Teaching Reading And Writing Through Childrens Literature:

Teaching Reading and Writing Through Children's Literature Sue K. Bradley, Jack Bradley, Shirley Ermis, 2003-09-10 Teaching Reading and Writing Through Children's Literature is a guide that enhances children's enjoyment and understanding of books while focusing on skills instruction. Although there are numerous books published in relation to this topic, this manual is unique in that the exercises are designed for use with any book rather than assigning a particular title to a lesson. Specific skills instruction, higher order thinking, and reading comprehension are all emphasized. Lesson activities are designed for students in grades K-8. Mentor Texts Rose Cappelli, 2023-10-10 In their first edition of Mentor Texts, authors Lynne Dorfman and Rose Cappelli helped teachers across the country make the most of high quality children's literature in their writing instruction. Mentor Texts Teaching Writing Through Children's Literature K-6 2nd Edition, the authors continue to show teachers how to help students become confident accomplished writers by using literature as their foundation. The second edition includes brand new Your Turn Lessons built around the gradual release of responsibility model, offering suggestions for demonstrations and shared or guided writing. Reflection is emphasized as a necessary component to understanding why mentor authors chose certain strategies, literary devices, sentence structures, and words. Dorfman and Cappelli offer new children's book titles in each chapter and in a carefully curated and annotated Treasure Chest. At the end of each chapter, a Think About It, Talk About It, Write About It section invites reflection and conversation with colleagues. The book is organized around the characteristics of good writing: focus, content, organization, style, and conventions. The authors write in a friendly and conversational style, employing numerous anecdotes to help teachers visualize the process and offer strategies that can be immediately implemented in the classroom. This practical resource demonstrates the power of learning to read like writers.

Integrating Reading and Writing Through Children's Literature Kathy Everts Danielson, Jan LaBonty, 1994 Grade level 1-8 Reading and Writing Pathways through Children's and Young Adult Literature Alicia Curtin, 2022-07-29 This thought provoking book will provide masters, students, teachers, and researchers with a toolkit and theoretical framework for teaching literacy through children's literature. It features innovative ideas for developing student and teacher experiences with literature and popular culture texts in the classroom, providing practical examples and teaching aids throughout. Taking a collaborative approach, Curtin explores how teachers and learners can engage with literature and its authors for the development of literacy in classroom practice. Connecting reader and writer identities and worlds through interviews with and suggested classroom activities from authors themselves, this text combines author, teacher, and learner perspectives in the development of creative pedagogies that extend understandings of literacy beyond reading, writing, and text. Exploring fairy tales, comic books, and graphic novels, children living in literature, i.e. texts which portray children, their lives, and experiences, popular culture, young adult fiction, and non-fiction, and digital texts such as blogs, etc., this text develops a sociocultural understanding of literacy as a lived and contextually dependent practice where meaning is derived through relationships between people settings and culture Different contexts for literacy are explored including reading and writing strategically to learn about literacy and literature widely for personal purposes and deeply to transform understanding Short 2011 This text will be an invaluable resource for teachers researchers or anyone interested in reading and writing stories The author interviews will also be of particular interest to older learners themselves as a way to develop their understanding of their own reading and writing practices Pedagogies can be adapted to any age group ranging from the early years to young adult Teaching with Children's Literature Margaret Vaughn, Dixie D. Massey, 2021-08-23 Perhaps no factor has a greater influence on children's literacy learning than exposure to engaging authentic culturally relevant texts This concise practitioner resource and course text helps K-8 teachers make informed choices about using children's literature in their classrooms from selecting high quality texts to planning instruction and promoting independent reading The authors present relevant theories such as reader response and culturally responsive pedagogy and show how to apply them in practice Key topics include teaching narrative and expository texts tapping into students' individual interests and conducting text-based writing activities and discussions Every chapter features case examples reflection questions and learning activities for teachers appendices list exemplary children's literature
