Süleymanname Esin Atıl, 1986 The Süleymanname is an imperial illuminated manuscript housed in the Topkapı Museum in Istanbul. It was commissioned by the Sultan Süleyman I who reigned from 1520 to 1566 when the Ottoman Empire was at its zenith. This facsimile edition is printed in four colours plus gold and in tritone. Islamic Visual Culture, 1100-1800 Oleg Grabar, 2024-08-01 Islamic Visual Culture 1100-1800 is the second in a set of four volumes of studies on Islamic art by Oleg Grabar. Between them they bring together more than eighty articles, studies and essays, work spanning half a century by a master of the field. Each volume takes a particular section of the topic, the three other volumes being entitled Early Islamic Art 650-1100, Islamic Art and Beyond, and Jerusalem. Reflecting the many incidents of a long academic life, they illustrate one scholar's attempt at making order and sense of 1400 years of artistic growth. They deal with architecture, painting, objects, iconography, theories of art, aesthetics and ornament, and they seek to integrate our knowledge of Islamic art with Islamic culture and history as well as with the global concerns of the History of Art. In addition to the articles, selected each volume contains an introduction which describes, often in highly personal ways, the context in which Grabar's scholarship developed and the people who directed and mentored his efforts. The focus of the present volume is on the key centuries, the eleventh through fourteenth, during which the main directions of traditional Islamic art were created and developed and for which classical approaches of the History of Art were adopted. Manuscript illustrations and the arts of objects dominate the selection of articles, but there are also forays into later times like Mughal India and into definitions of area and period styles as with the Mamluks in Egypt and the Ottomans, or into parallels between Islamic and Christian medieval arts. Picturing the Islamicate World Nadja Danilenko, 2020-10-26 In Picturing the Islamicate World Nadja Danilenko explores the message of the first preserved maps from the Islamicate world. Safeguarded in al-Iḥḥār's Book of Routes and Realms (10th century C.E.), the world map and twenty regional maps complement the text to a reference book of the territories under Muslim rule. Rather than shaping the Islamicate world according to political or religious concerns, al-Iḥḥār chose a timeless design intended to outlast upheavals. Considering the treatise was transmitted for almost a millennium, al-Iḥḥār's strategy seems to have paid off. By investigating the Persian and Ottoman translations and all extant manuscripts, Nadja Danilenko unravels the manuscript tradition of al-Iḥḥār's work, revealing who took an interest in it and why. The African and Middle Eastern World, 600-1500 Randall L. Pouwels, 2005-08-25 Details the history, empires, discoveries, art, peoples and religions of Asia, Africa and the Middle East from 600 to 1500 C.E. Understanding Islamic Architecture Attilo Petruccioli, Khalil K. Pirani, 2013-09-13 The ongoing debate among practitioners and in academia about the meaning and understanding of Islamic architecture will be energized by this book. It contains essays by architects and academics from various parts of the world which clarify how the various disciplines of the design profession can be employed to build in the spirit of Islam. Divided into three sections, the book covers meaning from Faith, which draws meaning from the Islamic faith in order to propose a built environment that is universally beneficial analysis of History which examines historical buildings and planning concepts and suggest how to apply lessons learned to contemporary practice contemporary Trends which discusses current trends in architecture education and socio economic aspects of various Muslim countries Illustrated throughout this book will appeal to students and scholars practising architects and planners alike Süleymanname Esin Atıl,1986 The Süleymanname is an imperial illuminated manuscript housed in the Topkapi Museum in Istanbul It was commissioned by the Sultan Suleyman I who reigned from 1520 to 1566 when the Ottoman Empire was at its zenith This facsimile edition is printed in four colours plus gold and in tritone
