The Green Hour:

The Green Hour Todd Christopher, 2010 The National Wildlife Federation's GreenHour.org is a website devoted to giving parents and caregivers the information, tools and inspiration they need to get their kids and themselves outside. The NWF recommends that parents give their kids a Green Hour every day, a time for unstructured play and interaction with the natural world which can take place in a garden, a backyard, the park, down the street or any place that provides safe and accessible green space where children can learn and play. With the same goal of offering families fun ways to explore nature, the book is a field guide to outdoor adventure offering activities, fun facts, science lessons and practical advice for engaging children in outdoor nature play that presents teachable moments and open-ended exploration of the natural world. Here are a range of starting points for nature-themed outdoor activities and explorations beginning in your own backyard and progressively moving farther afield, all of them adaptable for children of different ages, abilities and learning styles. The Full Spectrum Elena Manferdini, Jasmine Benyamin, 2023-12-18 Colour is architecture's sharpest tool in the box. It has indexed everything from the feminine, cosmetic and vulgar to the pure intrinsic and embodied. Colour has played a central role in the history of architecture. From the polychromy of the ancients to the great white interiors of high modernism, the figurative flourishes of postmodernism to the embedded sublime of contemporary building systems and facades. In contemporary architecture, colour has emerged as something powerful, both a mode of working and a political proposition. The second digital age has brought a fundamental shift in how architects engage colour. Employing the full range of colour puts forth a projective mode of action. It aids the democratisation of visual culture, opening the field to enable subjectivities, bring in new references and embrace new voices. This book explores the function of colour in contemporary architecture and argues it is not to present a vision of an idealised other world but to prompt new imaginaries. Take in the full spectrum. Features 100 Architects: Maya Alam, David Batchelor, Galo Canizares, Courtney Coffman, Fala Atelier, Marcelyn Gow, Sauerbruch Hutton, Sam Jacobs, Carolyn Kane, Guto Requena, Paulette Singley, Amanda Williams and Mimi Zeiger. The Power of the Green Card Grant Kennedy, 2016-11-11 The book chronicles the green card journeys of ten individuals. It recounts their experiences as most of them went from being law-abiding citizens in their home lands to living in

America as fugitives who are commonly referred to as illegal aliens In the book they are given fictionalized names that capture characteristics of their personalities or their struggles or where they came from The purpose of the book is to give American born citizens a glimpse into the challenges and triumphs of the immigrants world which is completely foreign to most Americans Despite what some may believe only a small fraction of the estimated 11.3 million illegal aliens in the United States have committed any crime other than being an illegal alien The vast majority are law abiding people who are just seeking a better life for themselves and their families Though some may deny it the American economy benefits from these immigrants willingness to do work that most Americans do not want to do and the fact that they are paid very low wages and work without benefits helps American small businesses to compete and thrive in this new economy Their faith intelligence ingenuity and courage often result in extraordinary achievement making America a land where the impossible can become possible Their experiences often become inspiration for their offspring to actualize their own goals and dreams helping to maintain America's standing as the greatest country in the world
