exploration into humanity's obsession with the afterlife and quest for immortality from the bestselling author and skeptic Michael Shermer. In his most ambitious work yet, Shermer sets out to discover what drives human belief in life after death, focusing on recent scientific attempts to achieve immortality along with utopian attempts to create heaven on earth. For millennia, religions have concocted numerous manifestations of heaven and the afterlife, and though no one has ever returned from such a place to report what it is really like or that it even exists today, science and technology are being used to try to make it happen in our lifetime. From radical life extension to cryonic suspension to mind uploading, Shermer considers how realistic these attempts are from a proper skeptical perspective. Heavens on Earth concludes with an uplifting paean to purpose and progress and how we can live well in the here and now, whether or not there is a hereafter. I'm Dyin' Here Tim Grobaty, 2017-01-16 Long Beach Press Telegram writer Tim Grobaty was promoted to columnist at his newspaper back when it was still a glamorous and coveted job. In I'm Dyin' Here, the author means two things: He'll likely die at the job that he's spent nearly four decades doing, and at the same time, his profession too is seeing its last days. Weaving together personal history and a selection of columns written over the course of his storied career, Grobaty offers readers a rare glimpse into the inner workings of a dying breed: the local columnist. With everyday life, fatherhood, holidays, suburbia, and random encounters with animals serving as fodder for his column, Grobaty reveals his sources of motivation and vulnerability all the while struggling to maintain relevance in a rapidly changing industry. Quilt of Words Sharon Niederman, 1990-03 Historically, the Southwest has attracted people with yearnings for freedom and adventure—people who define themselves as individuals. Unlike their husbands and brothers, women in the Southwest did not for the most part subdue and tame the land; but their character and individuality were manifested as they lived with and improved upon conditions as they found them. Their fascination with their way of life and the need for self-expression led them to write of their experiences, providing them with a creative outlet and offering those who came later a unique window into the past. A Quilt of Words won the Border Regional Library Association 1989 Southwest Book Award for literary excellence and enrichment of the cultural heritage of the Southwest. It was also awarded the National Federation of Press Women first prize for history in 1989. Living, Dying, Grieving Dixie Dennis, 2009 Taking a life education approach, this resource offers helpful tips and techniques for mastering a fear of death, suggests helpful ideas for taking care of the business of dying, and encourages students to live longer by adding excitement into their lives. Memories from My Aids Years Margaret Lemberg, 2019-10-08 I remember people, places, organizations, and relationships from those years, 1990-2000, when I was part of the Seattle AIDS community. I was a massage therapist, I was a friend, I was interested in learning about the disease and hoping to bring some comfort to people I met during those years. I was in transition. In 1990, I had been working for my husband's wholesale clothing business. I wanted something different and ended up going to massage school. In 1992, I wanted to participate in the LGBT community AIDS seemed like an important way to do this. I eventually left my marriage and moved to my own house. Fall 1993. It is now 25 years since my friend John died of AIDS having never dictated or written the story of his own life I wish he had He often said that he planned to tell his story All I can do now is tell part of his story from the years I knew him When I began thinking about writing his story I also began to remember other people I began to think about all I learned from those years And I began writing As I wrote I remembered people living with AIDS and caregivers I remembered theories and treatments I would like to share these memories with others provide medical care for sick people whether with AIDS or dying from other causes I would also like to share with therapists and social workers who help with practical solutions and emotional support
