Contestations of Memory in Southeast Asia Kwok Kian-Woon, Roxana Waterson, 2012-01-01 Contestations of Memory in Southeast Asia applies a new theoretical literature on social memory to remembered events in Burma Laos Vietnam Malaysia Singapore the Philippines and Indonesia Highlighting connections between theorizing based on European examples and unresolved memory issues in East and Southeast Asia the authors show how comparative study of the interpenetration of politics and lived bodily experience of communal and personal memories and of dominant and suppressed narratives can yield insights into the human potential to become either perpetrators victims or bystanders The memories found within different groups in any society are open to negotiation suppression contestation or revision in the ever evolving politics of the present The searching and close grained analyses of contemporary issues found in the volume vividly illustrate the essentially plural and multivocal nature of social memories and demonstrate the intricate connection between transnational national and sub national politics Readers seeking a more nuanced and complex understanding of the past and of its continued relevance to the present and future will find here much food for thought

Ways of Forgetting, Ways of Remembering John W.

Dower, 2014-12-09 A series of astute academic essays on the forging of postwar Japan from the winner of the Pulitzer Prize National Book Award and Bancroft Prize Kirkus Reviews Remembering and reconstructing the past inevitably involves forgetting and nowhere more so than in the complex relationship between the United States and Japan since the end of World War II In this provocative and probing series of essays John W Dower one of our leading historians of postwar Japan and author of the Pulitzer Prize winning Embracing Defeat explores the uses and abuses to which this history has been subjected and with deliberation and insight affirms the urgent need for scholars to ask the questions that are not being asked Using E H Norman the unjustly neglected historian of prewar Japan as a starting point Ways of Forgetting Ways of Remembering sets out both to challenge historiographical orthodoxy and reveal the configurations of power inherent in scholarly and popular discourse in Japan and America It is a profound look at American and Japanese perceptions past and present of key moments in their shared history An incisive investigation of the problems of public history and its role in a modern democracy these essays are essential reading for anyone interested in postwar US Japan relations as well as the broader discipline of history A set of serious cautionary reflections from a superb historian Publishers Weekly starred review

Memory Maps Mariko Asano Tamanoi, 2008-10-31 Between 1932 and 1945 more than 320 000 Japanese emigrated to Manchuria in northeast China with the dream of becoming land owning farmers Following the Soviet invasion of Manchuria and Japan's surrender in August 1945 their dream turned into a nightmare Since the late 1980s popular Japanese conceptions have overlooked the disastrous impact of colonization and resurrected the utopian justification for creating Manchukuo as the puppet state was known This re remembering Mariko Tamanoi argues constitutes a source of friction between China and Japan today Memory Maps tells the compelling story of both the promise of a utopia and the tragic aftermath of its failure An anthropologist Tamanoi approaches her investigation of Manchuria's colonization and collapse as a complex history of the present which in postcolonial studies refers to the examination of popular memory of past colonial relations of power To mitigate this complexity she has created four memory maps that draw on the recollections of former Japanese settlers their children who were left in China and later repatriated and Chinese who lived under Japanese rule in Manchuria The first map presents the oral histories of farmers who emigrated from Nagano Japan to Manchuria between 1932 and 1945 and returned home after the war Interviewees were asked to remember the colonization of Manchuria during Japan's age of empire Hikiage mono autobiographies make up the second map These are written memories of repatriation from the Soviet invasion to some time between 1946 and 1949 The third memory map is entitled Orphans Voices It examines the oral and written memories of the children of Japanese settlers who were left behind at the war's end but returned to Japan after relations between China and Japan were normalized in 1972 The memories of Chinese who lived the age of empire in Manchuria make up the fourth map This map also includes the memories of Chinese couples who adopted the abandoned children of Japanese settlers as well as the children themselves who renounced their Japanese nationality and chose to remain in China In the final chapter Tamanoi considers theoretical questions of the state and the relationship between place voice and nostalgia She also attempts to integrate the four memory maps in the transnational space covering Japan and China Both fastidious in dealing with theoretical questions and engagingly written Memory Maps contributes not only to the empirical study of the Japanese empire and its effects on the daily lives of Japanese and Chinese but also to postcolonial theory as it applies to the use of memory

