Teaching Right And Wrong Moral Education In The Balance:

Teaching Right and Wrong Richard Smith, 1997 This volume tackles the key issues in moral education in a style accessible to professional educators and general readers It takes into account the real contexts of people's lives broadens the terms of discussion of morality and draws conclusions to guide the practice of moral education Liberalism, Education and Schooling T.H. McLaughlin, 2017-03-27 A tribute collection of essays edited by author's colleagues and friends Education and Practice Joseph Dunne, Pádraig Hogan, 2004-08-06 This volume explores the distinctiveness of teaching and learning as a human undertaking and the nature and scope of the philosophy of education An investigation of the distinctiveness of teaching and learning as a human undertaking Provides fresh thinking on the nature and scope of the philosophy of education Draws on the original insights of an international group of experts in philosophy and education Includes an interview on education with Alasdair MacIntyre together with searching investigations of his views by other contributors

Education, Philosophy and the Ethical Environment Graham Haydon, 2006-09-27 How much can we reasonably expect from education This book written by a philosopher of education casts new light on this question by seeing values education not as a separate activity within schools but as an aspect of education that both reflects the surrounding climate of values and can help to change it Graham Haydon argues that all of us whether as teachers parents students or citizens share in a responsibility for the quality of that ethical environment He argues that we must ensure that what happens in schools will enable young people to appreciate the diversity of our ethical environment help them find their way through its complexities contribute to developing a climate of values that is desirable for all This book shows that values education is too demanding to be left to parents and too important to be entrusted to government initiatives For teachers engaged in values education this book brings a fresh perspective to what they are doing within a realistic view of their responsibilities For students of education it shows that practical issues can be illuminated by insights from philosophy A Theory of Moral Education

Michael Hand, 2017-11-14 Children must be taught morality They must be taught to recognise the authority of moral standards and to understand what makes them authoritative But there's a problem the content and justification of morality are matters of reasonable disagreement among reasonable people This makes it hard to see how educators can secure children's commitment to moral standards without indoctrinating them In A Theory of Moral Education Michael Hand tackles this problem head on He sets out to show that moral education can and should be fully rational It is true that many moral standards and justificatory theories are controversial and educators have an obligation to teach these nondirectively with the aim of enabling children to form their own considered views But reasonable moral disagreement does not go all the way down some basic moral standards are robustly justified and these should be taught directly with the aim of bringing children to recognise and understand their authority This is an original and important contribution to the philosophy of moral education which lays a new theoretical foundation for the urgent practical task of teaching right from wrong Making

Sense of Education David Carr, 2005-07-08 Making Sense of Education provides a contemporary introduction to the key issues in educational philosophy and theory Exploring major past and present conceptions of education teaching and learning this book makes philosophy of education relevant to the professional practice of teachers and student teachers as well of interest to those studying education as an academic subject The book is divided into three parts education teaching and professional practice issues concerning education the role of the teacher the relationship of educational theory to practice and the wider moral dimensions of pedagogy learning knowledge and curriculum issues concerning behaviourist and cognitive theories of learning knowledge and meaning curriculum aims and content and evaluation and assessment schooling society and culture issues of the wider social and political context of education concerning liberalism and communitarianism justice and equality differentiation authority and discipline This timely and up to date introduction assists all those studying and or working in education to appreciate the main philosophical sources of and influences on present day thinking about education teaching and learning

Citizenship and Education in Liberal-Democratic Societies Kevin McDonough, Walter Feinberg, 2003-08-28 The essays in the volume address educational issues that arise when national sub national and supra national identities compete How can we determine the limits to parental educational rights when liberalism s concern to protect and promote children s autonomy conflicts with the desire to maintain communal integrity Given the advances made by the forces of globalization can the liberal democratic state morally justify its traditional purpose of forging a cohesive national identity Or has increasing globalization rendered this educational aim obsolete and morally corrupt Should liberal education instead seek to foster a sense of global citizenship even if doing so would suppress patriotic identification In addressing these and many other questions the volume examines the theoretical and practical issues at stake between nationalists multiculturalists and cosmopolitans in the field of education The fifteen essays plus an introductory essay by the editors provide a genuine productive dialogue between political and legal philosophers and educational theorists

Education in Morality J. Mark Halstead, Terence H. McLaughlin, 2005-09-26 What should teachers and schools do about moral education An international team of philosophers and educationalists examine some of the most fundamental questions in moral education such as the nature of morality

What Makes Us Moral? On the capacities and conditions for being moral Bert Musschenga, Anton van Harskamp, 2013-06-13 This book addresses the question of what it means to be moral and which capacities one needs to be moral It questions whether empathy is a cognitive or an affective capacity or perhaps both As most moral beings behave immorally from time to time the authors ask which factors cause or motivate people to translate their moral beliefs into action Specially addressed is the question of what is the role of internal factors such as willpower commitment character and what is the role of external situational and structural factors The questions are considered from various disciplinary perspectives
