environmental engineering Sustainability Challenges and Solutions at the Base of the Pyramid Prabhu Kandachar, Minna Halme, 2017-09-08 Around the turn of the millennium it had become painfully evident that development aid charity or global business as usual were not going to be the mechanisms to alleviate global poverty Today there is little dispute that poverty remains the most pressing global problem calling for innovative solutions One recent strategy is the Base of the Pyramid BoP concept developed by Prahalad and Hart which relies on entrepreneurial activity tapping into the previously ignored markets of the economically most disadvantaged It is a process requiring innovations in several disciplines technological social and business This book covers a number of areas First much of the current BoP discussion emphasises targeting products to the needs of the poor But do we actually know what the real needs of the poor are This book takes a bottom up human centred approach and examines examples that truly engage the poor in BoP product and service development What types of needs assessment methodologies are indicated considering the cultural differences in BoP countries Are the existing methodologies adequate Do they need to be redefined and redeveloped Second the book considers how we can balance poverty alleviation and stimulate economic growth without stressing the ecosystem Tragically the poor are hardest hit by the adverse effects of environmental deterioration such as water shortages climate change or the destruction of habitats While the economic welfare of the poor is critical the BoP approach must balance its inherent paradox of encouraging greater consumption while avoiding further pressures on environmental sustainability The link between the BoP approach and sustainable development is a key feature of this book Third it looks at innovation and asks what kinds of bottom up innovation open source technological social and business support BoP initiatives and sustainable development Fourth the book deals with the relationship between development assistance and BoP Is a BoP strategy the antithesis to development aid or can these two co exist or even complement each other Finally the book raises questions about the relationship between corporate responsibility and BoP Is BoP a new form of corporate neo colonialism or a new form of corporate responsibility Although the BoP concept has unleashed an extensive and generally enthusiastic response from academics businesses NGOs and governments the knowledge domain around this concept is still in the early stages of development This book addresses that need with a focus on the needs of the end users the poor as a starting point for BoP products and innovations With contributions from both supporters and critics it provides a treasure trove of global knowledge on how the concept has developed what its successes and failures have been and what promise it holds as a long term strategy for alleviating poverty and tackling global sustainability Sustainability in Energy and Buildings 2020 John Littlewood, Robert J. Howlett, Lakhmi C. Jain, 2020-12-07 This book contains the proceedings of the 12th KES International Conference on Sustainability and Energy in Buildings 2020 SEB20 held in Split Croatia during 24-26 June 2020 organized by KES International SEB20 invited contributions on a range of topics related to sustainable buildings and explored innovative themes regarding sustainable energy systems The aim of the conference is to bring together researchers and government and industry professionals to discuss the future of energy in buildings neighbourhoods and cities from a theoretical practical implementation and simulation perspective The conference formed an exciting chance to present interact and learn about the latest research and practical developments on the subject The conference attracted submissions from around the world Submissions for the Full Paper Track were subjected to a blind peer review process Only the best of these were selected for presentation at the conference and publication in these proceedings It is intended that this book provides a useful and informative snapshot of recent research developments in the important and vibrant area of sustainability in energy and buildings

Motivating Change: Sustainable Design and Behaviour in the Built Environment Robert Crocker, Steffen Lehmann, 2013-07-24 Today's most pressing challenges require behaviour change at many levels from the city to the individual This book focuses on the collective influences that can be seen to shape change Exploring the underlying dimensions of behaviour change in terms of consumption media social innovation and urban systems the essays in this book are from many disciplines including architecture urban design industrial design and engineering sociology psychology cultural studies waste management and public policy Aimed especially at designers and architects Motivating Change explores the diversity of current approaches to change and the multiple ways in which behaviour can be understood as an enactment of values and beliefs standards and habitual practices in daily life and more broadly in the urban environment

Greening Markets Asian Development Bank, 2021-07-01 Asia has experienced massive economic growth characterized by rapid urbanization and industrialization changing demographics and increasing consumption and demand for resources This has contributed to significant environmental degradation The challenge faced by governments in the region is in identifying and implementing innovative and dynamic policy approaches that are effective at improving environmental quality while sustaining development gains This report reviews past and ongoing applications of market based instruments to address air quality water and waste management in Asia It provides recommendations for the use of market based instruments for more efficient and effective environmental management

Ali, 2020-06-18 The administrators of city or a town adopt two approaches to evaluate the urban places and the impact of urbanization The first approach undertakes the Study of size function growth rate and tributary area of cities in the general fabric of settlements The second approach deals with the internal structure of cities and the related factors which control the layout and buildings the character and intensity of land use the movement of persons and goods between various functional areas The land use planning is a part of larger process of city planning It is basically concerned with location intensity and amount of land development required from various space using functions of city life such as industry wholesaling business housing recreation education and religious and cultural activities of the people The study of urban land use and its planning is of considerable significance in the overall planning of urban places like Gadag Betageri city Decline and decay of our cities calls for all policy makers administrators and Politicians to stop destructive forces of the urban development and to forge alliances among all local and national forces which are concerned with the social political economic ecological physical and cultural development of our cities and towns Despite the claims that developments in communications imply that the cities are Remote Sensing and GIS going to lose their function and will change dramatically it cannot be predicted that the new paradigm of the information city will only represent another device of those who do not have access to information technology

Technical Landfills and Waste Management Abdelkader Anouzla, Salah Souabi, 2024-03-16 A zero waste society and the circular economy trend are urgently needed Even if achieving 100% trash recycling and a fully circular economy may not always be attainable aiming toward this goal might result in a sustainable future Municipal solid wastes pose a hazard to the environment because of open burning landfills reckless disposal and many other factors Waste is being thrown away in more significant quantities and is made up of several different materials Municipal solid waste MSW characteristics must be carefully considered when developing implementing or modifying solid waste management systems Local waste variables that vary with cultural climatic socioeconomic and institutional capacities are crucial for developing efficient waste management techniques This book provides a comprehensive overview of landfills situation their categories and the types of garbage they receive The final section of the study provides an overview of prospective waste management techniques their restrictions and the potential areas for further research on landfill sites This book has the advantage that world class experts in their respective fields have written each chapter As a result this book presents a balanced picture across the whole spectrum of chapters on municipal solid wastes

Climate Change Begins at Home Dave Reay, 2005-10-21 Climate change is one of the greatest threats that humankind faces in the twenty first century But while government and industry fail to act this book argues we could all work to reduce greenhouse gas emissions by 60% the level necessary to halt the current trend according to the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change Packed with provocative case studies calculations and lifestyle comparisons this entertaining and authoritative book makes the complexities of climatology tractable and challenges readers to rethink their notions of doing their bit

Emissions of Greenhouse Gases in the United States 2002 , Life Cycle Assessment Ralph Horne, Tim Grant, Karli Verghese, 2009 Life Cycle Assessment LCA has developed in Australia over the past 16 years in a fragmented way with many different people and organizations contributing to the area at different times and largely through informal or unpublished work This publication will legitimize and document LCA research and methodology development to act as a record of what has happened and a basis for future development and application of the tool The Centre for Design at RMIT has been a leading research center in Australia through its work on data collection methodology development and contribution to knowledge through undertaking LCA studies for leading companies and government departments ranging from products packaging buildings water management and waste management This work in addition to key work undertaken by other researchers will be presented The book will become a bridge between LCA implementation and life cycle management LCM and provide discussion on how LCA development will be in the future and how it integrates with available software tools Emissions of Greenhouse Gases in the United States 2001 ,
