The Dutch Plural Society A Comparative Study In Race Relations:

The Dutch Plural Society Christopher Bagley, Institute of Race Relations, 1973 Comparison of race relations in the Netherlands and the UK with particular reference to the social integration of immigrants and migrant workers covers social policy social control racial discrimination racial conflict public opinion prejudice and social conflict etc includes background material on colonialism role of Netherlands and proposes UK policy revisions Bibliography pp 277 to 288 and statistical tables Race Relations and Cultural Differences Gajendra K. Verma, Christopher Bagley, 2012 A collection of key papers given at three international conferences in Britain the United States and Canada on race relations and multiculturalism are drawn together in this book The first section includes three papers on the state of theory in race relations the second contains papers on educational themes examining in particular the pitfalls in multicultural education It also looks at the development and problems of second language education for minority groups in several countries The final section focuses on special topics including the adjustment and identity of children of mixed race marriages the plight of children from

Canada s native communities and the hearing impaired as a minority group The Dutch Plural Society Christopher Bagley, 1973 Dutch Racism Philomena Essed, Isabel Hoving, 2014-03-01 Dutch Racism is the first comprehensive study of its kind The approach is unique not comparative but relational in unraveling the legacy of racism in the Netherlands and the former colonies Authors contribute to identifying the complex ways in which racism operates in and beyond the national borders shaped by European and global influences and intersecting with other systems of domination Contrary to common sense beliefs it appears that old fashioned biological notions of race never disappeared At the same time the Netherlands echoes if not leads a wider European trend where offensive statements about Muslims are an everyday phenomenon Dutch Racism challenges readers to question what happens when the moral rejection of racism loses ground The volume captures the layered nature of Dutch racism through a plurality of registers methods and disciplinary approaches from sociology and history to literary analysis art history and psychoanalysis all different elements competing for relevance truth value and explanatory power This range of voices and visions offers illuminating insights in the two closely related questions that organize this book what factors contribute to the complexity of Dutch racism And why is the concept of racism so intensely contested The volume will speak to audiences across the humanities and social sciences and can be used as textbook in undergraduate as well as graduate courses Philomena Essed is professor of Critical Race Gender and Leadership studies Antioch University USA PhD in Leadership and Change Program Her books and edited volumes include Everyday Racism Understanding Everyday Racism Race Critical Theories A Companion to Gender Studies outstanding 2005 CHOICE award and Clones Fakes and Posthumans Cultures of Replication Isabel Hoving is diversity officer at the Leiden University and affiliated with the Department of Film and Literary Studies of Leiden University Her books include In Praise of New Travellers Veranderingen van het alledaagse and several other volumes on migration Caribbean literatures African literature and art In addition to her academic work she is an awarded youth writer

The Caribbean in Europe Colin Brock, 2018-10-24 This book is the fourth in a series of volumes to emerge from the commemoration by the University of Hull of the 150th anniversary of the abolition of slavery in the British Empire and in particular an international conference held to discuss some of the legacies of Caribbean slavery and its abolition Most of the chapters of this book originated as papers presented on the final day of that conference

The construction of intercultural discourse Tom Koole, Jan D. ten Thije, 2020-10-12 This book breaks open the black box of the workplace where successful immigrants work together with their Dutch colleagues In their intercultural team meetings the work itself consists of communication and the question is how that work is done The teams consist of Dutch Turkish Moroccan and Surinamese educational experts whose job it is to advise schools and teachers on the form and content of language teaching Their meetings are structured according to institutional patterns such as interactive planning and reporting and according to intercultural discourse structures For instance Dutch team members identify their immigrant colleagues as immigrant specialists and are themselves identified as institutional specialists Further the intercultural pattern thematizing and unthematizing racism provides the team members with communicative methods to deal with the societal contradictions that exist between different cultural groups in the Netherlands as well as elsewhere These intercultural discourse structures concur with the institutional patterns so that for instance they affect the outcomes of planning discussions Most studies on intercultural communication focus on misunderstandings and miscommunications This book demonstrates that also communication without miscommunication can be shown to be intercultural

