Some Light on Christian Education James W. Deuink, 1984-01-01 Christian Education and the Emerging Church Wendi Sargeant, 2015-07-24 All signs point to Christian education having lost its theological location and prominence in the life of the Western Protestant church The Emerging Church movement as an intentionally postmodern approach to ministry in the contemporary context may however offer insights to reinterpret Christian education This significant movement in today's church gives Christian education a new interpretive framework that is theologically located at an intersection of doxology and doctrine In her examination of postmodern faith formation Wendi Sargeant explores the importance of the Christian worshipping community as the most appropriate setting for Christian education Practitioners and students will benefit from the ready to use teaching and learning matrix and all those with interest in the formation of faith in themselves and others will draw much from the way Sargeant situates worship as the basis for enhancing Christian formation and ethos Christian Education and the Local Church James DeForest Murch, 1958 This book helps the local church re evaluate its program of Christian education After nearly 2000 years of history it is pertinent to ask whether the church school is still true to the principles of the Master Teacher and of the apostolic church whether its methods of education and their ultimate results are distinctly and peculiarly Christian and whether the local church is efficiently reaching humanity with Christian teaching The author faces these questions from the viewpoint of one who believes that the Bible is inspired that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and that the New Testament church is the pattern church He evaluates modern educational thought and practice in the searching light of Christian history and principles and draws some constructive conclusions The section on methods present a church school for today which offers all the best of modern education in a pattern thoroughly true to the Scriptures A Theology for Christian Education James Riley Estep, Michael J.
