The Great Safari The Lives Of George And Joy Adamson:

The Great Safari Adrian House,1995 Fodor's African Safari David Bristow,Julian Harrison,2004 Filled with practical advice on how and where to find the best safari trips in southern and eastern Africa this handy tourist guide explains how to evaluate the best safaris and guided tours offers facts about different types of game lodges and provides tips on comparing packages what to pack health issues and more Original 15 000 first printing Warfare and Tracking in Africa, 1952-1990 Timothy J Stapleton,2015-10-06 During the decolonization wars in East and Southern Africa tracking became increasingly valuable as a military tactic Drawing on archival research and interviews Stapleton presents a comparative study of the role of tracking in insurgency and counter insurgency across Kenya Zimbabwe and Namibia Tropical Nature Guillaume Blanc,Mathieu Guérin,Grégory Quenet,2025-03-01 Across Africa and South East Asia the impulse to protect nature often dovetails with the domination of local people From mass displacement to severe restrictions on land use and daily acts of violence conservation work risks reproducing Eurocentric modes of colonialism and worsening the effects of the climate crisis In this insightful and wide ranging study of the colonial history of conservation Tropical Nature seeks to provide a much needed history of the Global South from its own perspective Comparing case studies ranging from Ali Bongo s Gabon to the postcolonial African itinerary of the agronomist Arthur Bunting this volume advances a small scale global history that deciphers the relations binding human societies to the non human world Infertility and the Creative Spirit Roxane Head Dinkin,Robert J. Dinkin,2011 Roxane Head Dinkin PhD a clinical psychologist practicing in Bradenton Florida who has long dealt with the problems of infertile women and history professor Robert J Dinkin have created an informative book showcasing seven prominent women who struggled with infertility and became creative powerhouses in a variety of fields Unable to have children themselves the Dinkins utilized their combined expertise and discovered how these seven women had worked through their infertility issues and honed their creativity to more fully utilize their talents Juliette Low founder of the Girl Scouts of the USA Joy Adamson wildlife conservationist and author of Born Free Josephine Baker entertainer and adoptive mother of twelve Frida Kahlo innovative artist Emma Goldman anarchist and birth control advocate Ruth Benedict leading anthropologist Marilyn Monroe film star and sexual icon Infertility produces a profound loss for women who hold the expectation that they will reproduce Infertility and the Creative Spirit clearly illustrates the connection between the desire and inability to have children and lasting accomplishments in other areas of life showing how infertile women contribute to the next generation Environment and Empire William Beinart,Lotte Hughes,2007-10-11 European imperialism was extraordinarily far reaching a key global historical process of the last 500 years It locked disparate human societies together over a wider area than any previous imperial expansion it underpinned the repopulation of the Americas and Australasia it was the precursor of globalization as we now understand it Imperialism was inseparable from the history of global environmental change Metropolitan countries sought raw materials of all kinds from timber and furs to rubber and oil They established sugar plantations that transformed island ecologies Settlers introduced new methods of farming and displaced indigenous peoples Colonial cities many of which became great conurbations fundamentally changed relationships between people and nature Consumer cultures the internal combustion engine and pollution are now ubiquitous Environmental history deals with the reciprocal interaction between people and other elements in the natural world and this book illustrates the diverse environmental themes in the history of empire Initially concentrating on the material factors that shaped empire and environmental change Environment and Empire discusses the way in which British consumers and manufacturers sucked in resources that were gathered hunted fished mined and farmed Yet it is also clear that British settler and colonial states sought to regulate the use of natural resources as well as commodify them Conservation aimed to preserve resources by exclusion as in wildlife parks and forests and to guarantee efficient use of soil and water Exploring these linked themes of exploitation and conservation this study concludes with a focus on political reassertions by colonised peoples over natural resources In a post imperial age they have found a new voice reformulating ideas about nature landscape and heritage and challenging at a local and global level views of who has the right to regulate nature The Trouble with Lions Jerry

Haigh, 2013-02-20 The trouble with lions is that while you are conducting a pregnancy test you need to be equally if not more aware of what you can learn from the lion's other end That is one lesson that Jerry Haigh brings home in this fascinating collection of stories about working with wild animals in Africa Conversational in tone conversational in theme you will be right beside Jerry wife Jo and a colourful cast of vets guides and wardens as they scour Africa's sprawling vistas troubleshooting lions rhinos humans and other indigenous mammals Conservationists veterinarians and fans of real life adventure tales will want to keep this memoir handy on the dashboards of their Land Cruisers Foreword by Jane Goodall

