Smallholder dairy farmer training manual Goopy, J.P., Gakige, J.K., 2016-08-31 Working with Smallholders
International Finance Corporation, 2018-12-05 The world's population is expected to reach 9.8 billion in 2050. Meanwhile, concurrent rises in incomes and urbanization are driving increased consumption of meat, dairy and biofuels. Meeting the demand for food, feed and biofuel will require a global production increase of almost 50 percent relative to 2012. Production in South Asia and Sub-Saharan Africa, where 95 percent of farms are smaller than five hectares, must double at a minimum. A key element of policies to increase food production will be promoting improved food quality as the health costs of too much too little and the wrong types of food become increasingly evident. Additional initiatives must address how to reduce food losses globally: one third of food production is lost or wasted at different stages in the food chain each year. Climate change is bringing further stressors. These challenges also present opportunities. Around the world, 450 million smallholder farmers are plagued by low productivity and poor access to inputs, technology, knowledge, financing and markets. Agribusinesses are increasingly working directly with smallholder farmers in low and middle income countries to help secure a sustainable supply of key agricultural commodities while boosting rural incomes and economic growth. Sourcing directly from smallholders can expand a firm's supply base, reduce margins paid to collectors and middlemen, facilitate improvements in quality and yield and deliver premium prices for a certified fair trade or sustainably produced product. Smallholders also represent a growing market for farm inputs, information and financial services. Agribusiness firms can help smallholders to increase productivity and improve crop quality, access, know how to mitigate social and environmental impacts, develop farm management skills and combine their production with other farmers to achieve sufficient scale to be effective market players and meet the growing demand for safe, sustainable food by improving practices and introducing traceability and certification systems. Working with Smallholders: A Handbook for Firms Building Sustainable Supply Chains shows how agribusinesses can develop more sustainable, resilient and productive supply chains and illustrates the substantial impact of doing so on development. The book compiles innovative solutions and cutting edge ideas to meet the challenges and it incorporates a diverse collection of hands-on case studies from across the world that cover a variety of agribusiness sectors. This second edition builds on the lessons learned and provides updates in leading trends and technologies from those provided in the first edition published in 2014. The Smallholder's Manual Katie Thear, 2002. livestock and domestic needs In many contexts private sector manual well drilling is a reliable and affordable means to access shallow groundwater but it is not widely available in Ethiopia Data information and mapping on pilot manual well drilling efforts in selected areas of Ethiopia indicated that the technique provided affordable access to shallow groundwater for farmers and demonstrated high demand among farmers for manually drilled wells as well as profitability for drilling businesses The authors of this paper suggest that investments in creating a spatial database of hydrogeologic suitability domains investments in driller training and associated investments in accelerating the drilling industry could catalyze a manual well drilling industry and significantly improve smallholder farmers affordable access to shallow groundwater

Profitable Fruit-growing for Cottagers & Small Holders of Land ... John Wright,1891 Improving the Supply Chain of Motor Pumps to Expand Small-scale Private Irrigation in Zambia Willem Colenbrander,Barbara C. P. Koppen,2013-06-03 During the past decade smallholder groundwater irrigation with motor pumps has increased considerably in Zambia The present study analyzes an important but hitherto ignored factor for adoption the supply chain of imported motor pumps Findings include types of pumps organization of import wholesale and retail including after sales services fiscal measures import duty waiver and VAT zero rating prices of pumps and financing facilities to the farmers The main obstacles for farmers were found to be the highly centralized supply chain and financing facilities in urban hubs lack of information also about prices which vary significantly even for the same make and model of pump lack of information and training about proper use and maintenance and lack of financing facilities The Zambia National Farmers Union seems best placed to remove these obstacles Sustainable Water Management in Smallholder Farming Sara Finley,2016-07-27 Water is critical to all human activities but access to this crucial resource is increasingly limited by competition and the effects of climate change In agriculture water management is key to ensuring good and sustained crop yields maintaining soil health and safeguarding the long term viability of the land Water management is especially challenging on smallholder farms in resource poor areas which tend to be primarily rainfed and thus highly dependent on unreliable rainfall patterns Sustainable practices can help farmers promote the development of soils plants and field surfaces to allow maximum retention of water between rains and encourage the efficient use of each drop of water applied as irrigation Especially useful for farmers groups agricultural extension workers NGOs students and researchers working with farmers in dryland areas this comprehensive yet concise book is a practical and accessible resource for anyone interested in sustainable water management Routledge Handbook of Gender in South Asia Leela Fernandes,2021-11-15 This new edition of the Routledge Handbook of Gender in South Asia provides a comprehensive overview of the study of gender in South Asia The Handbook covers the central contributions that have defined this area and captures innovative and emerging paradigms that are shaping the future of the field It offers a wide range of disciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives spanning both the humanities and social sciences focusing on India Pakistan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka This revised edition has been thoroughly updated and includes new chapters thus adding new areas of scholarship The Handbook is organized thematically into five major parts Historical formations and theoretical framings Law citizenship and the nation Representations of culture place identity Labor and the economy Inequality activism and the state The Handbook illustrates the ways in which scholarship on gender has contributed to a rethink of theoretical concepts and empirical understandings of contemporary South Asia Finally it focuses on new areas of inquiry that have been opened up through a focus on gender and the intersections between gender and categories such as caste ethnicity sexuality and religion This timely study is essential reading for scholars who research and teach on South Asia as well as for scholars in related interdisciplinary fields that focus on women and gender from comparative and transnational perspectives

Artisanal Milling of Palm Oil in Cameroon Yvonne K. Nchanji, Ofundem Tataw, Raymond N. Nkongho, Patrice Levang, This study was carried out in three major palm oil producing areas in Cameroon with the aim of investigating the artisanal milling and commercialization of red palm oil Structured and semi structured questionnaires were administered focus group discussions and participatory observation were applied to obtain required information Those involved were identified and the service providers ranged from mill owners or managers to smallholders and intermediaries some of which were involved in two or three of the services All told 83% of those involved were men and the women represented 17% of the service providers Six different types of processing equipment were identified in the production areas and it was revealed that semi automated press and combined motorized hydraulic digester and press system digester screw press were the most efficient After harvesting of fresh fruit bunches FFBs the major operations were chopping or cutting stripping selecting and sieving loading to drums for boiling off loading to the digester or press for crushing and or pressing and clarifying of palm oil Family labor hired labor or both contributed greatly to the success of the milling operations Family labor was not paid but motivations were given to family members while hired labor was paid per activity The average cost of labor per ton of FFB in the study area was 8 812 FCFA for both peak and low seasons The average net return in the processing and marketing of 1 ton of FFB was 32 207 FCFA in peak season and 46 556 FCFA in low season This income generating activity was ranked as the first main source of income in the study area and has valuable contributions in household livelihood The production of palm kernel oil and local soap was also recorded in the area but this was mainly for home use and not for sale Poor accessibility and unstable prices were the main constraints in the production process While the men were dominant in processing women were dominant in the commercialization of RPO Artisanal palm oil milling is a lucrative business in the area and will go a long way to alleviate poverty if the smallholders could come together and form a dynamic scheme
