and English Language Teaching (ELT). Many practitioners wonder how they can do CLIL if their main classes are focused on English as a Foreign Language (EFL). This volume addresses these concerns by examining the experiences of various CLIL practitioners in the EFL context of Japan. Chapters outline the CLIL methodology, the differences in hard CLIL (subject led) and soft CLIL (language oriented), before focusing on the EFL interpretations of soft CLIL. Although the distinction of hard CLIL and soft CLIL has been mentioned in several publications, this is the first book length exploration of this issue featuring chapters examining expectations, challenges, material support, implementation, and even motivation in CLIL classrooms. All of this culminates in a review of the potential and future of CLIL in EFL contexts, paving the way for more widespread and well informed implementation of CLIL all over the world. Soft Skills for Children Nancy Armstrong Melser, 2019-10-31. The book offers a comprehensive exploration of GIScience education, including current trends and future educational needs in GIScience, and will act as a resource to prepare learners for a world that demands more intensive investment in present day education and technological literacy. Additionally, the indirect benefit of merging the fragmented literature on GIScience literacy will provide a basis to examine common techniques and enable a new wave of research more rooted in learning theories.
