Teaching For Wholeness:

Teaching for Wholeness Carolyn DiPaolo,1985 Books-in-brief: Wholeness and Holiness in Education: An Islamic Perspective Zahra Al Zeera ,2023-10-16 Critically examining the Western secular approach to formal education the author contests the value of an education system focusing solely on the intellectual and physical aspects of human development The methodological aim and structure of this approach are compared to those of Islam which Dr Al Zeera notes gives credence to the importance of spiritual and religious factors as well as scholarly ones with the overall objective of forming whole and holy human being who instead of resisting the paradoxes of life uses their interrelatedness as a means of personal and societal development One interesting factor examined within the broader framework of the study is the area of female spirituality an element which the author argues is vastly under represented in prevalent Islamic literature This study is a holistic view of knowledge and a sociological discussion adopting an unconventional approach of using the author s own personal experiences as the basis for debate and analysis We are invited to enter the world of understanding and observation to experience for ourselves an unusual approach to dialectical thinking Taylor's 7th Teaching and Learning Conference 2014 Proceedings Siew Fun Tang,Loshinikarasi Logonnathan,2015-06-01 These conference proceedings showcase a rich and practical exchange of approaches and vital evidence based practices taking place around the world They clarify the complex challenges involved in bringing about a holistic educational environment in schools and institutes of higher learning that fosters greater understanding and offer valuable insights on how to avoid the pitfalls that come with rolling out holistic approaches to education To do so the proceedings focus on the subthemes Support and Development Mobility and Diversity and Networking and Collaboration in Holistic Education Taoism, Teaching, and Learning John P. Miller,2022-06-29 The ancient Chinese philosophy of Taoism contains profound wisdom about the cosmos nature human life and education Taoism seeks to be in harmony with nature and using it as a guide can help us live in a way that is healing to both ourselves and the planet Taoism Teaching and Learning identifies key aspects of Taoist thought and highlights how these principles can promote a holistic approach to teaching and learning In particular this book offers educators guidelines and pedagogical examples for how to instil a perspective of interconnectedness into their classrooms It sheds light on how philosophical Taoism articulates a vision of the universe and life that mirrors the actual realities of nature Providing frameworks and methods for teaching and learning based on the interconnectedness of life Taoism Teaching and Learning develops an inspiring vision for education and helps us to see our world in a deeply holistic and meaningful way Teaching for Wholeness Carolyn Gelone,1994-05-01 Culture, Curriculum, and Identity in Education H. Milner,2010-03-01 This book analyzes equity and diversity in schools and teacher education Within this broad and necessary context the book raises some critical issues not previously explored in many multicultural and urban education texts Building an Intentional School Culture Charles F. Elbot,David Fulton,2007-10-25 This resource provides tools case studies strategies and implementation plans to help educators create an intentional school culture that fosters excellence builds character and improves academic achievement Teaching and Learning for Wholeness Clifford Mayes, 2016-12-08 In Teaching for Wholeness Clifford Mayes continues to expand the horizons of Jungian pedagogy a movement that draws upon the thought of Carl Jung and Jungian scholars to address crucial educational issues and define new ones Mayes leads readers through an analysis of Freudian and post Freudian psychology in educational theory and practice an examination of the epistemological foundations of Jungian thought and a demonstration of how Jungian psychology can uniquely help teachers reflect deeply upon their roles as educators Mayes also explores Jung's view of symbolism and its implications for curriculum and the Jungian idea of the shadow as the launching point for an examination of education as reclamation of the soul before concluding with the case for individuation as the proper goal of education The Routledge Handbook of Research Methods in Spirituality and Contemplative Studies Bernadette Flanagan, Kerri Clough, 2024-09-03 The Routledge Handbook of Research Methods in Spirituality and Contemplative Studies provides the first authoritative overview of methodology in this growing field Against the background of the pandemic and other global challenges spirituality is expanding as an agreed term with which to discuss the efforts people make to be fully present to deeper invisible dimensions of their personal identity and external reality but until now there have been few resources exploring the different methodological approaches researchers take This book explores the primary methodologies emerging First Person Second Person and Third Person and provides a systematisation of spirituality research in applied contexts for the first time Comprising 33 chapters by a team of international contributors the book is divided into seven parts Foundations Approaches to Contemplative Research Contemplative Research in Education Contemplative Research in Work and Leadership Contemplative Research in Science Health and Healing Contemplative Research in Social Sciences Contemplative Research and the Way Forward The Handbook provides readers practitioners and policymakers with methods and approaches which can facilitate a spiritual and contemplative stance in research activities It is an essential resource for researchers and students of Religion Spirituality and Research Methods Mindful Education Charlene Tan, 2021-06-30 This book provides original ideas and practical recommendations for educators in a post pandemic world We live in a world that has been upended by the COVID 19 pandemic Students around the globe have been besieged by disruptions that threaten not only their academic learning but also their mental emotional and interpersonal well being In the midst of pressing and mounting challenges how can schools ensure the total wellness of all their students Beyond reactive piecemeal and short term measures how can schools enact mindful education that pays attention to wholeness in every student Extending the current research on well being and mindfulness this book draws insights from Confucian and Christian traditions These two traditions have been selected as they are widely seen to represent and have impacted Eastern and Western civilisations respectively for millennia Informed and inspired by Confucian and Christian perspectives this book proposes that mindfulness is an orientation towards wholeness where one experiences the harmony and shalom peace Mindful education is realised through A school community of ren humanity and agape love A transforming curriculum that centres on dao way and imago dei god's image Empathic teachers who are motivated by shu putting oneself in the other's place and the Golden Rule do to others as you would have them do to you and Self directed learners who develop themselves through xiuji self cultivation and spiritual disciplines Applying ancient wisdom to contemporary settings this book on promoting student well being through mindful education is a useful resource for policymakers educators researchers and general readers Liberating the Classroom Tessa Hicks

