

The background of the book cover is a painting of a landscape. It features a body of water in the middle ground, with hills in the background. In the foreground, there are trees, some of which are bare, and a small building or structure on the left. The overall style is that of a 19th-century landscape painting.

Sir William Gell In Italy Letters To The Society Of Dilettanti 1831 1835:

Sir William Gell in Italy Sir William Gell, 1976 Sir William Gell in Italy Sir William Gell, 1976 Emotions and Architecture Francesca Lembo Fazio, Valentina Tomassetti, 2023-12-19 Emotions and Architecture Forging Mediterranean Cities Between the Middle Ages and Early Modern Time explores architecture as a medium to arouse or conceal emotions to build consensus through shared values or to reconnect the urban community to its alleged ancestry The chapters in this edited collection outline how architectonic symbols images and structures were codified and sometimes recast to match or to arouse emotions awakened by wars political dominance pandemic challenges and religion As signs of spiritual and political power these elements were embraced and modulated locally providing an endorsement to authorities and rituals for the community This volume provides an overview of the phenomenon across the Italian region stressing the transnationality of selected symbols and their various declinations in local contexts It deepens the issue of refitting symbols artworks and structures to arouse emotions by carefully analysing specific cases such as the Septizodium in Rome the Holy House of Loreto in Venice and the reconstruction of L Aquila The collection through its variegated contributions offers a comprehensive view of the phenomenon exploring the issue from political social religious and public health perspectives and seeking to propose a new definition of architecture as a visual emotional language Together the chapters show how the representation of virtues and emotions through architecture was part of a symbolic practice shared by many across the Italian context This book will be of interest to researchers and students studying architectural history the history of emotions and the history of art Encyclopedia of the History of Classical Archaeology Nancy Thomson de Grummond, 2015-05-11 With 1 125 entries and 170 contributors this is the first encyclopedia on the history of classical archaeology It focuses on Greek and Roman material but also covers the prehistoric and semi historical cultures of the Bronze Age Aegean the Etruscans and manifestations of Greek and Roman culture in Europe and Asia Minor The Encyclopedia of the History of Classical Archaeology includes entries on individuals whose activities influenced the knowledge of sites and monuments in their own time articles on famous monuments and sites as seen changed and interpreted through time and entries on major works of art excavated from the Renaissance to the present day as well as works known in the Middle Ages As the definitive source on a comparatively new discipline the history of archaeology these finely illustrated volumes will be useful to students and scholars in archaeology the classics history topography and art and architectural history The Subverting Vision of Bulwer Lytton Allan Conrad Christensen, 2004 On the occasion of the bicentenary of Edward Bulwer Lytton s birth seventeen scholars from five countries have contributed essays devoted to many aspects of his career After the first essay that analyzes the reasons for Bulwer s extraordinary reputation in his own day twelve of the essays focus primarily upon one or more of the novels from Falkland 1827 to Kenelm Chillingly 1873 Other novels examined include Bulwer s The Last Days of Pompeii The Coming Race The Parisians and the Caxton trilogy as well as his Newgate novels In the volume are also considerations of the seminal treatise England and the English 1833 the incomplete history of Athens 1837 and the achievement of Bulwer Lytton as Colonial Secretary 1858 59 Two essays one written by a descendant of Bulwer deal with the overshadowing disaster of his life the marriage to Rosina Wheeler herself a novelist whose novels sought to undermine his Bulwer emerges from this collection of essays as a challengingly complex but coherent figure that merits the respect of contemporary students of the Victorian phenomenon

Transnational Patriotism in the Mediterranean, 1800-1850 Konstantina Zanou, 2018-11-08 Transnational Patriotism in the Mediterranean investigates the long process of transition from a world of empires to a world of nation states by narrating the biographies of a group of people who were born within empires but came of age surrounded by the emerging vocabulary of nationalism much of which they themselves created It is the story of a generation of intellectuals and political thinkers from the Ionian Islands who experienced the collapse of the Republic of Venice and the dissolution of the common cultural and political space of the Adriatic and who contributed to the creation of Italian and Greek nationalisms By uncovering this forgotten intellectual universe Transnational Patriotism in the Mediterranean retrieves a world characterized by multiple cultural intellectual and political affiliations that have since been buried by the conventional narrative of the formation of nation states Transnational Patriotism in the Mediterranean rethinks the origins of Italian and Greek nationalisms and states highlighting the intellectual connection between the Italian peninsula Greece and Russia and reestablishing the lost link between the changing geopolitical contexts of western Europe the Mediterranean and the Balkans in the Age of Revolutions It re inscribes important intellectuals and political figures considered national fathers of Italy and Greece such as Ugo Foscolo Dionysios Solomos Ioannis Kapodistrias and Niccol Tommaseo into their regional and multicultural context and shows how nations emerged from an intermingling rather than a clash of ideas concerning empire and liberalism Enlightenment and religion revolution and conservatism and East and West

