Solving History The Challenge Of Environmental Activism:

Solving History Raymond Albert Rogers,1998 An activist s response to current failed environmental policies that simply do not challenge the economic interests that benefit from overexploitation Governing the Environment School of Law and School of Natural Resources and the Environment Edward A Parson,2001-01-01 This collection of seven essays authored by leading Canadian academics examines different aspects of the relationship between government and environmental issues

Maritime Heritage in Crisis Richard M. Hutchings,2016-12-08 Maritime heritage landscapes are undergoing a period of unprecedented crisis severely impacted by coastal development population growth and climate change Presenting archaeology and CRM as a grave threat this volume offers an important lesson on the relationship between neoliberal heritage regimes and global ecological breakdown The Moral Austerity of Environmental Decision Making John Martin Gillroy,Joe Bowersox,2002-06-17 A roundtable discussion on the missing ethical dimension in environmental policy

Political Ecology David Bell,Leesa Fawcett,Roger Keil,Peter Penz,2005-08-18 This collection addresses environmental issues from a contemporary political economy perspective The papers explore issues such as the link between culture and nature the impact of humanity on the environment technology s role and communications Radical Ecopsychology, Second Edition Andy Fisher,2013-01-01 Expanded new edition of a classic examination of the psychological roots of our ecological crisis Three Plays of Maureen Hunter Hunter, Maureen,2003 Book is clean and tight No writing in text Like New

Radical Ecopsychology Andy Fisher,2012-02-01 Personal in its style yet radical in its vision Radical Ecopsychology offers an original introduction to ecopsychology an emerging field that ties the human mind to the natural world In order for ecopsychology to be a force for social change Andy Fisher insists it must become a more comprehensive and critical undertaking Drawing masterfully from humanistic psychology hermeneutics phenomenology radical ecology nature writing and critical theory he develops a compelling account of how the human psyche still belongs to nature This daring and innovative book proposes a psychology that will serve all life providing a solid base not only for ecopsychological practice but also for a critical theory of modern society Ibss: Political Science: 1998 Compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science,2000-02 Renowned for its international coverage and rigorous selection procedures this series provides the most comprehensive and scholarly bibliographic service available in the social sciences Arranged by topic and indexed by author subject and place name each bibliography lists and annotates the most important works published in its field during the year of 1997 including hard to locate journal articles Each volume also includes a complete list of the periodicals consulted Human-Centered Built Environment Heritage Preservation Jeremy C. Wells,Barry L. Stiefel,2018-09-20 Human Centered Built Environment Heritage Preservation addresses the question of how a human centred conservation approach can and should change practice For the most part there are few answers to this question because professionals in the heritage conservation field do not use social science research methodologies to manage cultural landscapes assess historical significance and inform the treatment of building and landscape fabric With few exceptions only academic theorists have explored these topics while failing to offer specific usable guidance on how the social sciences can actually be used by heritage professionals In exploring the nature of a human centred heritage conservation practice we explicitly seek a middle ground between the academy and practice theory and application fabric and meanings conventional and civil experts and orthodox and heterodox ideas behind practice and research We do this by positioning this book in a transdisciplinary space between these dichotomies as a way to give voice and respect to multiple perspectives without losing sight of our goal that heritage conservation practice should fundamentally benefit all people We believe that this approach is essential for creating an emancipated built heritage conservation practice that must successfully engage very different ontological and epistemological perspectives
