Trump, 1966 The Archaeology of Malta Claudia Sagona, 2015-08-25 This book synthesizes the archaeology of the Maltese archipelago from the first human colonization c 5000 BC through the Roman period c 400 AD Claudia Sagona interprets the archaeological record to explain changing social and political structures intriguing ritual practices and cultural contact through several millennia

Catalogue of Artefacts from Malta in the British Museum Josef Mario Briffa SJ, Claudia Sagona, 2017-04-30 Ancient finds from the Maltese islands are rare and those held in the British Museum form an important collection Represented is a wide cultural range spanning the Early and Late Neolithic the Bronze Age Roman and more recent historic periods

Skorba David Hilary Trump (archéologue.), 1966 Punic Antiquities of Malta and Other Ancient Artefacts Held in Ecclesiastic and Private Collections Claudia Sagona, 2003 The Maltese Archipelago at the Dawn of History Davide Tanasi, David Cardona, 2020-08-27 This collection of essays provides a reassessment of the multifaceted evidence which emerged from excavations carried out in 1909 and 1959 in the settlement of Bahrija both largely unpublished until now Bahrija is a key site for understanding the later stages of Maltese prehistory before the beginning of the Phoenician colonial period

A Research Guide to the Ancient World John M. Weeks, Jason de Medeiros, 2014-11-25 The archaeological study of the ancient world has become increasingly popular in recent years A Research Guide to the Ancient World Print and Electronic Sources is a partially annotated bibliography The study of the ancient world is usually although not exclusively considered a branch of the humanities including archaeology art history languages literature philosophy and related cultural disciplines which consider the ancient cultures of the Mediterranean world and adjacent Egypt and southwestern Asia Chronologically the ancient world would extend from the beginning of the Bronze Age of ancient Greece ca 1000 BCE to the fall of the Western Roman Empire ca 500 CE This book will close the traditional subject gap between the humanities Classical World Egyptology and the social sciences anthropological archaeology Near East in the study of the ancient world This book is uniquely the only bibliographic resource available for such holistic coverage The volume consists of 17 chapters and seven appendixes arranged according to the traditional types of library research materials bibliographies dictionaries atlases etc The appendixes are mostly subject specific including graduate programs in ancient studies reports from significant archaeological sites numismatics and paleography and writing systems These extensive author and subject indexes help facilitate ease of use

Monumentalising Life in the Neolithic Anne Birgitte Gebaer, Lasse Sørensen, Anne Teather, António Carlos Valera, 2020-09-30 One of the principal characteristics of the European Neolithic is the development of monumentality in association with innovations in material culture and changes in subsistence from hunting and gathering to farming and pastoralism The papers in this volume discuss the latest insights into why monumental architecture became an integral part of early farming societies in Europe and beyond One of the topics is how we define monuments and how our arguments and recent research on temporality impacts on our interpretation of the Neolithic period Different interpretations of G bekli Tepe are examples of this discussion as well as our understanding of special landmarks such as flint mines The latest evidence on the economic and paleoenvironmental context carbon 14 dates as well as analytical methods are employed in illuminating the emergence of monumentalism in Neolithic Europe Studies are taking place on a macro and micro scale in areas as diverse as Great Britain Denmark Sweden Poland Germany the Dutch wetlands Portugal and Malta involving a range of monuments from long barrows and megalithic tombs to roundels and enclosures Transformation from a natural to a built environment by monumentalizing part of the landscape is discussed as well as changes in megalithic architecture in relation to shifts in the social structure An ethnographic study of megaliths in Nagaland discuss monument building as an act of social construction Other studies look into the role of monuments as expressions of cosmology and active loci of ceremonial performances Also a couple of papers analyse the social processes in the transformation of society in the aftermath of the initial boom in monument construction and the related changes in subsistence and social structure in northern Europe The aim of the publication is to explore different theories about the relationship between monumentality and the Neolithic way of life through these studies encompassing a wide range of types of monuments over vast areas of Europe and beyond

