Moten,2010-01-05 The fourth collection of poetry from the literary and cultural critic Fred Moten B Jenkins is named after the poet's mother who passed away in 2000 It is both an elegy and an inquiry into many of the themes that Moten has explored throughout his career language music performance improvisation and the black radical aesthetic and political tradition In Moten's verse the arts scholarship and activism intertwine Cadences echo from his mother's Arkansas home through African American history and avant garde jazz riffs Formal innovations suggest the ways that words sounds and music give way to one another The first and last poems in the collection are explicitly devoted to Moten's mother the others relate more obliquely to her life and legacy They invoke performers writers artists and thinkers including not only James Baldwin Roland Barthes Frederick Douglass Billie Holiday Audre Lorde Charlie Parker and Cecil Taylor but also contemporary scholars of race affect and queer theory The book concludes with an interview conducted by Charles Henry Rowell the editor of the journal Callaloo Rowell elicits Moten's thoughts on the relation of his poetry to theory music and African American vernacular culture blend together elements of nature and community culture and spirituality science and technology politics and economics thus serving to bring about an integral green vision albeit with a focus on business and economics As such the authors transcend the limitations to sustainable development and environmental economics which are overly ecological if not also technological in orientation and exclude social and cultural elements Thirdly this particular volume with Darja Piciga focuses specifically on Slovenia as well as on Europe generally drawing on the particular issues and capacities that this country and continent represents particularly for sustainable development and social knowledge based economy The emphasis on Slovenia arose not only because it lies at the heart of Europe but because a specific movement for an Integral Green Slovenian Society and Economy has been co evolved there by the three editors in conjunction with Slovene organisations communities and movements with a view to integrating existing and emerging knowledge resources initiatives and practices into a model as an alternative to austerity for Slovenia and other European countries The Working Farmer ,1853 Report of the
