The Drummers Path African And Diaspora Percussive Music:

The Beat of My Drum Babatunde Olatunji, Robert Atkinson, 2005 Babatunde Olatunji's record album Drums of Passion proclaimed that the time had come for America to recognize Africa's cultural contributions to the music world. Through his many albums and live performances the Nigerian drummer popularized West African traditional music and spread his message of racial harmony. In this long awaited autobiography Olatunji presents his life story and the philosophy that guided him. Olatunji influenced and inspired musicians for more than forty years from luminaries to music students and the many ordinary people who participated in his drum circles. He writes about rhythm being the soul of life and about the healing power of the drum. Ultimately The Beat of My Drum shows why at the time of his death in 2003 Olatunji had become according to The New York Times the most visible African musician in the United States.

The Drummer's Path Sule Greg Wilson, 1992-06 Drummer dancer and folklorist Sule Greg Wilson introduces the principles behind African and Diaspora music including breath posture and orchestration.

Encyclopedia of the African Diaspora Carole Boyce Davies, 2008-07-29 The authoritative source for information on the people places and events of the African Diaspora spanning five continents and five centuries. The field of African Diaspora studies is rapidly growing. Until now there was no single authoritative source for information on this broad complex discipline. Drawing on the work of over 300 scholars this encyclopedia fills that void. Now the researcher from high school level up can go to a single reference for information on the historical political economic and cultural relations between people of African descent and the rest of the world community. Five hundred years of relocation and dislocation of assimilation and separation have produced a rich tapestry of history and culture into which are woven people places and events. This authoritative accessible work picks out the strands of the tapestry telling the story of diverse peoples separated by time and distance but retaining a commonality of origin and experience. Organized in A Z sections.
