Soil Pollution And Soil Protection:

Soil Pollution and Soil Protection F. A. M. de Haan, 1996 The aim of this book is to provide basic information to aid understanding of the complex problem of soil quality and its evaluation It should be of use to those who are professionally involved in soil quality and have to deal with problems of soil protection Scientific Basis for Soil Protection in the European Community H. Barth, P. L'Hermite, 2012-12-06 PH BOURDEAU Directorate General Science Research and Development Commission of the European Communities Brussels Belgium We are living on a unique planet the only one in the solar system where life exists The very existence of life has modified the physical and chemical environment of the earth its atmosphere and oceans in a way that makes life sustainable This system with its complex cybernetic mechanisms has been named GAIA by Lovelock Man has always interfered with it on a more or less limited scale This interference is now reaching global proportions such as climate modifications resulting from CO and trace gas 2 accumulation in the atmosphere or the destruction of stratospheric ozone not to speak of global radioactive contamination GAIA will probably prevail as a living system but it probably does not give much importance to man's survival as such and it is man that has to take care of his own survival In the ecosystem of Planet Earth soils are the thin interface between lithosphere and atmosphere which constitutes the essential substrate for the terrestrial biosphere the productivity of which far exceeds that of the oceans even though the latter cover a much larger area than the continents Soils themselves are complex systems They develop through weathering of minerals are colonised by living organisms which in turn modify their substrate making it suitable for other organisms This induces a primary ecological succession which eventually reaches a climax in equilibrium between climate soil and the biological communities Soil Pollution and Soil Protection Bert-Jan Groenenberg, Anne Roepert, 2022 Soil Pollution - An Emerging Threat to Agriculture Jayanta K. Saha, Rajendiran Selladurai, M. Vassanda Coumar, M.L. Dotaniya, Samresh Kundu, Ashok K. Patra, 2017-04-05 The book provides reader with a comprehensive up to date overview of various aspects of soil pollutants manifestation of toxicity The book highlights their interactions with soil constituents their toxicity to agro ecosystem human health methodologies of toxicity assessment along with remediation technologies for the polluted land by citing case studies It gives special emphasis on scenario of soil pollution threats in developing countries and ways to counteract these in low cost ways which have so far been ignored It also explicitly highlights the need for soil protection policy and identifies its key considerations after analyzing basic functions of soil and the types of threats perceived This book will be a useful resource for graduate students and researchers in the field of environmental and agricultural sciences as well as for personnel involved in environmental impact assessment and policy making Soil Pollution and Soil Protection Haan, F.A.M. De & Visser-Reyneveld, M. I., 2004-01-01 This book has been compiled from lecture handouts prepared for the international postgraduate course on soil quality entitled Soil pollution and soil protection given jointly by the universities of Wageningen the Netherlands Gent and Leuven Belgium under the auspices of the International Training Contaminated Urban Soils Helmut Meuser, 2010-07-23. With more than 50% of the world's population already living in towns and cities, migration from rural areas continuing at an alarming rate in developing countries and suburbanisation using more and more land in developed countries, the urban environment has become supremely important with regard to human health and wellbeing. For centuries, urbanisation has caused relatively low level soil contamination mainly by various wastes. However, from the time of the Industrial Revolution onwards, both the scale of urban development and the degree of soil contamination rapidly increased and involved an ever widening spectrum of contaminants. With constraints on the supply of land for new urban development in many countries, it is becoming increasingly necessary to re-use previously developed brownfield sites and to deal with their accompanying suites of contaminants. It is therefore essential to fully understand the diversity and properties of urban soils to assess the possible risks from the contaminants they contain and devise ways of cleaning up sites and/or minimizing hazards. The author, Helmut Meuser, is Professor of Soil Protection and Soil Clean up at the University of Applied Sciences Osnabrück and is one of Europe's foremost experts on contamination from technogenic materials in urban soils. He has many years' experience of research in Berlin, Essen, Osnabrück, other regions of Germany and several other countries.

Integrated Soil and Sediment Research: A Basis for Proper Protection Herman J.P. Eijsackers, Timo Hamers, 2012-12-06. Increasing awareness of the irreversible and long-lasting impacts of deterioration and pollution of soils and sediments has had an important influence on environmental policies and research in the last decade. The complexity of the soil and sediment systems and its processes cannot be tackled properly unless scientists from different disciplines work together With this in mind a number of multidisciplinary soil research programmes have been started in various European countries They involve different disciplinary approaches and they aim at different fields of application agriculture land use and town and country planning drinking water supply nature management The results that are now appearing need to be integrated in a scientifically sound and useful way The first European Conference on Integrated Research for Soil and Sediment Protection and Remediation was intended to foster this The volume contains the edited and selected proceedings of this Conference

Soil Pollution: Impacts and Solutions Jacey Murray,2019-06-11 An alteration in the natural soil environment which is caused by the presence of xenobiotic chemicals or other factors is known as soil pollution The most common reasons for the contamination and degradation of soil are improper disposal of waste use of agrochemicals industrial activity oil spills intensive farming acid rain etc Changes in plant metabolism reduction in crop yields soil erosion alteration in the metabolism of microorganisms residing in a soil environment etc are some of the primary impacts of soil pollution Bioremediation mycoremediation aeration and phytoremediation are some of the chief remediation strategies that can be used as clean up interventions This book provides significant information to help develop a good understanding of soil pollution and its impacts It includes some of the vital pieces of work being conducted across the world on various topics related to mitigation solutions and strategies It will serve as a valuable source of reference for graduate and postgraduate students as well as experts