Social Attitudes in Japan Masamichi Sasaki, Tatsuzo Suzuki, 2021-10-01 Why is it important to study general social attitudes To compare social attitudes across nations To conduct such research longitudinally The answers reveal the significance of such social research under unprecedented globalization which creates imperatives for mutual international understanding Though principally focused on Japanese social attitudes these attitudes must be compared across nations and time one means being cross national attitude surveys encompassing special methodologies and data analytic techniques In 1953 the Institute of Statistical Mathematics began nationwide longitudinal surveys of the Japanese way of thinking All of the work described in this book stems from this research This book is intended as a learning tool for those engaged in or contemplating social scientific research At both national and international levels survey and analytic methodologies are explored explicated and applied to real world data This publication has also been published in hardback no longer available ISBN 90 04 11853 5

The Sum of Our Parts Teresa Williams-León, Cynthia L. Nakashima, 2001 Largely as a result of multiracial activism the U S Census for 2000 offers people the unprecedented opportunity to officially identify themselves with more than one racial group Among Asian heritage people in this country and elsewhere racial and ethnic mixing has a long but unacknowledged history According to the last U S Census nearly one third of all interracial marriages included an Asian descent spouse and intermarriage rates are accelerating This unique collection of essays focuses on the construction of identity among people Asian descent who claim multiple heritages In the U S discussions of race generally center on matters of black and white Asian Americans usually figure in conversations about race as an undifferentiated ethnic group or as exotic Eurasians The contributors to this book disrupt the standard discussions by considering people of mixed Asian ethnicities They also pay particular attention to non white multiracial identities to decenter whiteness and reflect the experience of individuals or communities who are considered a minority within a minority With an entire section devoted to the Asian diaspora The Sum of Our Parts suggests that questions of multiracial and multiethnic identity are surfacing around the globe This timely and provocative collection articulates them for social scientists and students

An Ethnic History of Europe since 1945 Panikos Panayi, 2018-10-08 The first history of Europe since 1945 which examines the continent from a mainly ethnic perspective Panikos Panayi has drawn on years of research to produce this comparative and exploratory account of the experience of ethnic minorities in post war Europe The coverage encompasses all categories of minorities including immigrants and refugees localised ethnic groupings and dispersed peoples Geographically the scope of the book ranges from the Atlantic to the Urals and the Mediterranean to the Arctic looking in particular at the Soviet Union Britain France Germany Romania Cyprus and the former Yugoslavia

Anglo-Indians and Minority Politics in South Asia Uther Charlton-Stevens, 2017-11-03 Anglo Indians are a mixed race Christian and Anglophone minority community which arose in South Asia during the long period of European colonialism An often neglected part of the British Raj their presence complicates the traditional binary through which British imperialism is viewed of ruler and ruled coloniser and colonised The book analyses the processes of ethnic group formation and political organisation beginning with petitions to the East India Company state through the Raj s constitutional communalism to constitution making for the new India It details how Anglo Indians sought to preserve protected areas of state and railway employment amidst the growing demands of Indian nationalism Anglo Indians both suffered and benefitted from colonial British prejudices being expected to loyally serve the colonial state as a result of their ties of kinship and culture to the colonial power whilst being the victims of racial and social discrimination This mixed experience was embodied in their intermediate position in the Raj s evolving socio racial employment hierarchy The question of why and how a numerically small group who were privileged relative to the great majority of people in South Asia were granted nominated representatives and reserved employment in the new Indian Constitution amidst a general curtailment of minority group rights is tackled directly Based on a wide range of source materials from Indian and British archives including the Anglo Indian Review and the debates of the Constituent Assembly of India the book illuminatingly foregrounds the issues facing the smaller minorities during the drawn out process of decolonisation in South Asia It will be of interest to students and researchers of South Asia Imperial and Global History Politics and Mixed Race Studies
