It contains material which is easily understood and it covers all the major areas and issues of contemporary society. New Zealand National Bibliography

, 1981 The Smith Women Rosemary Eleanor Barrington, Alison Gray, 1981. Topical chapters quote life experiences of women aged 20 to 50 who had lived in New Zealand most of their lives. The Women's War Deborah Montgomerie, 2001. This book explains the ambiguities of wartime changes in the private and public lives of New Zealand women. It considers women as mothers, wives and lovers as well as workers using many examples from real lives. Deborah Montgomerie's main argument is that despite the changes the war was essentially a conservative period, pointing out that understanding the continuities in gender relations is as important as cataloguing female firsts. Her book stylishly challenges accepted wisdom and offers a clear, fresh view of a period often viewed through the blurry lens of nostalgia and anecdote. BOOK JACKET

Women in Business Martha Reeves, 2016-12-23. This book combines theory, empirical research and practical international case studies to provide students with a comprehensive resource that demonstrates theories on gender alongside their operation in everyday workplace situations. Reeves's new edition provides a thorough review of issues important to women in the workplace, including gender discrimination and the legal framework for equity at work. The book uses case studies to illustrate key themes and introduces several new features, including updated statistics on women's participation in the workforce, updated examples of resources for women in business, two new chapters covering negotiation and influencing skills and women in STEM fields, new case studies featuring comparisons between the position of women in the United States and in other countries, an instructor's manual with advice, suggested answers to the end of chapter questions and additional resources. This is a one-stop resource for any student interested in gender theory and issues that affect women in the workplace. Going Public Bronwyn Dalley, Jock Phillips, 2001. This is a collection of essays in the rapidly growing field of public history. The essays are short, think-pieces by leading writers and scholars which explore the connections between specific aspects of public history and the broader field of New Zealand history in general and show some new and challenging ways of looking at the past. The contributions cover new media, academic vs public history, the Waitangi Tribunal, Treaty claims research, official war history, government history, the origins of public history, museums, heritage, freelance research and writing public history in popular culture and state-funded reference histories.