An Archaeology of Religion Kit W. Wesler, 2012-04-20 Archaeologists have been increasingly turning their attention to the study of religion but the field so far has lacked a cross cultural overview This text challenges archaeological conventions by refusing to respect the geographic and temporal boundaries with which archaeologists too often define their field Worldwide in range and comparative in perspective this exploration is guided by several fundamental questions how do we recognize religion in the archaeological record When should we recognize the first activities we call religious What distinguishes a world religion How can we see the formations of modern world religions in the archaeological record An Archaeology of Religion begins with the first glimmers of what might be considered religious expression in the Paleolithic period and concludes with the complexities of world religions today This book is an ambitious attempt to survey how scholars approach the identification of religious sites and practices in the archaeological record The Cambridge Ancient History (Fascicle) G. Daniel, J. D. Evans, 1967-05-02 New Advances in the History of Archaeology Sophie A. de Beaune, Alessandro Guidi, Oscar Moro Abadía, Massimo Tarantini, 2021-09-16 This volume presents papers from three sessions organised by the History of Archaeology Scientific Commission at the 18th UISPP World Congress Paris June 2018 considering the development of stratigraphical methods in archaeology in many European countries and interdisciplinary perspectives on the history of archaeology Ancient and Medieval Medicine in Malta [before 1600 AD] Charles Savona-Ventura, 2016-03-31 This book is an account of the history of medicine in its widest sense as practiced in the Maltese islands during the Prehistoric and classical periods when medical practice was primarily based on superstition religion and magic While superstition and magic prevailed in the subsequent centuries the late Classical period saw the introduction of a philosophical type of medical thought looking at disease as a disorder in the basic humors making up the body This concept set the stage for the eventual scientific advances initiated during the Renaissance Historical Dictionary of Malta Uwe Jens Rudolf, 2018-11-10 Malta has been visited and influenced over the centuries by many different peoples and cultures The site of the oldest free standing man made structures known to exist Malta has been occupied by Phoenicians Carthaginians Arabs Normans the Knights of St John Swabians Angevins French and British Most recently Malta has elected a new government replacing one that had been in office for many years major improvements in infrastructure a significant growth in population the liberalization of laws permitting divorce and same sex marriage This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Malta contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 300 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Malta The Oxford Companion to Archaeology Neil Asher Silberman, 2012-11 The second edition of The Oxford Companion to Archaeology is a thoroughly up to date resource with new entries exploring the many advances in the field since the first edition published in 1996 In 700 entries the second edition provides thorough coverage to historical archaeology the development of archaeology as a field of study and the way the discipline works to explain the past In addition to these theoretical entries other entries describe the major excavations discoveries and innovations from the discovery of the cave paintings at Lascaux to the deciphering of Egyptian hieroglyphics and the use of luminescence dating Recent developments in methods and analytical techniques which have revolutionized the ways excavations are performed are also covered as well as new areas within archeology such as cultural tourism and major new sites which have expanded our understanding of prehistory and human developments through time In addition to significant expansion first edition entries have been thoroughly revised and updated to reflect the progress that has been made in the last decade and a half Houses of the Dead Alistair Barclay, David Field, Jim Leary, 2020-02-28 The chronological disjuncture LBK longhouses have widely been considered to provide ancestral influence for both rectangular and trapezoidal long barrows and cairns but with the discovery and excavation of more houses in recent times is it possible to observe evidence of more contemporary inspiration What do the features found beneath long mounds tell us about this and to what extent do they represent domestic structures Indeed how can we distinguish between domestic houses or halls and those that may have been constructed for ritual purposes or ended up beneath mounds Do so called mortuary enclosures reflect ritual or domestic architecture and did side ditches always provide material for a mound or for building construction This collection of papers seeks to explore the interface between structures often considered to be those of the living with those for the dead Library Catalog of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.).
