My Tibetan Childhood Naktsang Nulo,2014-11-05 In My Tibetan Childhood Naktsang Nulo recalls his life in Tibet's Amdo region during the 1950s From the perspective of himself at age ten he describes his upbringing as a nomad on Tibet's eastern plateau He depicts pilgrimages to monasteries including a 1500 mile horseback expedition his family made to and from Lhasa A year or so later they attempted that same journey as they fled from advancing Chinese troops Naktsang's father joined and was killed in the little known 1958 Amdo rebellion against the Chinese People's Liberation Army the armed branch of the Chinese Communist Party During the next year the author and his brother were imprisoned in a camp where after the onset of famine very few children survived The real significance of this episodic narrative is the way it shows through the eyes of a child the suppressed histories of China's invasion of Tibet The author's matter of fact accounts cast the atrocities that he relays in stark relief Remarkably Naktsang lived to tell his tale His book was published in 2007 in China where it was a bestseller before the Chinese government banned it in 2010 It is the most reprinted modern Tibetan literary work This translation makes a fascinating if painful period of modern Tibetan history accessible in English

Voice of An Exiled Tibetan Yeshe Choesang ,2014-12-10 This book is about the human rights violations in Tibet which include restrictions on freedom of religion culture language belief and association In particular Tibetans are subjected to arbitrary arrests and ill treatment in detention including torture by the Chinese authorities Press freedom remains non existent in China and the media in Tibet is tightly controlled by the Chinese leadership making it difficult to accurately determine the extent of human rights violations Today China sees Tibetan religion and culture as the biggest threat to the Communist Party leadership Cover photo After 65 years of brutal oppression of the Tibetan people by China Tibet is still an occupied territory and Tibetans live under constant surveillance by the military and police Tibet on Fire Tsering Woeser,2016-01-12 Since the 2008 uprising nearly one hundred and fifty Tibetan monks have self immolated in protest of the Chinese occupation of their lands Most have died from their wounds If Tibetans saw even a sliver of an opportunity to hold demonstrations then they would not resort to self immolation Woeser the dissident Tibetan poet has written in the New York Times The Tibetans she references includes herself a prominent voice of the Tibetan movement and one of the few Tibetan authors to write in Chinese Woeser has been placed under house arrest and lives under close surveillance Tibet On Fire is her account of the oppression Tibetans face and the ideals driving both the self immolators and other Tibetans like herself Angry and clear Tibet On Fire is a clarion call for the world to take action Echoes from Forgotten Mountains Jamyang Norbu,2023-07-24 Jamyang Norbu has taken the stories of forgotten Tibetans resistance fighters secret agents soldiers peasants merchants even street beggars and skillfully worked their myriad accounts into a single glorious memory history of the Tibetan struggle He uses recollections from his own childhood to ease the reader into an immersive understanding of the complexity of Tibet s modern history the Chinese invasion the uprisings in Kham and Amdo the formation of the Four Rivers Six Ranges Resistance Force the March 59 Lhasa Uprising the CIA supported Air Operations the Nyemo peasant Uprising of 68 69 and the Mustang Guerilla Force in northern Nepal where Norbu later served He writes of leaving home to drive tractors at refugee settlements educate refugee children produce plays at the Tibetan Institute of Performing Arts and collect intelligence for the Tibetan Office of Research and Analysis TORA and for France s External Intelligence Agency SDECE He uses these anecdotes not so much as autobiography but as a framing device to recount the lives deeds and too often tragedies of the many Tibetans he encountered and befriended throughout his lifenearly all of whom played vital roles in shaping the recent history of their country but whose contributions are still unsung and forgotten Jamyang Norbu s lifelong commitment to collecting and orchestrating the echoes of these many forgotten voices from the past has resulted in a lyrical learned and compassionate book that could well be described as the prose epic of the Tibetan freedom struggle Ama Adhe, the Voice that Remembers Adhe Tapontsang,Joy Blakeslee,1997 Adhe Tapontsang speaks of the atrocities of her twenty seven years in Chinese prisons after the invasion of Tibet in 1950