Peterson, 2025-01-14 How universities can become centers of healing and social justice In Liberating the Classroom Tessa Hicks Peterson shows how universities can transform into places that directly disrupt injustice and work toward personal and collective liberation Instead of reproducing social inequity higher education institutions could become engines of healing This transformation however requires a major conscience shift at the level of the individual student educator leader the classroom teaching and learning administration culture and policy and the institution structures and systems Peterson examines innovative models practices and theories that students teachers and administrators can apply to implement both personal and systemic change This book represents a major contribution in placing the claims of social justice personal and social healing and holistic pedagogy in a dialogue that is at once passionate and deeply considered Peterson presents a vision of teaching and learning in which these three claims are mutually transformative This guide offers a cadre of thinkers and practitioners who provide distinct but connected resources for realizing that vision and explores what changes in pedagogical practice campus culture academic community relationships and institutional structures would be needed to create spaces in higher education that could fully braid these values together Rudolf Steiner's Pedagogy of Imagination Thomas William Nielsen, 2004 This book investigates the concept and practises of imaginative teaching Since Rudolf Steiner founder of the Waldorf schools wrote extensively on the subject and is renowned for his contributions to education his work is used to develop insights into the nature of imaginative teaching Given the societal changes since Steiner's time however the topic is further developed by examining imaginative teaching in three Steiner primary classrooms using the methodological means of ethnography and phenomenology The insights gained from this undertaking are used to re theorise aspects of Steiner's writings about imagination and holistic education In this study it is argued that imaginative teaching is made up of three modes of pedagogy and seven teaching methods and that these modes and methods form a most potent means for connecting children with aesthetic intellectual and physical development The 'Resource' Approach to Mathematics Education Luc Trouche, Ghislaine Gueudet, Birgit Pepin, 2019-11-29 This edited volume will help educators better analyze methodological and practical tools designed to aid classroom instruction It features papers that explore the need to create a system in order to fully meet the uncertainties and developments of modern educational phenomena These have emerged due to the abundance of digital resources and new forms of collective work The collected papers offer new perspectives to a rising field of research known as the Documentational Approach to Didactics This framework was first created by the editors of this book It seeks to develop a deeper understanding of mathematics teaching expertise Readers will gain insight into how to meet the theoretical questions brought about by digitalization These include how to analyze teachers work when they prepare for their teaching how to conceptualize the relationships between individual and collective work and how to follow the related processes over the long term The contributors also provide a comparative view in terms of contrasting selected phenomena across different educational cultures and education systems For instance they consider how differences in curriculum resources are available to teachers and how teachers make use of them to shape instruction Coverage also considers the extent to which teachers make use of additional material particularly those available through the global marketplace on the Internet This book builds on works from the Resources 2018 Conference Understanding teachers work through their interactions with resources for teaching held in Lyon France

Holistic Education Resource Book Peter

Schreiner, Esther Banev, Simon Oxley, The book comes out of the ecumenical movement and is one outcome of the Holistic Education Study Process of the World Council of Churches It contributes to a dialogue between education philosophy and religious education spiritual education and the search for peace and justice reconciliation and healing as a yearning of all human beings

Curriculum and Environmental Education Alan Reid, 2019-11-14 This collection traces the development and findings of curriculum studies of environmental education since the mid 1970s Based on a virtual special issue of the Journal of Curriculum Studies the volume identifies a series of curriculum challenges for and from environmental education These include key questions in curriculum politics planning and implementation including which educative experiences should a curriculum foster and why what the scope of a worthwhile curriculum should be and how it should be decided organised and reworked why distinctive curricula are provided to different groups of students and how curriculum should best be enacted and evaluated The editor and contributors call for renewed attention to the possibilities for future directions in research in light of previously published work and innovations in scholarship They also offer critical commentary on curriculum critique and crisis in environmental education through new material and previous studies from the journal by addressing three key themes perspectives on curriculum and environment education accounting for curriculum in environmental education and changes in curriculum for environmental education

When Thinking Is a Problem Charles Eigen, 2025-04-15 When Thinking is a Problem examines the activity of thinking and how it is a primary factor in suffering at the individual as well as at the collective level while at the same time a necessary function that is often taken for granted and misused When Thinking is a Problem is unique in helping the reader to see the activity of thinking from a variety of different perspectives provided by writers representing diverse backgrounds It contains essays contemplations and dialogues by eighteen teachers all of them leaders in their fields In these chapters the mechanics and dynamics of thinking are discussed by well known teachers from the Buddhist and Advaita traditions as well as from noted neuroscientists psychologists philosophers academics and prominent writers In its focus on thinking as it relates to suffering whether by its presence or absence the writers discuss the need to honor both thinking as well as the dimension or reality beyond conscious thought

A Different Three Rs for Education ,2006-01-01 This book of twelve essays applies the holistic theories of process philosophy to the educational challenges that teachers face in today s complexly changing world Topics range from staff development to spirituality exploring issues of student and teacher motivation developmental stages of learning imaginative thinking and writing nourishing relationships moral and environmental education and the development of hospitable learning environments
