Somerset At War 1939-1945:

Somerset at War, 1939-1945 Mac Hawkins, 1988 Supplement to Somerset at War 1939-1945 Mac Hawkins, 1996

Thanks for the Memory Mac Hawkins, 1996 Frome at War 1939-45 David Lassman, 2020-03-20

Frome at War 1939 1945 is a comprehensive account of this Somerset market town's experience of the conflict covering in detail life on the Home Front set against the background of the wider theatres of war. The narrative of that global struggle is given with a focus on the ordeals endured by the people of Frome as they cheered their men and women fighters off to war, welcomed hundreds of evacuated men, women and children to the town and contributed their part to the fight against Hitler and the Nazi threat. Rare insights into the life of the town are included along with seldom told stories from the footnotes of history from Frome's part within the secret underground resistance movement and the national fight for women's equality to the gradual influx of American GIs and Field Marshall Montgomery's stay in the aftermath of Dunkirk. The book incorporates memoirs and memories along with in-depth research from official records and newspaper accounts which allow the reader to see the war not only from ordinary people's perspective but the military experiences of Frome's heroic men and women and in many cases their tragic sacrifices as well. More controversial aspects are also touched on including injustice, espionage, racism and politics to give a full and fascinating picture of a town facing profound trials of endurance and courage but at the same time revealing the characteristics that have sustained Frome throughout its illustrious and turbulent history.

Recollections of Somerset at War 1939-1945 Mac Hawkins, 1996 Women at War 1939-1945 Carol

Harris, 2000-10-20. Long before the outbreak of the Second World War, official calculations showed Britain would be short of the manpower needed to fight the enemy and keep up production of weapons, food and other essentials. It was hoped that women volunteers would fill the gaps and so they volunteered as workers in Civil Defence, the Women's Land Army, munitions factories and non-combatant roles in the Forces. But by 1941 the Government had to face facts: any effective response would have to involve conscription of British women. All females between the ages of fourteen and sixty-four were registered and soon the vast majority had work to do. They collected tons of salvage, knitted and sewed and raised money for warships and weapons. Women ran fire stations and drove makeshift ambulances while cities burned and enemy bombs exploded around them. They kept their families going often as single parents while their husbands were away for years in the armed forces. By the end of the war, some of the most experienced rat catchers in the country were female; others were accomplished engineers, carters, rail workers and bargees. When it was over, these wartime roles were not commemorated in films and books. There has been little official acknowledgement of the enormous and crucial contribution those British women made to the lives we live now. Many are getting on in years and their precious first-hand memories will go with them. Their stories are worth telling now for that alone. But they are also tales of love, death, sacrifice and romance, of humour and horror and of an extraordinary time when ordinary women did extraordinary things. The Battle Honours of the Second World

War 1939-1945 and Korea 1950-1953 Compiled from official records, Terry Cave, 2012-03-29 In February 1925 the War Office published an Army Order listing the battle honours awarded for the Great War and although this was announced as the final list there were subsequent revisions and minor amendments No such list was published after WWII but an unofficial Record was published in 1958 by the War Office with a limited distribution which included the Korean War battle honours and this is that list with 651 actions This Record covers only British including British Gurkha Regiments and Colonial Regiments In most cases there is a brief summary of the operations with an indication of the troops involved and these include Commonwealth troops though the question of their Battle Honours is one for the Commonwealth Government concerned and the Sovereign There were a good many errors in the list typographical grammatical misspelling of place names dates and order of battle In some cases there was confusion between those battle honours which were selected to be carried on the Colours and those which were simply awarded Strange new regiments appeared Highlanders Light Infantry a persistent favourite King s Own Yeomanry Light Infantry the K A R R R C London Irish Fusiliers London Irish Buffs Queen s Own Nigeria Regiment an unauthorised Queen s Own and the Royal West Kent Regiment to name some of them Place names also caused some trouble and in some of the brief descriptions of the engagements or actions there were order of battle mistakes such as the confusion between the 12th Frontier Force Regiment and 13th Frontier Force Rifles two different regiments of the old Indian Army The index contained scores of place names that had nothing to do with anything this has been pruned drastically so that it contains only those places for which a battle honour was awarded Every effort has been made to eliminate errors and present a corrected version and a number of sources was used the most important of which was H C B Cook s The Battle Honours of the British and Indian Armies 1662 1982 a magnificent piece of work Other valuable works included Orders of Battle Second World War 1939 1945 H F Joslen Commonwealth Divisions 1939 1945 Malcolm A Bellis A Register of the Regiments and Corps of the British Army Arthur Swinson Regiments and Corps of the British Army Ian S Hallows and Handbook of British Regiments Christopher Chant
