Teaching With Love A Feminist Approach To Early Childhood Education Rethinking Childhood Vol 1:

Teaching with Love Lisa S. Goldstein, 1997 Teachers commonly talk about loving their students yet no effort has been made to explore the powerful educational potential inherent in these loving feelings Teaching with Love breaks new ground by paying careful scholarly attention to the nature the scope the dimensions and the variety of teacherly love In a highly readable narrative that builds on the feminist notion of an ethic of care and draws from the fields of psychology and women s studies this book examines and analyzes the experiences of two primary grade teachers as they set about trying to create and enact a vision of early childhood education centered around loving relationships

An Introduction to Qualitative Research Maria K. E. Lahman, 2024-04-17 This engaging introduction to all aspects of qualitative research challenges students to consider how their research can be culturally responsive The first part of the book introduces the foundations including theory ethics and reflexivity with an emphasis on multiple methodologies from traditional to critical and cutting edge The second part covers practical guidance from writing proposals to data collection and includes a chapter dedicated to creating a culturally responsive relationship with research participants Finally readers engage with how the quality of research is enhanced how data are analyzed and how research accounts are created and disseminated Areas vital to the health of qualitative research are addressed including systemic racism and cultural humility with cutting edge suggestions offered in areas like hybrid research harnessing technology and use of social media Multiple identities are centered in examples throughout including race gender and those who are hard to reach or seldom heard in research Textboxes featuring scholars student researchers and community members invite readers into dialogue in an area that is contested swiftly shifting and always vibrant with potential Resources for instructors are available on a website to accompany the book

We're Not Robots Enid Elliot, 2012-02-01 This fascinating book presents the stories of infant toddler caregivers and their work to illustrate the complexity of balancing relationships with babies families coworkers and self yet remaining emotionally present and mindfully engaged Enid Elliot explores the inevitable tensions of working within these various relationships and demonstrates how proficient caregivers can develop strategies for achieving this delicate balance In the process she raises provocative questions about how we care for babies and how to provide education and support for their caregivers

Care & Advocacy Jo Bennett, 2012-03-01 This is a book of oral narratives collected from participants at a school created for first generation immigrant youth The narrations from the students teachers administration professional staff and support personnel document the power of caring relationships in an educational setting The narratives underscore the importance of teachers students and staff working together and their stories are relevant for any school setting It turns out that teachers and students both have a need even a longing for connection The narratives bring Nel Noddings Care Theory to life and show how this theory can be practiced both inside and outside the classroom to bring about a school wide change in culture From the receptionist to the principal from the the social worker to the teacher the study shows that the daily interactions are as important as the academics in the school setting to improve inequities Social justice takes on a new meaning with this focus on social exchanges and personal well being The book can benefit those in the field as well as in teacher and leadership preparation programs those wanting to conduct research with vulnerable populations can also benefit from this study

Social and Emotional Prevention and Intervention Programming for Preschoolers Susanne A. Denham, Rosemary Burton, 2012-12-06 Social and Emotional Prevention and Intervention Programming for Preschoolers rests on the idea that young children under optimal circumstances develop substantial abilities in social and emotional domains by the time they enter school These abilities contribute to their success and well being during these early years but even more importantly to both their successful adaptation to school personal and academic and their long term mental health The chapters of this volume present theoretical foundations for and explanations of what important adults in young children s lives preschool teachers daycare providers parents can do to encourage the development of such social emotional abilities including promoting secure attachment relationships providing positive behavior guidance and assisting children in developing emotion knowledge emotion regulation social problem solving skills and other positive social behaviors In addition the book reviews the current state of early childhood programming in each of these crucial areas with the addition of a chapter on emergent parent programming on emotion coaching Recommendations are made for making such programming work for assessing individual children s development and program efficacy and necessary future directions for this area are detailed

Children and the Power of Stories Carmen Blyth, Teresa K. Aslanian, 2022-03-04 This book explores how stretching stories through posthuman and autoethnographic perspectives can produce new stories that decolon ial ize traditional thinking and approaches to Early Childhood Education ECE It demonstrates how stories can provide a different way of knowing and a way of knowing differently a way of decolon ial izing current discourses of early childhood education within educational institutions The book uses research and practice in ECE to act as a canvas a context with which to explore how autoethnography can become other when viewed through a posthumanist lens As a consequence the chapters and stories within allow for an interplay between the posthumanist and the autoethnographic an interplay that allows for a very specific type of meaning to emerge a meaning that traffics in numerous and disruptive possibilities rather than settled certainties In so doing authors rethink and perturb the notion of child centered approaches to knowing be com ing and doing within the Early Childhood Education context