Nature Conservation in Southern Africa, 2018-11-26 Nature conservation in southern Africa has always been characterised by an interplay between Capital specific understandings of Morality and forms of Militarism that are all dependent upon the shared subservience and marginalization of animals and certain groups of people in society Although the subjectivity of people has been rendered visible in earlier publications on histories of conservation in southern Africa the subjectivity of animals is hardly ever seriously considered or explicitly dealt with In this edited volume the subjectivity and sentience of animals is explicitly included The contributors argue that the shared human and animal marginalisation and agency in nature conservation in southern Africa and beyond could and should be further explored under the label of sentient conservation Contributors are Malcolm Draper Vupenyu Dzingirai Jan Bart Gewald Michael Glover Paul Hebinck Tariro Kamuti Lindiwe Mangwanya Albert Manhamo Dhoya Snijders Marja Spierenburg Sandra Swart Harry Wels International Women in Science Catherine M.C. Haines, 2001-11-20 A comprehensive biographical guide to the scientific achievements personal lives and struggles of women scientists from around the globe International Women in Science A Bibliographical Dictionary to 1950 presents the enormous contributions of women outside North America in fields ranging from aviation to computer science to zoology It provides fascinating profiles of nearly 400 women scientists both renowned figures like Florence Nightingale and Marie Curie and women we should know better like Rosalind Franklin who along with James Watson and Francis Crick uncovered the structure of DNA Students and researchers will see how the lives of these remarkable women unfolded and how they made their place in fields often stubbornly guarded by men overcoming everything from limited education and professional opportunities to indifference ridicule and cultural prejudice to outright hostility and discrimination Included are a number of living scientists many of whom provide insights into their lives and scientific times Those contributions plus additional previously unavailable material make this a volume of unprecedented scope and richness

Englishness and Empire 1939-1965 Wendy Webster,2007-10-11 Did loss of imperial power and the end of empire have any significant impact on British culture and identity after 1945 Within a burgeoning literature on national identity and what it means to be British this is a question that has received surprisingly little attention Englishness and Empire makes an important and original contribution to recent debates about the domestic consequences of the end of empire Wendy Webster explores popular narratives of nation in the mainstream media archive newspapers newsreels radio film and television The contours of the study generally follow stories told through prolific filmic and television imagery the Second World War the Coronation and Everest colonial wars of the 1950s and Winston Churchill s funeral The book analyses three main narratives that conflicted and collided in the period a Commonwealth that promised to maintain Britishness as a global identity siege narratives of colonial wars and immigration that showed a little England threatened by empire and its legacies and a story of national greatness celebrating the martial masculinity of British officers and leaders through which imperial identity leaked into narratives of the Second World War developed after 1945 The book also explores the significance of America to post imperial Britain Englishness and Empire considers how far and in what contexts and unexpected places imperial identity and loss of imperial power resonated in popular narratives of nation As the first monograph to investigate the significance of empire and its legacies in shaping national identity after 1945 this is an important study for all scholars interested in questions of national identity and their intersections with gender race empire immigration and decolonization

When Elephants Weep Jeffrey Moussaieff Masson, 2009-10-21 This national bestseller exploring the complex emotional lives of animals was hailed as a masterpiece by Elizabeth Marshall Thomas and as marvelous by Jane Goodall The popularity of When Elephants Weep has swept the nation as author Jeffrey Masson appeared on Dateline NBC Good Morning America and was profiled in People for his ground breaking and fascinating study Not since Darwin's The Expression of Emotions in Man and Animals has a book so thoroughly and effectively explored the full range of emotions that exist throughout the animal kingdom From dancing squirrels to bashful gorillas to spiteful killer whales Masson and coauthor Susan McCarthy bring forth fascinating anecdotes and illuminating insights that offer powerful proof of the existence of animal emotion Chapters on love joy anger fear shame compassion and loneliness are framed by a provocative re evaluation of how we treat animals from hunting and eating them to scientific experimentation Forming a complete and compelling picture of the inner lives of animals When Elephants Weep assures that we will never look at animals in the same way again

Reel Nature Gregg Mitman, 1999 Americans have had a long standing love affair with the wilderness As cities grew and frontiers disappeared film emerged to feed an insatiable curiosity about wildlife The camera promised to bring us into contact with the animal world undetected and unarmed Yet the camera's penetration of this world has inevitably brought human artifice and technology into the picture as well In the first major analysis of American nature films in the twentieth century Gregg Mitman shows how our cultural values scientific needs and new technologies produced the images that have shaped our contemporary view of wildlife Like the museum and the zoo the nature film sought to recreate the experience of unspoiled nature while appealing to a popular audience through a blend of scientific research and commercial promotion education and entertainment authenticity and artifice Travelogue expedition films like Teddy Roosevelt's African safari catered to upper and middle class patrons who were intrigued by the exotic and entertained by the thrill of big game hunting and collecting The proliferation of nature movies and television shows in the 1950s such as Disney's True Life Adventures and Marlin Perkins's Wild Kingdom made nature familiar and accessible to America's baby boom generation fostering the environmental activism of the latter part of the twentieth century Reel Nature reveals the shifting conventions of nature films and their enormous impact on our perceptions of and politics about the environment Whether crafted to elicit thrills or to educate audiences about the real life drama of threatened wildlife nature films then and now reveal much about the yearnings of Americans to be both close to nature and yet distinctly apart

