Northern Italy Evelyn Karet, 2017-07-05 Evelyn Karet's in depth study of the Antonio II Badile Album the earliest known example of an art collection pasted onto the pages of a book is both focused and broad in its appeal to those interested in the early modern era The provenance of the album is traced from its assemblage to the seventeenth century collection of Conte Lodovico Moscardo to its dismantling by the dealer Francis Matthiesen in the 1950s establishing that the volume conserved in the Frits Lugt Collection is not an original but a replica produced by Matthiesen Although Antonio II must be celebrated as the collector of the drawings new paleographic analysis has identified the actual compiler of the album after Antonio's death providing a terminus post quem in the late 1530s or early 1540s Karet enlarges the focus from the album itself to the historic tradition of collecting drawings in northern Italy in the early modern era before Vasari for which the album provides a new point of reference Throughout the book Karet discusses the Badile family examines the individual drawings in the book investigates the contacts between artists and humanists their rich diverse collections and the humanist mind set that fostered the appreciation of drawings She explores notable early drawing collections in northern Italy and the role of northern Italy as a center of collection in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries The book concludes with two appendices a reconstruction of the original album including a discussion of the reconstruction process suggestions about what the album originally looked like and a page by page guide to its contents and a detailed analysis of Francis Matthiesen's career This book opens up new areas of inquiry into an overlooked subject The Creative Process in Music from Mozart to Kurtág William

Kinderman, 2012-10-18 In this intriguing study William Kinderman opens the door to the composer's workshop investigating not just the final outcome but the process of creative endeavour in music Focusing on the stages of composition Kinderman maintains that the most rigorous basis for the study of artistic creativity comes not from anecdotal or autobiographical reports but from original handwritten sketches drafts revised manuscripts and corrected proof sheets He explores works of major composers from the eighteenth century to the present from Mozart's piano music and Beethoven's Piano Trio in F to Kurtág's Kafka Fragments and Hommage à R. Sch. Other chapters examine Robert Schumann's Fantasia in C Mahler's Fifth Symphony and Bartók's Dance Suite Revealing the diversity of sources rejected passages and movements fragmentary unfinished works and aborted projects that were absorbed into finished compositions The Creative Process in Music from Mozart to Kurtág illustrates the wealth of insight that can be gained through studying the creative process Blackwells

Life, Times and Work of William Gillies, 1898-1973 Andrew McPherson, 2024-11-30 For seventy years William Gillies has been seen as a placid painter of landscape and decorative still life Andrew McPherson explodes this view to reveal a modernist whose response to the instabilities and violence of modernity touched universals of human experience Gillies' idiom was shaped by institutions for artistic production unique to Scotland But it was the politics of Scotland's connections to the rest of the British Isles that produced his mythic and misleading reputation New paintings and new meanings are uncovered placing the micro effects of modernity on mental health family and community in the wider contexts of war nationalism and public patronage McPherson also shows how this changing world led Gillies towards new applications of modernist expression Lavishly illustrated and referencing almost one thousand works this major reappraisal is an indispensable source on the cultural politics of a four nation state and the reception of modernism in Britain Mural Painting in Britain 1840-1940 Clare A.
