The Good Terrorist:

The Good Terrorist Doris Lessing, 1986 A middle class Englishwoman joins a loose knit group of political vagabonds and finds herself drawn into a situation she never intended

An Extended Literary Evocation of South Africa:

Interpreting and Neo-Humanism in Doris Lessing's Fiction Divya, Sajja, Terrorism: A Very Short Introduction

Charles Townshend, 2011-09-08 This title charts a path through the outpouring of efforts to understand and explain terrorism by asking what makes terrorism different from other forms of political military action what makes it effective and what can be done about it

Doris Lessing Gayle Greene, 1994 An original and compelling appraisal of this important international literary figure

From the Margins of Empire Louise Yelin, 2018-05-31 Situated at the intersection of the colonial and the postcolonial the modern and the postmodern the novelists Christina Stead Doris Lessing and Nadine Gordimer all bear witness to this century's global transformations From the Margins of Empire looks at how the question of national identity is constructed in their writings These authors white women who were born or grew up in British colonies or former colonies reflect the subject of national identity in vastly different ways in both their lives and their work Stead who resided outside of her native Australia has an unsettled identity Lessing who grew up in southern Rhodesia and migrated to England is or has become English Gordimer who was born in South Africa and remains there considers herself South African Louise Yelin shows how the three writers different national identities are inscribed in their fiction The invented hybrid character of nationality is she maintains a constant throughout Locating the writings of Stead Lessing and Gordimer in the national cultures that produced and read them she considers the questions they raise about the roles that whites especially white women can play in the new political and cultural order

The Fiction of Doris Lessing Ratna Raman, 2021-04-30 Doris

Lessing 1919 2013 a prolific contemporary author was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature in 2007 for her life work Examining five decades of Lessing's unique life narrative strategies and the literary traditions that she drew upon and improvised this book highlights her extraordinary significance as a writer of our times and for our times Lessing's fiction and non fiction provide a seminal understanding of the key issues that shaped the twentieth century Autodidactic and keenly interested in the world around her Lessing flagged the problems of racism in Africa the inequity of class in modern England the limitations of white middle class women's movements that overlooked the rights of women across race and class the marginalisation of individuals the horror of nuclear war and the need for disarmament and the hazardous global expansion in the face of unrelenting technological progress Further she raised the concern of the atomisation of modern families violence and the urgent need for alternate modes of viewing voicing anxieties decades ahead of other contemporary writers Making futuristic projections through innumerable genres of writing such as realistic narratives memoirs diaries and science fiction Lessing examines myth psychoanalysis and Marxist perspectives engaging with a gamut of experiences that have defined modernity and sets up feminist blueprints that challenge atrophying patriarchal hegemonies

Terrorism Charles

Townshend, 2018 Is terrorism crime or war Can there be a war against terrorism In this fully updated edition Charles Townshend unravels the questions at the heart of the problem of terrorism its causes methods effects and limitations suggesting that it must be understood as a political strategy whose threat can be rationally grasped and answered In Pursuit of Doris Lessing Claire Sprague, 1990-06-14 The phenomenon of Doris Lessing's global reputation and readership is addressed for the first time in In Pursuit of Doris Lessing through a series of essays that also provide a provocative overview of Lessing's long career from The Grass Is Singing the first of a series of African and woman centered politically radical works to her latest galactic and politically conservative works Nine different Lessings emerge from these essays forcing us to question received propositions about the universality of literature and the stability of the text and uncovering and recovering in the process the pungent variable controversial Lessing who has been and remains as international and transcultural as she is African and English

Doris Lessing Bootheina Majoul, 2016-04-26 Doris Lessing is a writer for all times she is a historiographer and a transnational translational mediator between the East and the West This volume provides a collection of articles analysing Doris Lessing's literature The first part entitled Lessing's World of Words offers a broad vision of the writer's novels it introduces her many genres and sheds light on her literary affiliations This is followed by Lessing's Other Spaces which dives into the novelist's imaginary and spiritual universes The final part Intersections Lessing and Other Writers establishes an analogy between Lessing's texts and Ahlem Mustaghanemi's Memory in the Flesh Atiq Rahimi's Earth and Ashes and Salman Rushdie's Shame

Plotting Terror Margaret Scanlan, 2001 Scanlan English Indiana University South Bend considers several novels about terrorists and considers what they say about the role of the writer in modern society and politics She examines the figure of the writer as a rival or a mirror of the terrorist tracing the development of this relationship from its Romantic origins to the age of the Unabomber The works of DeLillo Rushdie McNamee Mary McCarthy Lessing Coetzee Durrenmat Roth Robert Stone Volodine and Conrad are specifically considered c Book News Inc

