Ready to help your grade school child get organized? Here are some simple lessons to tackle first.

Lesson

Recognize “wants” vs. “needs.”

Goal: Sort out and prioritize what she wants to do vs. what she needs to do.

Example: Your child does homework first. Playing with friends comes later.

Lesson

Take one out, put one in.

Goal: Keep messes from becoming overwhelming.

Example: Your child has to put away what's already out when she wants to play with or use something new.

Lesson

Categorize, label and sort.

Goal: Keep things neat and orderly.

Example: Your child looks at toys, groceries or homework to figure out which things go together.

Lesson

Picture the day.

Goal: Know the order or events in the day.

Example: Your child plans out the day by drawing a picture of the day's schedule as a comic book.

Lesson

Make daily checklists.

Goal: Keep track of what needs to be done.

Example: Your child lists out things to do, checks off what's finished and transfers unfinished items to the next day's list.

Lesson

Keep a family calendar.

Goal: Plan for the future.

Example: Your child checks the calendar nightly to know what's happening tomorrow.

Lesson

Break big projects into smaller steps.

Goal: Make big projects easier to manage.

Example: Your child breaks a science project into steps—first coming up with an idea, then listing materials needed and gathering supplies before doing the experiment.

Waddell, Rachel M. McBride, 2008 Early Childhood Education spans the human life from birth to age 8 Infants and toddlers experience life more holistically than any other age group Social emotional cognitive language and physical lessons are not learned separately by very young children Adults who are most helpful to young children interact in ways that understand that the child is learning from the whole experience not just that part of the experience to which the adult gives attention Although early childhood education does not have to occur in the absence of the parent or primary caregiver this term is sometimes used to denote education by someone other than these the parent or primary caregiver Both research in the field and early childhood educators view the parents as an integral part of the early childhood education process Early childhood education takes many forms depending on the theoretical and educational beliefs of the educator or parent Other terms those are often used interchangeably with early childhood education are early childhood learning early care and early education Much of the first two years of life are spent in the creation of a child's first sense of self or the building of a first identity Because this is a crucial part of children's makeup how they first see themselves how they think they should function how they expect others to function in relation to them early care must ensure that in addition to carefully selected and trained caregivers links with family home culture and home language are a central part of program policy If care becomes a substitute for rather than a support of family children may develop a less than positive sense of who they are and where they come from because of their child care experience This book presents the latest research in this vital field
