Son Of The Salmon People:

The Son-in-law Test in North American Indian Mythology Anna Ruth Haworth, 1926 The Bella Coola Indians Thomas Forsyth McIlwraith, 1992-01-01 A comprehensive guide to Nuxalk culture and a central document in the study of ethnographic methods American Indians in the Marketplace Brian C. Hosmer, 1999 Although it is usually assumed that Native Americans have lost their cultural identity through modernization some peoples have proved otherwise Brian Hosmer explores what happened when cultural identity and economic opportunity converged among two Native American communities that used community based industries to both generate income and sustain their cultures Comparing a lumber business run by the Menominees of Wisconsin and a salmon cannery established by British Columbian and Alaskan Tsimshian communities known as Metlakatla Hosmer reveals how each tribe responded to market and political forces over fifty years Hosmer s innovative ethnohistory recounts how these Indians used the marketplace to maintain their distinctiveness to a far greater extent than those who became wage earners in the white man s world Hosmer shows that by selectively incorporating elements of American capitalism into their cultural lives the Menominees and Metlakatlans came to view modernization less as a threat to their tribal life than as a means for maintaining their independence These tribes embraced the same market accused of hastening the demise of native societies and became comparatively successful in American terms even as they both honored fundamental values and forged new cultural identities Over time these peoples came to understand how the market worked recognized that the broader economy operated according to market principles and learned how to adjust to it Hosmer reveals how their strategies of purposeful modernization brought relative economic independence and sometimes the respect and cooperation of local and federal governments how it helped chart a middle course between unchecked individuality and a communal ethos that might stifle economic development and how economic development and cultural values ultimately affected one another American Indians in the Marketplace is a story of adaptation that acknowledges the hardship and suffering common to most Indian white contact while emphasizing the benefits of selective modernization accompanied by a constant re invention of tradition It questions the victim thesis of Native American history and shows that native peoples can meet the challenges of surviving in the larger world Spirit Things Lara Messersmith-Glavin, 2022-05-20 A collection of essays that evoke an adventurous spirit and the craving for myth Spirit Things examines the hidden meanings of objects found on a fishing boat as seen through the eyes of a child Author Lara Messersmith Glavin blends memoir mythology and science as she relates the uniqueness and flavor of the Alaskan experience through her memories of growing up fishing in the commercial salmon industry off Kodiak Island Spirit things are those mundane objects that offer new insights into the world on closer consideration fishing nets a favorite knife and the bioluminescent gleam of seawater in a twilight that never truly grows dark Spirit Things recounts stories of fishing family synesthesia storytelling gender violence and meaning Each essay takes an object and follows it through histories personal material and scientific drawing together the delicate lines that link things through their making and use their genesis and evolution and the ways they gain significance in an individual's life. A contemplative take on everything from childcare to neurodivergence, comfort foods to outlaws. Spirit Things uses experiences from the human world and locates them on the edges of nature. Contact with wilderness with wildness be it twenty foot seas in the ocean off Alaska's coast or chairs flying through windows of a Kodiak bar provides an entry point for meditations on the ways in which patterns, magic and wonder overlap.

Battle for Oceanus Jack Enright, 2012-08-13. Science fiction adventure story of the invasion of Oceanus by the Nagas from Tlalocan, a planet in the Pleiades star system. Starships suddenly appear in the skies above Oceanus. Scientists and government leaders assemble from around the globe to determine how to respond to this apparent invasion. It is soon discovered that there is not one but two separate fleets. Each fleet having starships of distinct configurations and markings. Within weeks a battle erupts in the stratosphere between the two alien fleets. The Battle of Oceanus has begun.

Tsawalk E. Richard Atleo, 2024-03-20. Western philosophy has long held scientific rationalism in a place of honour. Reason, that particularly exalted human quality, has become steadily distanced from the metaphysical aspects of existence such as spirit, faith and intuition. In Tsawalk, hereditary chief Umeek introduces us to an alternative indigenous worldview, an ontology drawn from the Nuuchah-nulth origin stories. Umeek develops a theory of Tsawalk, meaning one that views the nature of existence as an integrated and orderly whole and thereby recognizes the intrinsic relationship between the physical and spiritual. By retelling and analyzing the origin stories of Son of Raven and Son of Mucus, Umeek demonstrates how Tsawalk provides a viable theoretical alternative that both complements and expands the view of reality presented by Western science. Tsawalk, he argues, allows both Western and indigenous views to be combined in order to advance our understanding of the universe. In addition, he shows how various fundamental aspects of Nuuchah-nulth society are based upon Tsawalk and what implications it has today for both Native and non-Native peoples. A valuable contribution to Native studies, anthropology and philosophy, Tsawalk offers a revitalizing and thoughtful complement to Western scientific worldviews.
