Brett, 2012-04-15 The Sisters of the Holy Family founded in New Orleans in 1842 were the first African American Catholics to serve as missionaries This story of their little known missionary efforts in Belize from 1898 to 2008 builds upon their already distinguished work through the Archdiocese of New Orleans of teaching slaves and free people of color caring for orphans and the elderly and tending to the poor and needy Utilizing previously unpublished archival documents along with extensive personal correspondence and interviews Edward T Brett has produced a fascinating account of the 110 year mission of the Sisters of the Holy Family to the Garifuna people of Belize Brett discusses the foundation and growth of the struggling order in New Orleans up to the sisters decision in 1898 to accept a teaching commitment in the Stann Creek District of what was then British Honduras The early history of the British Honduras mission concentrates especially on Mother Austin Jones the superior responsible for expanding the order s work into the mission field In examining the Belizean mission from the eve of the Second Vatican Council through the post Vatican II years Brett sensitively chronicles the sisters efforts to conform to the spirit of the council and describes the creative innovations that the Holy Family community introduced into the Belizean educational system In the final chapter he looks at the congregation s efforts to sustain its missionary work in the face of the shortage of new religious vocations Brett s study is more than just a chronicle of the Holy Family Sisters accomplishments in

Belize He treats the issues of racism and gender discrimination that the African American congregation encountered both within the church and in society demonstrating how the sisters survived and even thrived by learning how to skillfully negotiate with the white dominant power structure Guide for the Religious Called Sisters of Mercy Sisters of Mercy,1888

Mattick,2022-12-13 Teaching in Black and White The Sisters of St Joseph in the American South discusses the work of the Sisters of St Joseph of the city of St Augustine who came to Florida from France in 1866 to teach newly freed blacks after the Civil War and remain to this day It also tells the story of the Sisters of St Joseph of Georgia who sprang from the motherhouse in St Augustine A significant part of the book is a comparison of the Sisters of St Josephs work against that of their major rivals missionaries from the Protestant American Missionary Association Using letters the Sisters wrote back to their motherhouse in France the book provides rare glimpses into the personal and professional lives of these women religious in St Augustine and other parts of Florida and Georgia from the mid nineteenth century through the era of anti Catholicism in the early twentieth century South It carries the story through 1922 the end of the pioneer years of the Sisters of St Josephs work in Florida and the end of Sisters of St Joseph of Georgia s existence as a distinct order Through the lenses of Catholicism Florida and Southern history gender and race the book addresses the Protestant concept of domesticity and how it was reinforced in Catholic terms by women who seemingly defied the ideal It also relates the Sisters contributions in shaping life in the South during Reconstruction as they established elite academies and free schools created orphanages ministered to all during severe yellow fever epidemics and fought the specter of anti Catholicism as it crept across the rural regions of the country To date little has been written about Catholics in the South much less the women religious who served there This book helps to fill that gap Teaching in Black and White provides rare glimpses into the personal and professional lives of women religious in Florida and Georgia from the mid nineteenth to early twentieth century
