The Drakensberg Of Natal:

A Scientific Bibliography of the Drakensberg, Maloti and Adjacent Lowlands Rodney Moffett, 2021-04-19 This bibliography includes scientific articles on the Drakensberg Maloti and Adjacent Lowlands published between 1808 and 2019. Although focusing on material appearing in accredited journals, there is such a wealth of information in the form of unpublished yet traceable reports, documents, presentations and dissertations, these are also included. The bibliography has two parts: a complete list arranged alphabetically and the same references arranged in 33 different disciplines. These range from Palaeobotany with 17 entries to Rock Art with 502 entries. The Drakensberg of Natal Doyle P. Liebenberg, 1972

Changing Climates, Ecosystems and Environments within Arid Southern Africa and Adjoining Regions Jürgen Runge, 2015-10-30 This book is volume 33 of the yearbook series Palaeoecology of Africa presenting the outcome of a tribute conference to the internationally recognized South African researcher and palynologist Professor Louis Scott. He has recently retired but is continuing his active research career. The conference proceedings and articles published here. From Memory to Marble Elizabeth Rankin, Rolf Michael Schneider, 2020-09-07 For the first time the 92 metre frieze of the Voortrekker Monument in Pretoria, one of the largest historical narratives in marble, has been made the subject of a book. The pictorial narrative of the Boer pioneers who conquered South Africa's interior during the Great Trek 1835-52 represents a crucial period of South Africa's past. Conceptualising the frieze both reflected on and contributed to the country's socio-political debates in the 1930s and 1940s when it was made. The book considers the active role the Monument played in the rise of Afrikaner nationalism and the development of apartheid as well as its place in post-apartheid heritage. The frieze is unique in that it provides rare evidence of the complex processes followed in creating a major monument. Based on unpublished documents, drawings and models, these processes are unfolded step by step from the earliest discussions of the purpose and content of the frieze through all the stages of its design to its shipping to post-war Italy to be copied into marble from Monte Altissimo up to its final installation in the Monument. The book examines how visual representation transforms historical memory in what it chooses to recount and the forms in which it is depicted. The second volume expands on the first by investigating each of the twenty-seven scenes of the frieze in depth, providing new insights into not only the frieze but also South Africa's history. Francois van Schalkwyk of African Minds co-publisher with De Gruyter writes From Memory to Marble is an open access monograph in the true sense of the word. Both volumes of the digital version of the book are available in full and free of charge from the date of publication. This approach to publishing democratizes access to the latest scholarly publications across the globe. At the same time, a book such as From Memory to Marble with its unique and exquisite photographs of the frieze as well as its wealth of reproduced archival materials demands reception of a more traditional kind that is on the printed page. For this reason, the book is likewise available in print as two separate volumes. The printed and digital books should not be seen as separate incarnations; each brings its own advantages, working together to extend the reach and utility of From Memory to Marble to a range of interested readers For more material you can browse at Stanford s database Voortrekker Monumentality a digital archive The Mammals of the Southern African Sub-region J. D.
