Sokrytye Stranitsy Istorii:

The Holocaust in the East Michael David-Fox, Peter Holquist, Alexander M. Martin, 2014-02-05 Silence has many causes shame embarrassment ignorance a desire to protect The silence that has surrounded the atrocities committed against the Jewish population of Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union during World War II is particularly remarkable given the scholarly and popular interest in the war It too has many causes of which antisemitism the most striking is only one When on July 10 1941 in the wake of the German invasion of the Soviet Union local residents enflamed by Nazi propaganda murdered the entire Jewish population of Jedwabne Poland the ferocity of the attack horrified their fellow Poles The denial of Polish involvement in the massacre lasted for decades Since its founding the journal Kritika Explorations in Russian and Eurasian History has led the way in exploring the East European and Soviet experience of the Holocaust This volume combines revised articles from the journal and previously unpublished pieces to highlight the complex interactions of prejudice power and publicity It offers a probing examination of the complicity of local populations in the mass murder of Jews perpetrated in areas such as Poland Ukraine Bessarabia and northern Bukovina and analyzes Soviet responses to the Holocaust Based on Soviet commission reports news media and other archives the contributors examine the factors that led certain local residents to participate in the extermination of their Jewish neighbors the interaction of Nazi occupation regimes with various sectors of the local population the ambiguities of Soviet press coverage which at times reported and at times suppressed information about persecution specifically directed at the Jews the extraordinary Soviet efforts to document and prosecute Nazi crimes and the way in which the Soviet state s agenda informed that effort and the lingering effects of silence about the true impact of the Holocaust on public memory and state responses Kritika ,2005
