to engage in a behaviour that is designed to bring it about say by means of pointing or gaze following that their own and another person s attention are focused on the same object Described as manifestations of an emerging capacity for joint attention such triangulations between infant adult and the world are often treated as a developmental landmark and have become the subject of intensive research among developmentalists and primatologists over the past decade More recently work on joint attention has also begun to attract the attention of philosophers Fuelling researchers interest in all these disciplines is the intuition that joint attention plays a foundational role in the emergence of communicative abilities in children s developing understanding of the mind and possibly in the very capacity for objective thought This book brings together for the first time philosophical and psychological perspectives on the nature and significance of the phenomenon addressing issues such as How should we explain the kind of mutual openness that joint attention seems to involve i e the sense in which both child and adult are aware that they are attending to the same thing What sort of grip on one s own and other people s mental states does such awareness involve and how does it relate to later emerging theory of mind abilities In what sense if any is the capacity to engage in joint attention with others unique to humans How should we explain autistic children s seeming incapacity to engage in joint attention What role if any does affect play in the achievement of joint attention And what if any is the connection between participation in joint attention and grasp of the idea of an objective world The book also contains an introductory chapter aimed at providing a framework for integrating different philosophical and psychological approaches to these questions      Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ,1991      Eros Crucified Matthew Clemente,2019-11-08 Bringing contemporary philosophers theologians and psychoanalysts into dialogue with works of art and literature this work provides a fresh perspective on how humans can make sense of suffering and finitude and how our existence as sexual beings shapes our relations to one another and the divine It attempts to establish a connection between carnal bodily love and humanity's relation to the divine Relying on the works of philosophers such as Manoussakis Kearney and Marion and psychoanalysts such as Freud and Lacan this book provides a possible answer to these fundamental questions and fosters further dialogue between thinkers and scholars of these different fields The author analyzes why human sexuality implies both perversion and perfection and why it brings together humanity's baseness and beatitude Through it the author taps once more into the dark mystery of Eros and Thanatos who to paraphrase Dostoevsky forever struggle with God on the battlefield of the human heart This book is written primarily for scholars interested in the fields of philosophical psychology existential philosophy and philosophy of religion

The Mathematics in Our Hands Christina M Krause,2016-01-08 In her empirical study Christina Krause investigates how gestures can contribute to epistemic processes in social interactions She expands the traditional speech based approach to analyzing social processes of constructing mathematical knowledge by employing a multimodal perspective Adopting a semiotic approach she takes into account two functions of gestures as signs used by the participants of the social interaction the representational function concerns the ways in which gestures take part in referring to a mathematical object in processes of knowledge construction and the epistemic function relates to the ways in which they can contribute to the performance of collective epistemic actions The results of this study reveal that gestures influence the epistemic process significantly more than previously thought and indicate factors underlying this influence      Horror in Silent Films Roy Kinnard,2024-10-09 Though the horror film was not officially born until Universal Pictures released Frankenstein in 1931 there were many silent films that contained terrifying scenes and horrific elements Many of the early horror soundies drew much of their inspiration for visual design and thematic development from the silents This filmography includes all silent films that were horrific in nature containing one or more of the stock horror movie elements e g haunted houses ghosts witches monsters the occult or hypnotism Each entry includes release date running time cast and credit information contemporary review quotes when available and in the case of foreign films the original title and country of origin

Perceiving and Acting in the Real World: From Neural Activity to Behavior Simona Monaco, Gavin Buckingham, Irene Sperandio, J. Douglas Crawford, 2016-12-07 One remarkable ability of the human brain is to process large amounts of information about our surroundings to allow us to interact effectively with them In everyday life the most common way to interact with objects is by reaching grasping lifting and manipulating them Although these may sound like simple tasks the perceptual properties of the target object such as its location size shape and orientation all need to be processed in order to set the movement parameters that allow an accurate reach to grasp to lift movement Several brain areas work in concert to process this outstanding amount of visual information and drive the execution of a motor plan in just a few hundred milliseconds How are these processes orchestrated In developing this type of comprehensive knowledge about the interactions between objects perception and goal directed actions we have a window into the mechanisms underlying the functioning of the visuo motor system With this research topic we aim to further understand the neural mechanisms that mediate our interactions with the world Therefore we particularly encourage submission of papers that attempt to relate such findings to real world situations by investigating behavioural and neural correlates of information processing related to eye hand coordination and visually guided actions including reaching grasping and lifting movements This topic welcomes submissions of original research using any relevant techniques and methods from behavioural kinematics kinetics to neuroimaging and transcranial magnetic stimulation TMS as well as neuropsychological studies

The enigma of Bálint's syndrome: complexity of neural substrates and cognitive deficits Magdalena Chechlac, Glyn Humphreys, 2015-07-10 Bálint's syndrome is named after the Hungarian physician who first reported a remarkable case of a man with complex visuospatial deficits following bilateral lesions within parietal and occipital cortex Bálint 1909 The syndrome has three primary symptoms simultanagnosia impaired spatial awareness of more than one object at time optic ataxia misreaching to visual targets and ocular apraxia described by Balint as psychic paralysis of gaze Balint's patients not only cannot perceive more than one object at time and therefore show poor comprehension of multi object visual scenes i.e. poor detection of all the objects present and difficulty in grasping the relationship between them in addition they typically fail to reach towards location of the single object which they can perceive The deficit of the allocation of spatial attention in Balint's syndrome has been linked to a problem in feature binding which results in illusory conjunctions Patients with Balint's syndrome also show deficits in global processing i.e. when integration of multiple local elements into global compound shapes is required Consequently Balint's syndrome provides a unique opportunity to study the nature and neuroanatomy of human visuospatial processing in particular multi level object representation spatial awareness and the distribution of visual attention The studies collected here cover both the anatomical and the cognitive mechanisms of the different symptoms associated with the syndrome Furthermore the dissociations between the components of Balint's syndrome in particular simultanagnosia and optic ataxia can also co occur with visual neglect and extinction and the different combinations of reported lesions raises a question about the status of the syndrome and whether it should be merely treated as a historical compilation of symptoms which may or may not coexist cohesively This interesting argument is raised here

Subject Matter Aron Vinegar, 2023-11-28 A theorization of habit that emphasizes its excessive and unsettling qualities rather than its mediating adaptive and stabilizing functions Subject Matter offers a bold counterpoint to prevalent conceptions of habit characterized by bodily fluidity and ease as the stabilizing foundation of an emerging subjectivity or more negatively as a numbing and deadening force Instead of facilitating the coordination of action with goal and self with environment habit appears here as a disruptively recursive operation with extreme ontological implications that are often more quotidian than exceptional Vinegar theorizes habit's more perturbing aspects from repetition compulsion to kenosis to breakdown through an encounter between Hegel's philosophy of habit psychoanalytic dimensions of repetition Tom McCarthy's novel Remainder and Omer Fast's feature length film interpretation of the novel Vinegar starts with the premise that habit is an unhappy mediator a disturbance of the very medium and milieu that is constitutive of the subject Subject Matter pays close attention to those aspects of habit that are usually considered deviations from or potential threats to habit proper and that generate a logic of breakdown automaticity mechanization thingness inertia and fixity By plotting a topology of habit's unbearability through detailed accounts of its manifestation in writing art aesthetics and visibility and through an attentiveness to the unbalanced nonrelations between mediation and immediacy being and having fixity and fluidity vanishing and overflowing abbreviation and excess beginning and ending Vinegar exposes habit's failure to mediate and inhabit In doing so he offers new and counterintuitive insights into how habit generates the unruly grounds it is supposed to settle thus allowing us to ask how we might break down differently
