questions of modernity Centre-Right Parties in Post-Communist East-Central Europe Seán Hanley,Aleks Szczerbiak,2020-09-10 This is the first book to cover the centre right in post communist Eastern Europe It makes an vital contribution to the broader research agenda on the Central and East European centre right by focusing on one specific question why strong and cohesive centre right formations have developed in some post communist states but not others It also delves into the attempts to develop centre right parties after 1989 in four nations the Czech Republic Hungary Poland and Slovakia The authors of these fresh case studies use a common analytical framework to analyse and provide fascinating insights into the varying levels of cohesion in centre right parties across the region This volume was previously published as a special issue of the Journal of Communist Studies and Transition Politics The Struggle Over Work Shaun Wilson,2004-07-31 The future of work in advanced industrial democracies is the subject of intense debate and public concern Despite predictions that working hours would fall and leisure time would rise as society progressed the opposite has in fact occurred This new book contains a twofold investigation into the end of work with theoretical and policy angles contributing to the growing research field on the boundaries of economics and sociology Democracy and Crisis B. Isakhan,S. Slaughter,2014-05-27 Recent years have seen constant reports on the failures of governance and the crisis of democracy By examining cases like Global Financial Crisis the Arab Revolutions and Wikileaks this volume highlights tensions between governance and democracy during times of crisis and examines the prospects of democratising governance in the 21st Century The Academic System in American Society Alain Touraine,2017-11-30 Although the period of student protests of the 1960s and 1970s has long passed Alain Touraine argues in this wide ranging and vigorous essay that the period s problems remain with us Higher degrees have become less and less valuable on the labor market and the demand for academic reform has become more intense Community colleges still try to provide equal educational opportunities for the poor and the minorities without much success And the university has not yet resolved the conflict between being the home of impartial inquiry and research and serving constituent interests Touraine views American higher education as a system within a definite though changing social context He compares U S student movements with those of other countries He is skeptical about the way Americans view the relationships between the university and what he regards as the ruling forces of the society between knowledge and power between production and education He offers no facile solutions but he presents an exciting nontraditional analysis of the social and political forces that have shaped the modern history of higher education In the new introduction Clark Kerr contrasts his own views as an American observer to those of Touraine as a French intellectual He asserts that the family not higher education is the most important school in the process of reproducing society Kerr places more emphasis than does Touraine on the labor market on the production functions training of skills and advancing technology of the vast nonelite segments of American higher education on the long term impacts of science in changing society and on scholarly criticism in affecting transformations and places less emphasis on sporadic political protests by faculty and students He agrees with Touraine however in his two great themes 1 that you cannot understand the academic system unless you first understand society and 2 that the rise of the university must be understood to understand modern society where knowledge is power This volume will be important to all those interested in higher education whether as participants or observers Reconstructing the Civic Amal Jamal,2020-08-01 Reconstructing the Civic examines the civic activism of the homeland Palestinian minority in Israel Employing a multi methodological and empirically rich approach Amal Jamal blends historical description with interviews of Palestinian elites drawn from a diverse range of civil society groups such as NGOs youth movements and religious organizations He also critiques the failure of Western liberal scholarship to account for the experience of minority civil society organizations in illiberal social and political contexts largely because this literature assumes there is an inherent relationship between civil society and democracy Jamal places an important spotlight on the complex interplay between liberal and illiberal trends in the emergence organization and transformation of Palestinian civil society in Israel as well as the need to introduce an alternative ethical model that aims to reconstruct ethnic states in universal civic terms Fifty Key Contemporary Thinkers John Lechte,2006-08-21 Fifty Key Contemporary Thinkers surveys the most important figures who have influenced post war thought The reader is guided through structuralism semiotics post Marxism and Annales history on to modernity and postmodernity With its comprehensive biographical and bibliographical information this book provides a vital reference work of the last fifty years Rethinking Progress Jeffrey C. Alexander,Piotr Sztompka,2002-09-11 Rethinking Progress provides a challenging reevaluation of one of the crucial ideas of Western civilization the notion of progress Progress often seems to have become self defeating producing ecological deserts overpopulated cities exhausted resources decaying cultures and widespread feelings of alienation The contributors from all over the world present their diversified perspectives on the fate of progress The Kurdish Movement in Turkey Elsa Tulin Sen,2025-08-21 This book examines the Kurdish movement in the context of total social movement theory First tracing its origins as a conventionally nationalist movement Elsa Sen draws upon Alan Touraine s concept of a total social movement to argue that from 2000 to 2015 the Kurds in Turkey pursued a policy of engaging in a peace process channeling energy into civil society activism and electoral campaigns and promoting an inclusive understanding of national identity for all the components of Turkish society not just the Kurds in a hypothetically fully functioning democracy Both theoretically informed and drawing upon empirical research in the form of interviews with Kurdish and Turkish activists non activists and political representatives the book provides a new perspective on contemporary Kurdish politics as oscillating between nationalist and social movement paradigms with the recent decline of the latter due to the resumption of military action by the Turkish state and the Kurdistan Workers Party after 2015 Researching Language Deborah Cameron,Elizabeth Frazer,Penelope Harvey,M. B. H. Rampton,Kay Richardson,2018-09-14 Originally published in 1992 This book discusses the possibilities of developing the research process in social science so that it benefits the subjects as well as the researcher The authors distinguish between ethical advocate and empowering approaches to the relationship between researcher and researched linking these to different ideas about the nature of knowledge action language and social relations They then use a series of empirical case studies to explore the possibilities for empowering research The book is the product of dialogue between researchers from a range of disciplines anthropology cultural studies sociology and linguistics and is for those working across the social sciences Through combination of philosophical discussion methodological recommendation and case study illustration it provides guidance that is practical without being simplistic
