The Dreaded Comparison Human And Animal Slavery:

The Dreaded Comparison Marjorie Spiegel,1996 The Dreaded Comparison provocatively presents the first in depth exploration of the similarities between the violence humans have wrought against other humans and our culture's treatment of non human animals Marjorie Spiegel's examination of power and the source of oppressive behavior is essential reading for anyone interested in psychology history African American studies or animals This highly original book is at once chilling and enlightening and vitally important to our efforts to understand the roots of individual and societal violence The Dreaded Comparison Marjorie Spiegel,1989 The Dreaded Comparison Marjorie Spiegel,Alice Walker,1997 Animal

Rights/human Rights David Alan Nibert,2002 This accessible and cutting edge work offers a new look at the history of western civilization one that brings into focus the interrelated suffering of oppressed humans and other animals Nibert argues persuasively that throughout history the exploitation of other animals has gone hand in hand with the oppression of women people of color and other oppressed groups He maintains that the oppression both of humans and of other species of animals is inextricably tangled within the structure of social arrangements Nibert asserts that human use and mistreatment of other animals are not natural and do little to further the human condition Nibert's analysis emphasizes the economic and elite driven character of prejudice discrimination and institutionalized repression of humans and other animals His examination of the economic entanglements of the oppression of human and other animals is supplemented with an analysis of ideological forces and the use of state power in this sociological expose of the grotesque uses of the oppressed past and present Nibert suggests that the liberation of devalued groups of humans is unlikely in a world that uses other animals as fodder for the continual growth and expansion of transnational corporations and conversely that animal liberation cannot take place when humans continue to be exploited and oppressed Confronting Animal Exploitation Kim

Socha,Sarahjane Blum,2013-02-06 As animal exploitation increases animal liberation issues are of growing concern as seen through the rise of veganism academic disciplines devoted to animal issues and mainstream critiques of factory farms Yet as the dialogues debates and books continue to grow the voices of street level activists not academics journalists or vegan chefs are rarely heard This volume broadens animal liberation dialogues by offering the arguments challenges inspiration and narratives of grassroots activists The essays show what animal advocacy looks like from a collective of individuals living in and around Minnesota's Twin Cities the essayists however write of issues both personal and political that resound on a global scale This collection provides a platform for rank and file activists to explain why and how they dedicate their time and what is being done for animals on a local level that can translate to global efforts to end animal exploitation Approaches to

Teaching Coetzee's Disgrace and Other Works Laura Wright,Jane Poyner,Elleke Boehmer,2014-01-01 The novels of the South African writer J M Coetzee won him global recognition and the Nobel Prize in Literature in 2003 His work offers substantial pedagogical richness and challenges Coetzee treats such themes as race aging gender animal rights power violence colonial history and accountability the silent or silenced other sympathy and forgiveness in an allusive and detached prose that avoids obvious answers or easy ethical reassurance Part 1 of this volume Materials identifies secondary materials including multimedia and Internet resources that will help instructors guide their students through the contextual and formal complexities of Coetzee's fiction In part 2 Approaches essays discuss how to teach works that are sometimes suspicious of teachers and teaching The essays aim to help instructors negotiate Coetzee's ironies and allegories in his treatment of human relationships in a changing South Africa and of the shifting connections between human beings and the biosphere

The Modern Stephen King Canon Patrick McAleer, Philip L. Simpson, 2018-11-29 The Modern Stephen King Canon Beyond Horror is a collection of essays focused on the more recent writings of Stephen King including Revival 11 22 63 and a selection of short stories by the Master of the Macabre The authors write about King works that have received little critical attention and aim to open up doorways of analysis and insight that will help readers gain a stronger appreciation for the depth and detail within King's fiction Indeed while King is often relegated to the role of a genre writer horror the essays in this collection consider the merits of King's writing beyond the basics of horror for which he is primarily known Recommended for scholars of literature horror and popular culture

The Ecology of British Romantic Conservatism, 1790-1837 Katey Castellano, 2013-10-11 Analyzing Romantic conservative critiques of modernity found in literature philosophy natural history and agricultural periodicals this book finds a common theme in the intergenerational imagination This impels an environmental ethic in which obligations to past and future generations shape decisions about inherited culture and land

The Routledge Handbook of International Law and Anthropocentrism Vincent Chapaux, Frédéric Mégret, Usha Natarajan, 2023-06-15 This handbook explores contextualises and critiques the relationship between anthropocentrism the idea that human beings are socially and politically at the centre of the cosmos and international law While the critical study of anthropocentrism has been under way for several years it has either focused on specific subfields of international law or emanated from two distinctive strands inspired by the animal rights movement and deep ecology This handbook offers a broader study of anthropocentrism in international law as a global legal system and academic field It assesses the extent to which current international law is anthropocentric contextualises that claim in relation to broader critical theories of anthropocentrism and explores alternative ways for international law to organise relations between humans and other living and non living entities This book will interest international lawyers environmental lawyers legal theorists social theorists and those concerned with the philosophy and ethics of ecology and the non human realms Chapter 6 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Funded by University of Gothenburg and Lund University

Colonizing Animals Jonathan Saha, 2021-11-11 Animals were vital to the British colonization of Myanmar In this pathbreaking history of British imperialism in Myanmar from the early nineteenth century to 1942 Jonathan Saha argues that animals were impacted and transformed by colonial subjugation. By examining the writings of Burmese nationalists and the experiences of subaltern groups, he also shows how animals were mobilized by Burmese anticolonial activists in opposition to imperial rule. In demonstrating how animals such as elephants, crocodiles, and rats were important actors, never fully under the control of humans, Saha uncovers a history of how British colonialism transformed ecologies and fostered new relationships with animals in Myanmar. Colonizing Animals introduces the reader to an innovative historical methodology for exploring interspecies relationships in the imperial past, using innovative concepts for studying interspecies empires that draw on postcolonial theory and critical animal studies.
