Something Human:

The Human in Bits Kris Cohen, 2025-07-25 Kris Cohen examines black abstractionist painting to demonstrate how race and computation are intimately entangled in the graphic user interface of the personal computer Godsends William Desmond, 2021-11-15 Godsends is William Desmond's newest addition to his masterwork on the borderlines between philosophy and theology For many years William Desmond has been patiently constructing a philosophical project replete with its own terminology idiom grammar dialectic and its metaxological transformation in an attempt to reopen certain boundaries between metaphysics and phenomenology between philosophy of religion and philosophical theology between the apocalyptic and the speculative and between religious passion and systematic reasoning In Godsends Desmond's newest addition to his ambitious masterwork he presents an original reflection on what he calls the companioning of philosophy and religion Throughout the book he follows an itinerary that has something of an Augustinian likeness from the exterior to the interior from the inferior to the superior The stations along the way include a grappling with the default atheism prevalent in contemporary intellectual culture an exploration of the middle space the metaxu between the finite and the infinite a dwelling with solitudes as thresholds between selving and the sacred a meditation on idiot wisdom and transcendence in an East West perspective an exploration of the different stresses in the mysticisms of Aurobindo and the Arnhem Mystical Sermons a dream monologue of autonomy a suite of Kantian and post Kantian variations on the story of the prodigal son a meditation on the beatitudes as exceeding virtue in light of Aquinas's understanding and culminating in an exploration of Godsends as telling us something significant about the surprise of revelation in word idea and story Godsends is written for thoughtful persons and scholars perplexed about the place of religion in our time and hopeful for some illuminating companionship from relevant philosophers It will also interest students of philosophy and religion especially philosophical theology and philosophical metaphysics On Freedom Peter Trawny, 2017-11-16 How do we challenge the structures of late capitalism if all possible media through which to do so is inescapably capitalist This urgent political question is at the heart of Peter Trawny's major new work With searing precision Trawny demonstrates how our world has become wholly determined by technology capital and the medium In this world of the TCM we universal subjects remain in a state of apathy that is temporarily punctuated but also reinforced by the phantasmatic dream of difference offered us by the Hollywood machine Our sole motivation is to gain money and the power it brings The only meaningful difference in the world of the TCM universal is the difference between wealth and poverty Freedom is then only the freedom to dispose of things particularly technological objects and to gain pleasure It makes our relation to our surroundings essentially touristic and our relation to the earth an essentially exploitative one The notion of personal or societal freedom has never been more controversial or seemingly more far from our grasp While exploring in details the difficulties we face in our attempts to be free Trawny builds a vision of how to break out of the mediums in which we operate and experience a new kind of freedom

Escape from the TCM universal is impossible Yet philosophy itself is the impossible So when Trawny writes that escape the other is impossible we can read this both as escape is impossible and as escape is the impossible that is the only possible escape is through philosophy

Man and God Xavier Zubiri,2009-07-29 Man and God is the first of three major works by Xavier Zubiri 1898 1983 on the subject of theology All three books are posthumous publications based on lectures given by Zubiri a famous contemporary Spanish philosopher Man and God is divided into three parts the first part serving as an essential introduction to the core of the work This section together with the introductions by translators Joaquin Redondo and Dr Thomas B Fowler provide the reader with the necessary preparation to enjoy the philosophical riches of this book Here Zubiri suggests that God is transcendent in all things therefore by experiencing the world man has the fundamental experience of God Translators Redondo Fowler and Dr Nelson Orringer have sought to render the original text into natural and readable English while maintaining fidelity to the original work This translation is the product of three experts in the thought of Zubiri with the final revision given here collaboration between Dr Fowler and Dr Orringer This translation was made possible by a grant from the Spanish Ministry of Culture

Classical Literature and Posthumanism Giulia Maria Chesi,Francesca Spiegel,2019-11-14 The subject of the posthuman of what it means to be or to cease to be human is emerging as a shared point of debate at large in the natural and social sciences and the humanities This volume asks what classical learning can bring to the table of posthuman studies assembling chapters that explore how exactly the human self of Greek and Latin literature understands its own relation to animals monsters objects cyborgs and robotic devices With its widely diverse habitat of heterogeneous bodies minds and selves classical literature again and again blurs the boundaries between the human and the non human not to equate and confound the human with its other but playfully to highlight difference and hybridity as an invitation to appraise the animal monstrous or mechanical machinic parts lodged within humans This comprehensive collection unites contributors from across the globe each delving into a different classical text or narrative and its configuration of human subjectivity how human selves relate to other entities around them For students and scholars of classical literature and the posthuman this book is a first point of reference
