Stellar Jets and Bipolar Outflows

L. Errico, Alberto A. Vittone, 2012-12-06 In the last few years great improvements in the study of stellar jets and bipolar outflows have been achieved both observationally and theoretically High resolution observations at various frequencies radio IR optical and X ray of these features in different types of objects have shown a large variety of morphologies at all scales often revealing contrasting symmetries which do not allow straightforward kinematic interpretations valid for all cases In particular at present it seems very difficult to give a statistical definition of what the standard properties of jets and bipolar outflows are On the theoretical side the identification of physical processes capable of producing the observed rich morphological variety of jets and bipolar outflows and supporting them over long lifetimes is still controversial Furthermore several models are actively discussed in an attempt of reaching a complete understanding of the phenomenon The workshop provided an unique opportunity for both observers and theoreticians to gather together and produce an updated and exhaustive picture of the field In addition the meeting has been enriched by the presentation of some works on jets in external galaxies This topic was focused on what people working on stellar jets could learn from colleagues working on extragalactic jets and vice versa Invited papers were prepared with the aim of giving the state of the art about scientific subjects contributed papers and some selected poster papers presented on the contrary very recent results in the various fields
