Quality Work Environments for Nurse and Patient Safety Linda McGillis Hall, 2005 Key areas of concern in nursing work environment are covered extensively such as leadership workload and productivity all of which are front page issues in practice systems and policy levels Effects of Work Environments on Nursing and Patient Outcomes Nancy M. Purdy, 2011 Nurses are leaving the profession due to high levels of job dissatisfaction arising from current working conditions characterized by heavy workloads limited participation in decision making and lack of development opportunities Canadian Health Services Research Foundation CHSRF 2006a To gain organizational support for workplace improvements and thereby improve nursing retention evidence is needed to demonstrate the impact of the work environment on patient care The purpose of this study was to determine the relationship between nurses perceptions of their work environment and the quality and risk outcomes for both the patient and the nurse Kanter's 1977 1993 theory of structural empowerment guided the study Empowering work environments for nurses were hypothesized to impact group processes and thereby work effectiveness as reflected in patient outcomes patient satisfaction therapeutic self care falls and nurse assessed risks Empowering workplaces were also hypothesized to enhance the nurse's psychological empowerment and in turn engagement in empowering behaviours that lead to quality care and job satisfaction A multi level cross sectional design was used to test the study model Self report surveys were used for a sample of nurses n 679 and discharged patients n 1005 affiliated with medical and surgical units from 21 hospitals in Ontario Unit characteristics and falls data were obtained from existing hospital databases Using multilevel structural equation modeling the hypothesized model fit well with the data 2 21 074 df 10 CFI 985 TLI 921 RMSEA 041 SRMR 002 within and 054 between Empowering workplaces had positive effects on nurse assessed quality of care and predicted fewer falls and nurse assessed risks as mediated through group processes These conditions positively impacted individual psychological empowerment which in turn had significant direct effects on empowered behaviour job satisfaction and care quality Theoretically evidence supported the further evolution of structural empowerment theory to include group processes and empowered behaviour as mediators to various nurse and patient outcomes The evidence from this study also reinforced the critical need to invest in improving nursing work environments for the benefit of patients and nurses Theory informed strategies for changes to the workplace have the potential to mitigate against projected nursing shortages and ensure a sustainable workforce to meet future demands for care