Understanding Jennifer Egan Alexander Moran, 2021-09-03 Understanding Jennifer Egan is the first book length study of the novelist short story writer and journalist best known for the Pulitzer Prize winning novel A Visit from the Goon Squad Alexander Moran examines each of Egan's varied published works analyzes how her journalism informs her fiction excavates her literary and intellectual influences and considers her place in contemporary fiction Moran argues that because Egan's fiction is not easily categorized many of her novels have been underappreciated He proposes a framework for understanding her writing centered on what it means to have and to write an authentic experience In Emerald City Egan explores the authenticity of touristic experience in The Invisible Circus her focus shifts to the authenticity of historical memory in Look at Me The Keep and A Visit from the Goon Squad she explores the effects of digital technology on how we understand authentic experience In the concluding chapter Moran discusses Egan's 2017 novel Manhattan Beach as a text that explores the authenticity of history and genre while resonating with the instability of the present Terrorism Before the Letter Robert Appelbaum, 2015 It is often assumed that terrorism is a modern phenomenon The word was only invented in the late eighteenth century but terrorism has a deep past going back to the Bible and ancient history In the period between 1559 and 1642 in England Scotland and France it became a subject of intense discussion as incidents of terrorist violence came to play an increasingly dramatic role in political life Princes were assassinated Massacres broke out In the name of ancient liberty and religious purity early moderns engaged in signal acts of violence which sent messages which were supposed to have the power of changing power Meanwhile terrorism appeared onstage in narrative and lyrical poems in political treatises and history books This study shows how and why that happened with a view toward the structure of this phenomenon without a name terrorism before the letter Tropes of Revolution, 2021-11-15

Geographies of Memory and Postwar Urban Regeneration in British Literature Alina Cojocaru, 2022-05-13 This book proposes a new approach to the literary representations of London by means of correlating geocriticism spatial literary studies and memory studies in order to investigate the interplay between reality and fiction in mapping the urban imaginary It conducts an analysis of depictions of London in British literature published between 1975 and 2005 exploring the literary representations of the real urban restructurings prompted by the rebuilding projects in war and poverty stricken districts of London the remapping of the metropolis by immigrants gentrification and the displacement of communities as well as the urban dissolution caused by terrorism The selected works of fiction written by Peter Ackroyd Penelope Lively Zadie Smith Andrea Levy J G Ballard Michael Moorcock Doris Lessing and Ian McEwan provide a record of the city in times of reconstruction emphasizing the structure of London as a palimpsest which becomes a central image. The book contributes to the development of the subject field by introducing a number of original concepts which connect geocriticism and memory studies. , Literature and Institutions of Welfare Jess Cotton, 2024-12-17 Perspectives on the ways in which welfarist ideology has underpinned the teaching, reading and production of literature from the 1930s to the present. The welfare state in Britain established a new level of access to literature as a public good alongside other national resources that were grounded in a principle of democratic egalitarianism: the National Health Service, secondary education, promises of full employment and new housing structures. This volume charts the impact of the founding of the welfare state on the teaching, reading and production of literature and the legacy of this social democratic vision of literature from the 1930s to the present day. It is especially concerned with the representational possibilities, the social arrangements and political claims that welfare makes possible. Individual contributions consider the ways in which the history of literature is related to the history of welfare and how it shaped the literary culture that emerged during these years and how literature has communicated the value and character of the welfare state, moving like the literature they examine between a disenchantment with the institutions of welfare and an urgent need to articulate welfare's vision of social repair. Amongst the particular authors discussed are Raymond Williams, T. S. Eliot and Caryl Phillips, as well as an evaluation of the publisher Virago's contribution to the women's movement. Ladies in Arms Teresa Hiergeist, Stefanie Schäfer, 2024-03-04 In contemporary popular culture, armed women take center stage, but how can they be read from a feminist perspective? How do films, comics and TV series depict the newly fashionable gunwomen between objectification and feminist empowerment? The contributions to this volume ask this question from different vantage points in cultural and literary studies, film and visual culture studies, history and art history. They examine military and civic gun cultures, the rediscovery of historical armed women and revolutionaries, cultural phenomena such as gangsta rap, narcocultura and US politics, Bollywood and French cinema and distinct genres such as the graphic novel, the romance novel or the German police procedural Tatort.