Early Childhood Pedagogies Jane Murray, 2018-12-07 Diverse international perspectives on the ways in which young children s learning and care may be supported converge in this book Traversing the field of early childhood education and care from its established philosophical underpinnings to 21st century research policies and practices the contributions to this volume draw together past and present discourses as a basis for shaping future trajectories In spite of a growing international consensus on the strong influence of early childhood experiences on lifetime outcomes the nineteen chapters reveal contemporary early childhood pedagogy as a collection of spaces characterised by plurality complexity and dissonance These characteristics signal the importance of recognising early childhood pedagogies multiple models of practice for the many diverse learning and care contexts that have the capacity to value young children as individuals and enable each to flourish now and throughout their lives Moreover such characteristics disrupt notions that a single optimal early childhood pedagogy is either possible or desirable Educating About Social Issues in the 20th and 21st Centuries Vol. 2 Samuel Totten, Jon Pedersen, 2013-02-01 Over the course of the past decade and a half we Samuel Totten and Jon E Pedersen have co edited a series of books on teaching and learning about social issues Our goal has been to build a series that would broadly represent the work that has been undertaken over the past 110 plus years related to the field of teaching and learning about social issues As we created and added to the series see for example Addressing Social Issues in the Classroom and Beyond The Pedagogical Efforts of Pioneers in the Field Researching and Teaching Social Issues The Personal Stories and Pedagogical Efforts of Professors of Education Teaching and Studying Social Issues Major Programs and Approaches we came to the conclusion that the development of an annotated bibliography of the key works books chapters articles reports and research on a wide range of issues topics germane to teaching and learning about social issues was a logical addition to the series In Educating About Social Issues in the 20th and 21st Centuries Volume 1 A Critical Annotated Bibliography which was published in early 2012 the focus was on a host of programs models strategies and concerns vis vis teaching and learning about social issues This new book constitutes Volume Two in the series entitled Educating About Social Issues in the Twentieth and Twenty First Centuries and picks up where Volume One left off Included in this book are the pioneering works of the following Boyd Bode Alan F Griffin G Gordon Hullfish Richard Gross Robert Yager and James Banks Collectively their work on social issues spans the period between the late 1930s through the present with James Banks and Robert Yager continuing to publish through today As for the subjects topics other than pioneers of teaching about social issues addressed in this volume they are Issues Centered Approaches to Teaching Geography Addressing Social Issues in Sociology and Anthropology Courses Peace Studies The Vietnam War and LGBT

Go Be a Writer! Candace R. Kuby, Tara Gutshall Rucker, 2016-04-15 This book provides an introduction to poststructural and posthumanist theories in order to imagine new possibilities for expanding literacy education The authors put to work these theories in the context of an elementary school classroom examining literacy based activities that occur as students participate with materials in a multimedia writers studio Focusing on literacy processes the book emphasizes the fluid and sometimes unintentional ways multimodal artifacts come into being through intra actions with human and nonhuman materials Because these theories emphasize the unplanned nonlinear aspects of literacy the authors demonstrate an approach to literacy that works against the grain of standardization and rigid curricular models Go Be a Writer reveals that when educators appreciate the value of unscripted intra actions they allow for more authentic learning Choice ,1998

Bhana, 2016-10-12 This book is an ethnography of teachers and children in grades 1 and 2 and presents arguments about why we should take gender and childhood sexuality seriously in the early years of South African primary schooling Taking issue with dominant discourses which assumes children s lack of agency the book questions the epistemological foundations of childhood discourses that produce innocence It examines the paradox between teachers dominant narratives of childhood innocence and children s own conceptualisation of gender and sexuality inside the classroom with peers in heterosexual games in the playground and through boyfriend girlfriend relationships It examines the nuances and finely situated experiences which draw attention to hegemonic masculinity and femininity where boys and girls challenge and contest relations of power The book focuses on the early makings of gender and sexual harassment and shows how violent gender relations are manifest even amongst very young boys and girls Attention is given to the interconnections with race class structural inequalities as well as the actions of boys and girls as navigate gender and sexuality at school The book argues that the early years of primary schooling are a key site for the production and reproduction of gender and sexuality Gender reform strategies are vital in this sector of schooling Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2003 Understanding the

Boundary between Disability Studies and Special Education through Consilience, Self-Study, and Radical Love David I. Hernández-Saca, Holly Pearson, Catherine Kramarczuk Voulgarides, 2022-12-13 In Understanding the Boundary between Disability Studies and Special Education through Consilience Self Study and Radical Love the authors explore what it means to engage in boundary work at the intersection of traditional special education systems and critical disability studies in education The book consists of fifteen groundbreaking accounts that challenge dominant medicalized discourses about what it means to exist within and around special education systems that create space for new conceptions of what it means to teach lead learn and exist within a conciliatory space driven by radical love and disability justice principles The book pushes readers to consider how their own personal professional and programmatic future transformational actions can be driven by disruption and the desire for freedom from the hegemony of traditional special education and White and Ability supremacy
