The Internet of Women - Accelerating Culture Change Nada Anid, Monique J. Morrow, Laurie Cantileno, 2022-09-01 Female scientists technologists engineers and mathematicians worldwide are making historic contributions to their fields The modern workforce is closer to gender equal than it has ever been and many efforts are in place to support further progress The Internet of Women provides an exciting look at personal narratives and case studies of female leaders and cultural shifts around the globe that illustrate this promising trend From the United Nations emphasis on girls and technology education in the SDGs Sustainable Development Goals to the increased female labor force in Zambia a policy change that was inspired by the MDGs UN Millennium Development Goals The Internet of Women captures stunning examples of progress from around the world and men working hand in hand with women advocating for cultural change Scholars and practitioners lament the lack of women leading and working in leading organizations in the technology industry Gender equality and female participation in the tech field is critical to both developing and developed economies nevertheless this gap remains a global phenomenon The lack of female leadership is particularly extreme at the highest echelons of leading technology organizations Few publicly traded tech companies have female CEOs in fact most nations have zero female leadership in the tech industry This gap does indicate a slow pace of progress for gender equality in tech employment Women s pay still lags nearly a decade behind according to the World Economic Forum meaning that women s on average pay today is the equivalent to that of similarly qualified and similarly employed men in 2006 Without significant progress the current rate of change will not lead to parity for 118 years according to the World Economic Forum WEF However there s significant work being done to shift this tide Take for instance Michelle Lee the first female Under Secretary of Commerce for Intellectual Property and Director of the United States Patent and Trademark Office USPTO reflects on her childhood Girl Scout badge in sewing and cooking and how that memory inspired to create an IP badge that exposes young women to the process of invention Social entrepreneur investor and Malala Fund co founder Shiza Shahid shares her efforts beginning from mentoring young women in Pakistan to her current work directing more investment to women innovators around the globe And Elizabeth Isele a senior fellow in Social Innovation at Babson College shares her research on women and ageism saying we need to retire the word retirement The book is divided into six parts each with unique areas of focus Millennials Leading Exploring Challenges and Opportunities Facing the Next Generation of Women in Technology Men and Women Empowering One Another Bold Leadership Women Changing the Culture of Investment and Entrepreneurship Educating for the 21st Century Breaking the Glass Ceiling A Generation of Women Forging into Technology Leadership Emerging Fields of Technology The Internet of Women gathers examples about the increasingly inclusive and progressive gender culture in technology from over 30 countries Stories range from an entrepreneur in Dubai partnering with private and public sector entities to accelerate blockchain technology to a young British woman moving to Silicon Valley to launch an artificial intelligence platform and incubator The book is intended for corporations academic institutions the private sector government agencies gender experts and the general public and its key benefit is to let the reader understand a path towards implementing diversity overall globally It also showcases the strategies tools and tactical execution on how create cultural change in all parts of the world

Seducing the Boys Club Nina DiSesa, 2008-01-29 Fact 1 Forty years after the feminist revolution fewer than 2 percent of Fortune 1000 CEOs are women Fact 2 The playing field is not level Fact 3 You need to get over this From the woman who became chairman of the flagship office of the largest advertising agency network in the world comes a wry reality check on how to get ahead and thrive in the testosterone driven business arena Nina DiSesa is a master communicator a ceiling crasher and one of the most successful women in the corporate world She is also a big time realist who has figured out that S M seduction and manipulation is the secret to winning over and surpassing the big guys In Seducing the Boys Club DiSesa shows that you can in fact leave your male colleagues in the dust but not by following the rules you learned in business school By playing the roles of den mother fraternity brother little sister and hard nosed boss DiSesa navigated the choppy macho minded waters of the workplace All the bad boys in her life and there are many have provided a wealth of devilishly amusing stories and cautionary tales that DiSesa is only too happy to pass on Ah revenge can be sweet but the truth is that she came to love those boys as much as they love her which is the whole point DiSesa asserts that women need to meld their feminine characteristics nurturing compassion listening with the traits of their male counterparts competitiveness decisiveness combativeness to expand their professional horizons In Seducing the Boys Club DiSesa shares her practical outrageous and even controversial maxims for making it including Learn to appreciate men Men like women who like them Remember that women are biologically wired to succeed If you want to make a name for yourself find a mess and fix it A secure and comfortable job only holds you back Don't assume that men never listen They listen like a dog does Don't be a quiet achiever Act brave and you will look brave Screw the rules Make up your own Whether dead on funny or deadly serious DiSesa is always on her game always on message and absolutely on target as she arms women with the can do confidence and no compromises attitude they need to climb as high as their ambition can carry them while keeping their standards impeccable and their integrity intact Not for women only this book should be read by men too though it won't give them any defense against a woman who can truly seduce a boys club
