Secondarily this book aims to give new managers and future managers a leg up on how to actually run a technical publications group based on some 20 years of experience in the field There are different situations in which someone becomes a manager of a technical publications group Sometimes a writer grows into the role within a company as the department grows sometimes tech writers are subsumed under some other group I've seen writers belonging to support testing marketing and infrastructure groups and the person in charge of technical writing in the company isn't actually a writer and may never have been one Tech writers who set up their own freelance business have their own specific needs not only are they the managers they're also the writers Finally owners or managers of tech writing agencies whether or not they are writers themselves have business issues specific to a tech writing business to consider
