The Practical Handbook of Group Counseling
 M. Ed M. D. Sheldon D. Glass, Sheldon D. Glass, 2010-03. The Practical Handbook of Group Counseling is written mainly as a primer to be used in group work with children adolescents and parents. The first edition was used by over three hundred colleges and universities in the United States. Its unique design allows the reader to use it as a ready reference for practical information. It is presented as a text that can challenge the individual's ideas and upon which the counselor can develop techniques that will fit his/her personality and meet the needs of the group. The text was the first comprehensive practical book in this field. It is a synthesis of the various problems and successes that the counselor may encounter and offers one model that may be useful in resolving and/or enhancing some of these issues. The author utilizes the public school setting as the vehicle for presenting his material. Since the school is a cross section of the population the model proposed here can be adapted to other social agencies that utilize group counseling techniques. The author Dr. Sheldon D. Glass has a significant background in group work and in child and adolescent development. He is uniquely qualified in this area because he has completed formal training in education adult psychiatry child psychiatry and pediatrics.

Developing Resilient Youth
 William G. Nicoll, 2011-10-24. Using the most recent research findings on resilience, William Nicoll PhD provides educators with a much needed conceptual framework for creating transformative schools and effective classrooms. Developing Resilient Youth suggests that resilience is the missing fourth R in education. When combined with reading, writing and arithmetic, resilience can lead to improved academic and social adjustment in our youth. Developing Resilient Youth is the first book in a series designed to help teachers, counselors and administrators to develop the skills and strategies necessary for creating truly transformative schools. Such schools strive to develop in students both the academic and the social/emotional skills necessary to succeed and make positive contributions to society. One key component in the overall process of developing transformative schools is the teaching of the five essential social/emotional competencies associated with resilient youth: understanding and respecting self and others, empathy, positive communication, cooperation, and responsible contribution. In Developing Resilient Youth, teachers will find fifty classroom learning activities designed to teach these competencies. Each activity is accompanied by suggestions for follow-up classroom learning activities that integrate the concepts with academic subject area instruction as well as parent homework activities so that parents and teachers can begin to collaborate in the process of developing resilient youth Working together teachers and parents will learn to effectively assist children and adolescents to become responsible cooperative caring and contributing young adults ready to succeed in our global society Group Counseling and Psychotherapy With Children and Adolescents Zipora