Sir Gardner Wilkinson and His Circle Jason Thompson, 2010-07-22 Following in the footsteps of Napoleon's army Europeans invaded Egypt in the early nineteenth century to gaze in wonder at the massive inscrutable remains of its ancient civilizations One of these travelers was a twenty four year old Englishman John Gardner Wilkinson His copious observations of ancient and modern Egyptian places artifacts and lifeways recorded in such widely read publications as Manners and Customs of the Ancient Egyptians and Handbook for Travellers in Egypt made him the leading early Victorian authority on ancient Egypt and paved the way for the scientific study of Egyptology In this first full scale biography of Wilkinson 1797 1875 Jason Thompson skillfully portrays both the man and his era He follows Wilkinson during his initial sojourn in Egypt 1821 1833 as Wilkinson immersed himself in a contemporary Egyptian lifestyle and in study of its ancient past He shows Wilkinson in his circle of friends among them Edward William Lane Robert Hay and Frederick Catherwood And he traces how Wilkinson continued to use his Egyptian material in the decades following his return to England With the rise of professional Egyptology in the middle and later nineteenth century Sir Gardner Wilkinson came to be viewed as an amateur and his popularity diminished. Drawing upon recently opened sources Thompson returns Wilkinson to his rightful place within centuries of Egyptian scholarship and assesses both the vision and the limitations of his work. The result is a compelling portrait of a Victorian gentleman scholar and his cultural milieu.

The Evolution of the Grand Tour Edward Chaney, 2014-01-14 The Grand Tour has become a subject of major interest to scholars and general readers interested in exploring the historic connections between nations and their intellectual and artistic production. Although traditionally associated with the eighteenth century when wealthy Englishmen would complete their education on the continent, the Grand Tour is here investigated in a wider context from the decline of the Roman Empire to recent times. Authors from Chaucer to Erasmus came to mock the custom, but even the Reformation did not stop the urge to travel. From the mid sixteenth century northern Europeans justified travel to the south in terms of education. The English had previously travelled to Italy to study the classics, now they travelled to learn Italian and study medicine, diplomacy, dancing, riding, fencing, and eventually art and architecture. Famous men and an increasing proportion of women all contributed to establishing a convention which eventually came to dominate European culture. Documenting the lives and travels of these personalities, Professor Chaney's remarkable book provides a complete picture of one of the most fascinating phenomena in the history of western civilisation.

Pompeii Awakened Judith Harris, 2014-10-28 The rediscovery of the Roman cities overwhelmed by the rage of Vesuvius is one of history's most extraordinary adventure stories. Pompeii Awakened revels in that adventure and tells of the re-emergence of a long vanished cosmopolis which profoundly inspired a later age from its arts and architecture to its science, sex, and religion.

Rethinking the Roman City Dunia Filippi, 2022-03-30 The spatial turn has brought forward new analytical imperatives about the importance of space in the relationship between physical and social networks of meaning. This volume explores this in relation to approaches and methodologies in the study of urban space in Roman Italy. As a consequence of these new imperatives, sociological studies on ancient Roman cities are flourishing, demonstrating a new set of approaches that have developed separately from traditional historical and topographical analyses. Rethinking the Roman City represents a convergence of these different approaches to propose a new interpretive model looking at the Roman city and one of its key elements, the forum. After an introductory discussion of methodological issues, internationally known specialists consider three key sites of the Roman world: Rome, Ostia, and Pompeii. Chapters focus on physical space and on the use of those spaces to interrelate these different approaches. The focus then moves to the Forum Romanum, considering the possible analytical trajectories available: historical, topographical, literary, comparative, and sociological, and the diversity of possible perspectives within each of these, moving towards an innovative understanding of the role of the forum within the Roman city. This volume will be of great value to scholars of ancient cities across the Roman world, well as historians of urban society and development throughout the ancient world.