Bell, 2006-10-20 Memory Trauma and World Politics focuses on the effect that the memory of traumatic episodes especially war and genocide has on shaping contemporary political identities Theoretically sophisticated and empirically rich this book is an incisive treatment of the ways in which the study of social memory can inform global politics analysis Globalisation and the Politics of Forgetting Yong-Sook Lee, Brenda S.A. Yeoh, 2018-10-24 In both academic scholarship and the popular imagination the globality of modern society has been represented by global cities as the corporate and financial epicentres for capital accumulation cosmopolitan cultures and innovative change This has created an image of the globalised world as empty beyond cities which make it into the global league as paradigmatic celebrity cities As a counterpoint this book gives interpretive weight elsewhere in other places cities and regions drawing on a range of examples from both the developed and developing worlds This book was previously published as a special issue of the journal Urban Studies

The Cinema of Wang Bing Bruno Lessard, 2023-11-02 Having made documentary films screened at the most prestigious film festivals in the West Chinese documentary filmmaker Wang Bing presents a unique case of independent filmmaking In The Cinema of Wang Bing Bruno Lessard examines the documentarian's most important films focusing on the two obsessions at the heart of his oeuvre: the legacy of Maoist China in the present and the transformation of labor since China's entry into the market economy and how the crucial figures of survivor and worker are represented on screen. Bruno Lessard argues that Wang Bing is a minjian grassroots intellectual whose films document the impact of Mao's Great Leap Forward on Chinese collective memory and register the repercussions of China's turn to neoliberalism on workers in the post-Reform era. Bringing together Chinese documentary studies and China studies, the author shows how Wang Bing's practice reflects the minjian ethos when documenting the survivors of the Great Famine and those who have not benefitted from China's neoliberal policies, from laid-off workers to migrant workers. The films discussed include some of Wang Bing's most celebrated works such as West of the Tracks and Dead Souls, as well as neglected documentaries such as Coal Money and Bitter Money. Bruno Lessard analyzes Wang Bing's documentary masterpieces through the twin lens of history and labor, incisively framing them as a sustained critical intervention in how China understands itself through the legacy of Maoism and Deng Xiaoping's neoliberal reform project. The Cinema of Wang Bing makes me want to watch the films again. Chris Berry, King's College London. Professor Lessard offers an original and comprehensive study of Wang Bing's contribution to Chinese documentary as a mode of observation and reflection on some of the most crucial periods of China's recent and present history. I certainly felt that reading the films through a sociohistorical approach produced a more vibrant understanding of Wang Bing's oeuvre. Cecilia Mello, University of São Paulo.

Memory Craft Lynne Kelly, 2020-01-07 Groundbreaking anthropologist and memory champion Lynne Kelly reveals how we can use ancient and traditional mnemonic methods to enhance and expand our memory. Our brain is a muscle. Like our bodies, it needs exercise. In the last few hundred years, we have stopped training our memories, and we have lost the ability to memorize large amounts of information, something our ancestors could do with ease. After discovering that the true purpose of monuments like Easter Island and Stonehenge were to act as memory palaces, Kelly takes this knowledge and introduces us to the best memory techniques humans have ever devised, from ancient times and the Middle Ages to methods used by today's memory athletes. A memory champion herself, Kelly tests all these methods and demonstrates the extraordinary capacity of our brains at any age. For anyone who needs to memorize a speech or a script, learn anatomy or a foreign language, or prepare for an exam, Memory Craft offers proven techniques and simple strategies for anyone who has trouble remembering names or dates or for older people who want to keep their minds agile. In addition to getting in touch with our own human and anthropological foundations, Memory Craft shows how all things mnemonic can be playful, creative, and fun.

The Chameleon Effect Chelsea McDuffey, 2022-12-22 In The Chameleon Effect, author Chelsea McDuffey provides strategies to overcome self-sabotage and overthinking using empowered choices. Zeller argues that the middle decades of the nineteenth century that saw the British North American colonies attempting to establish a transcontinental nation also witnessed the rise of an analytical tradition in science that challenged older conceptions of humanity's relationship with nature and the land. Zeller taps a wide range of archival and published sources to document the prominent place of Victorian science in British North American thought and society. Her focus on the creative functions of Victorian geological, geophysical, and botanical sciences highlights the formation of a Canadian community of scientists, politicians, educators, journalists, businessmen, and others who promoted public support of scientific activities and institutions. By moving beyond the eighteenth-century mechanical ideals that had forged the United States, they reassessed the land and its possibilities to redefine the transcontinental future of a northern variant of the British nation. Inventing Canada is a must read for anyone interested in the scientific background of Canada's history, including its environmental history.
