Smoke Over Birkenau Liana Millu, 1991 Presents stories of women who lived and suffered alongside Liana Millu during months in a concentration camp describing their struggle to overcome violence and tragedy

Jewish Men and the Holocaust: Sexuality, Emotions, Masculinity Florian Zabransky, 2024-10-21 During the Holocaust amid death and violence Jewish men were not mere powerless victims Linking gender studies with a history of sexuality and emotions will highlight intimate agency power struggles negotiations of relationships social dynamics and representations of masculinities Considering the agency and vulnerability will further convey intimate choices the representation of masculine ideals intimate violence and the expression of various emotions such as honour and love As research on the Holocaust often links women with sexuality or portrays women as gendered beings it is crucial to excavate the intimate hidden lives of Jewish men and their specific intimate experiences as men The analysis not only demonstrates how Jewish men remember and make sense of their experiences but also how they chose to form the narrative and how they represented their ordeal in four chapters namely ghettos concentration camps Jewish resistance in the countryside and finally DP camps in the aftermath of the Holocaust The consideration of these four spaces allows a nuanced innovative understanding of the intimate history of Jewish men during the Holocaust i.e. how some men established male dominated structures and established intimate strategies to find solace and pleasure

The Witness and the Body in Auschwitz Bozena Karwowska, 2023-10-16 The Witness and the Body in Auschwitz Early Literary Accounts of the Camp Experience examines bodily descriptions from early testimonies of concentration camp survivors focusing on questions related to meanings of corporeality as well as to Holocaust researchers and links the discourse of the body with a social cartography of the Auschwitz camp complex The heart of the book is comprised of memory based texts written by survivors in the early years after the war The early texts discussed were written in Polish and while some became internationally recognized others remain virtually unknown especially outside of Poland These early memoirs and literary works help navigate the space of the Auschwitz camp complex from the perspective of the victims based on their experiences and decipher those areas devoid of narratives spaces of total annihilation Literary accounts and early testimonies allow us to map the space of the camp differently than through the documents produced by the Nazi perpetrators Such a social cartography also includes specific gendered differences and allows Karwowska to critically analyze sensitive questions related to the body gender and sexuality of a prisoner survived a catastrophe that had engulfed humanity as a whole but claimed two thirds of their number The chapters include an overview of the efforts by survivor historians and memoir writers to inform the world of the catastrophe that had befallen the Jews of Europe an evaluation of the work of survivor historians and memoir writers new light on the Jewish historical commissions and the Jewish documentation centres studies of David Boder a Russian born psychologist who recorded searing interviews with survivors and the work of philosophers social thinkers and theologians theatrical productions by survivors and the first films on the theme made in Hollywood how the Holocaust had an impact on the everyday life of Jews in the USA and a discussion of the different types and meanings of silence A breakthrough volume in the debate about the Myth of Silence this is a must for all students of Holocaust and genocide Gulag Literature and the Literature of Nazi Camps

Leona Toker,2019-08-28 A literary scholar examines survival narratives from Russian and German concentration camps shedding new light on testimony in the face of evil In this illuminating study Leona Toker demonstrates how Holocaust literature and Gulag literature provide contexts for each other especially how the prominent features of one shed light on the veiled features and methods of the other Toker s analysis concentrates on the narrative qualities of the works as well as how each text documents the writer s experience in a form where fictionalized narrative can double as historical testimony Toker also views these texts against the background of historical information about the Soviet and the Nazi regimes of repression Writers at the center of this work include Varlam Shalamov Primo Levi Elie Wiesel and Ka Tzetnik and others including Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn Evgeniya Ginzburg and Jorge Sempr n illuminate the discussion Toker also provides context for references to potentially obscure historical events and shows how they form new meaning in the text The Jewish

Jewish Doctors and the Holocaust Ross W. Halpin, 2019-01-14 This is the first attempt to explain how Jewish doctors survived extreme adversity in Auschwitz where death could occur at any moment The ordinary Jewish slave labourer survived an average of fifteen weeks Ross Halpin discovers that Jewish doctors survived an average of twenty months many under the same horrendous conditions as ordinary prisoners Despite their status as privileged prisoners Jewish doctors starved froze were beaten to death and executed Many Holocaust survivors attest that luck God and miracles were their saviors The author suggests that surviving Auschwitz was far more complex Interweaving the stories of Jewish doctors before and during the Holocaust Halpin develops a model that explains the anatomy of survival According to his model the genesis of survival of extreme adversity is the will to live which must be accompanied by the necessities of life specific personal traits and defence mechanisms For survival all four must co exist

The Jewish American Novel Philippe Codde, 2007 Philippe Codde provides a comparative cultural analysis of the unprecedented success of the Jewish novel in the postwar United States by situating the process and event in the context of three closely related American cultural movements the popularity in the US of French philosophical and literary existentialism the increasing visibility of the Holocaust in US American life and the advent of radical theology Codde argues that the literary repertoire of the postwar Jewish novel consists of an amalgam of these cultural elements that were making their mark in the political religious and philosophical systems of the United States at the time and that this explains in part the Jewish novel's sweeping success in the American literary system

Inside Concentration Camps Maja Suderland, 2013-12-17 Terror was central to the Nazi regime and the Nazi concentration camps were places of horror where prisoners were dehumanized and robbed of their dignity and where millions were murdered How did prisoners cope with the brutal and degrading conditions of life within the camps In this highly original book Maja Suderland takes the reader inside the concentration camps and examines the everyday social life of prisoners their daily activities and routines the social relationships and networks they created and the strategies they developed to cope with the harsh conditions and the brutality of the guards Without overlooking the violence of the camps the contradictions of camp life or the elusive complexity of the multicultural prisoner society Suderland explores the hidden social practices that enabled prisoners to preserve their human dignity and create a sense of individuality and community despite the appalling circumstances This remarkable account of social life in extreme conditions will be of great interest to students and scholars in history sociology and the social sciences generally as well as to a wider readership interested in the Holocaust and the concentration camps
