Resources in Education ,1999-10 Psychological Studies in the Teaching, Learning and Assessment of Mathematics
Yiming Cao,Zsolt Lavicza ,Shuhua An,Lianchun Dong,2024-05-31 There is no doubt that the onset of a new decade has brought high expectations of academic progress for scholars especially for researchers in mathematics education The International Group for the Psychology of Mathematics Education was born in 1976 which focused on the international exchange of knowledge in the psychology of mathematics education the promotion of interdisciplinary research with psychologists mathematicians and mathematics teachers and the development of the psychological aspects of teaching and learning mathematics and its implications Modern Mathematics Dirk De Bock,2023-03-08 The international New Math developments between about 1950 through 1980 are regarded by many mathematics educators and education historians as the most historically important development in curricula of the twentieth century It attracted the attention of local and international politicians of teachers and of parents and influenced the teaching and learning of mathematics at all levels kindergarten to college graduate in many nations After garnering much initial support it began to attract criticism But as Bill Jacob and the late Jerry Becker show in Chapter 17 some of the effects became entrenched This volume edited by Professor Dirk De Bock of Belgium provides an outstanding overview of the New Math modern mathematics movement Chapter authors provide exceptionally high quality analyses of the rise of the movement and of subsequent developments within a range of nations The first few chapters show how the initial leadership came from mathematicians in European nations and in the United States of America The background leaders in Europe were Caleb Gattegno and members of a mysterious group of mainly French pure mathematicians who since the 1930s had published under the name of a fictitious Nicolas Bourbaki In the United States there emerged during the 1950s various attempts to improve U S mathematics curricula and teaching especially in secondary schools and colleges This side of the story climaxed in 1957 when the Soviet Union succeeded in launching Sputnik the first satellite Undoubtedly this is a landmark publication in education The foreword was written by Professor Bob Moon one of a few other scholars to have written on the New Math from an international perspective The final epilogue chapter by Professor Geert Vanpaemel a historian draws together the overall thrust of the volume and makes links with the general history of curriculum development especially in science education including recent globalization trends

The First Five Years of Teaching Mathematics (FIRSTMATH) Maria Teresa Tatto,Michael C. Rodriguez,Mark D. Reckase,Wendy M. Smith,Kiril Bankov,James Pippin,2020-04-24 This book reports on an innovative study into the first five years of mathematics teaching FIRSTMATH For the first time the study has developed a viable methodology to analyze the knowledge skills and dispositions of beginning mathematics teachers as well as instruments to explore the contexts where they work The book provides a step by step account of this exploratory proof of concept research study using a comparative and international approach and introduces readers to the challenges entailed The FIRSTMATH study promises the development of methods and strategies to make it possible for teacher educators and future teachers to examine and improve on their own practices in an important STEM area Ministry of Education Annual Report Kenya.
