Pollution, Politics, and International Law R. Michael M'Gonigle, Mark W. Zacher, 2023-11-15 This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1979 Port State Control and Jurisdiction George C. Kasoulides, 2023-11-27 Nineteen ninety two provided several painful reminders of the inherent hazards of oil tankers plying the high seas loaded with millions of gallons of crude oil Within the space of a few days we witnessed a succession of catastrophic accidents the foundering of the Greek AEGEAN SEA off the North West coast of Spain the breaking up of the Liberian BRAER off the Shetland Islands and the burning of the

Danish owned MAERSK NAVIGATOR near the entrance to the Indian Ocean's Malaccan Strait Any one of these accidents could have been worse than the EXXON VALDEZ spill in Alaska in 1989 when 11 million gallons of crude oil leaked into Prince William Sound This once again demonstrated the imperative need for an improved regime for the prevention of this kind of accident The 1982 United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea which had been ratified by 54 states by the end of 1992 consolidates a number of novel provisions one of which is port state enforcement for violations outside a state's jurisdiction Port state control as such is a very old concept It is based on the rule of international law according to which a state exercises full jurisdictional powers within its internal waters and has the right to deny access to such waters The 1982 Convention expands this jurisdiction and provides the port state with enforcement powers with respect to violations outside its national jurisdiction Special emphasis is paid to the evolution of the port state enforcement regime its formulation in the 1982 UN Convention on the Law of the Sea advantages and disadvantages and finally the implementation of the enforcement provisions of relevant maritime conventions This book also analyses flag state jurisdiction and the repercussions of the adoption of the 1986 Convention for Registration of Ships Special emphasis is given to a regional European agreement the 1982 Paris Memorandum of Understanding which attempts to strengthen the implementation of the existing international legal standards that could serve as a model for a future port state regime

The New Legal Realism: Volume 2 Heinz Klug, Sally Engle Merry, 2016-05-03 This is the second of two volumes announcing the emergence of the new legal realism At a time when the legal academy is turning to social science for new approaches these volumes chart a new course for interdisciplinary research by synthesizing law on the ground empirical research and theory Volume 2 explores the integration of global perspectives and information into our understanding of law Increasingly local experiences of law are informed by broader interactions of national international and global law Lawyers judges and other legal actors often have to respond to these broader contexts while those pursuing justice in various global contexts must wrestle with the specific problems of translation that emerge when different concepts of law and local circumstances interact Using empirical research the authors in this path breaking volume shed light on current developments in law at a global level

Farthing on International Shipping Proshanto K. Mukherjee, Mark Brownrigg, 2013-06-12 The book provides an introduction to shipping in all its aspects It is a valuable source of information for students of traditional maritime law as well as for those who seek to understand maritime and shipping services on a global scale The text includes information and analytical content on national and international practices in shipping including the age old dichotomy between freedom in international shipping and the persistent demands of states to control specific maritime areas as well as the tension between on the one hand the desire on the part of sovereign states to regulate and protect their shipping interests and on the other the abiding concern and unquestioned right of the international community to regulate the global shipping industry effectively in order to ensure maritime safety protection of the environment and fair competition