Historical Dictionary of Kenya Michael Mwenda Kithinji, 2024-06-18 Kenya has a rich and complex history Due to the vast discoveries of prehistoric archaeological remains Kenya is one of the few places in the world with the largest and most complete record of human s cultural development Furthermore the country s strategic location astride the Indian Ocean and the East African littoral attracted numerous foreigners such as the Arabs Persians Portuguese Americans British Chinese French and Germans Additionally immigrants from throughout Africa and beyond have settled in Kenya to escape conflict or political persecution while others wanted an opportunity to begin a new life As a result of being a gateway to the world the country traditionally has been one of the most important business cultural diplomatic and political centers in Africa Still Kenya like many other countries throughout the world has been plagued by an increasing array of complex economic political and social challenges Historical Dictionary of Kenya Fourth Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 500 cross referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country s politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Kenya The White Spaces of Kenyan Settler Writing Terrence L.

Craig,2017-03-27 The White Spaces of Kenyan Settler Writing provides an overview of Kenyan literature by white writers in the half century before Independence in 1964 Such literature has been over shadowed by that of black writers to the point of critical ostracism It deserves attention for its own sake as the expression of a community that hoped for permanence but suffered both disappointment and dispossession It deserves attention for its articulation of an increasingly desperate colonial and Imperial situation at a time when both were being attacked and abandoned in Africa as in other colonies elsewhere and when a counter discourse was being constructed by writers in Britain as well as in Africa Kenya was likely the best known twentieth century colony for it attracted publicity for its iconic safaris and its Happy Valley scandals Yet behind such scenes were settlers who had taken over lands from the native peoples and who were trying to make a future for themselves based on the labour willing or forced of those people This situation can be seen as a microcosm of one colonial exercise and can illuminate the historical tensions of such times The bibliography is an attempt to collect the literary resources of white Kenya in this historically significant period Literature Connections to World History 712 Lynda G. A Lion Called Christian Anthony Bourke, John Rendall, 2009-03-10 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER. A stirring tale of a rare bond formed between humans and an animal. Two men, one baby lion. What could go wrong? A Lion Called Christian tells the remarkable story of how Anthony Ace Bourke and John Rendall, visitors to London from Australia in 1969, bought a boisterous lion cub in the pet department of Harrods. For several months the three of them shared a flat above a furniture shop on London's King's Road where the charismatic and intelligent Christian quickly became a local celebrity, cruising the streets in the back of a Bentley, popping in for lunch at a local restaurant, even posing for a fashion advertisement. But the lion cub was growing up fast and soon even the walled church garden where he went for exercise wasn't large enough for him. How could Ace and John avoid having to send Christian to a zoo for the rest of his life? A coincidental meeting with English actors Virginia McKenna and Bill Travers, stars of the hit film Born Free, led to Christian being flown to Kenya and placed under the expert care of the father of lions, George Adamson. Incredibly, when Ace and John returned to Kenya to see Christian a year later, they received a loving welcome from their lion, who was by then fully integrated into Africa and a life with other lions. A video of this reunion has become a YouTube classic. Originally published in 1971 and now fully revised and updated with more than 50 photographs of Christian from cuddly cub in London to magnificent lion in Africa, A Lion Called Christian is a touching and uplifting true story of an indelible human-animal bond. It is destined to become one of the great classics of animal literature.

Celebrity and the Environment Dan Brockington, 2013-07-04. The battle to save the world is being joined by a powerful new group of warriors: celebrities. They are lending their name to conservation causes and conservation itself is growing its own stars to fight and speak for nature. In this timely and essential book, Dan Brockington argues that this alliance grows from the mutually supportive publicity celebrity and conservation causes provide for each other and more fundamentally that the flourishing of celebrity and charismatic conservation is part of an ever closer intertwining of conservation and corporate capitalism. Celebrity promotions, the investments of rich executives and the wealthy social networks of charismatic conservationists are producing more commodified and commercial conservation strategies. Conservation becomes an ever more important means of generating profit. Celebrity and the Environment provides vital critical analysis of this new phenomena and argues that ironically there may be a hidden cost to celebrity power to individual s relationships with the wild The author argues that whilst wildlife television documentaries flourish there is a significant decline in visits to national parks in many countries around the world and this is evidence that t a time when conservationists are calling for us to restore our relationships with the wild many people are doing so simply by following the exploits of celebrity conservationists
