A Woman's Guide to Better Health and Beauty, Age Defying SkinCare Kristy Jenkins, 2015-10-20 Many of us are skin conscious We want our skin to look young and healthy and we'll do anything to protect our skin from whatever possible harm there may be in our environment After all skin is our largest organ performing several functions It primarily protects us against the invasion of foreign substances and it serves as the transfer point for the release of toxins from our bodies thus our skin is very worthy of protection and care Are you overwhelmed by the vast amount of anti aging products out there You've probably heard the phrase He's his own worst enemy and this can be true for so many things So in talking about your skin and its health and appearance keep in mind that something can be an enemy simply if it's in opposition to your goals for your skin It might seem a bit odd to talk about goals for your skin and its health and appearance but most people who want smooth skin need to make that a goal of theirs Some people are just naturally blessed with all the elements that make beautiful skin and God bless them but typically the rest of us need to actually work at having good skin if that's what we want They say that forewarned is forearmed so if you can understand some of the biggest or most common enemies to achieving your goal of beautiful smooth skin you will be better prepared to face and combat those enemies As you all know our skin is the obvious appearance of who or what we are or perhaps would like to be However it is more than just a simple mask It is the largest organ of our body which is a complex and highly dynamic system that plays a very crucial role to our general well being Our skin even sometimes reflects our health as well It's our body's canvas and one of its most valuable assets Knowing how important our skin is we should do something great for it Perhaps starting a healthy habit is the most important move to take as this helps our valued possession from outer and inner sources Note that it's the only skin we have so it's worth protecting Let's accept the fact many of us are skin conscious As much as possible we wanted to have a fresh good looking skin However many of us fail to recognize that simple steps are the best way to attain it We just tend to ignore what is actually right or wrong for our skin We tend to buy some beauty products that actually worsen whatever skin imperfections we have So now is the time for change We must do something to beat all those bothersome skin conditions we have Kristy has been promoting the same quote as in her diet books You are what You eat and that s even more true when it come to skin care The struggle to upkeep with her anti aging slogan may best be fought from the inside out maintaining a good diet that work to keep your body healthy and young keeping away free radical that may cause you wrinkles and dull skin Find out what are her secrets to anti aging
