Teaching The Language Of Time:

Teaching the Language of Time Marilyn M. Toomey, Susan Christy-Pallo, 1997 The Relations between Vietnamese EFL Students' and Teachers' Language Learning Beliefs Truong Sa Nguyen, 2013-08-19 This book examines the relationships between foreign language learning beliefs and learning preferences of two English language learners and the beliefs and teaching practices of two Native English speaking teachers in the EFL context In such an environment the learners were not satisfied with learning English in their public school they paid a great deal of money to attend a private school and had many expectations regarding the course and the teachers On the other hand the teachers had to satisfy their students without any personal experience in learning English as a foreign language Practically the book will help private schools and other similar contexts to enhance their competitiveness in the market and serve their learners better In addition the book will also help EFL teachers to raise their awareness of the nature and effects of the relationship between teachers and students beliefs Theoretically this book contributes to the current literature on this subject by relating not only learners beliefs and preferences but also teachers beliefs with their on going practices Teaching Language Online Victoria Russell, Kathryn Murphy-Judy, 2020-08-23 Practical and accessible this book comprehensively covers everything you need to know to design develop and deliver successful online blended and flipped language courses Grounded in the principles of instructional design and communicative language teaching this book serves as a compendium of best practices research and strategies for creating learner centered online language instruction that builds students proficiency within meaningful cultural contexts This book addresses important topics such as finding and optimizing online resources and materials learner engagement teacher and student satisfaction and connectedness professional development and online language assessment Teaching Language Online features A step by step guide aligned with the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages ACTFL the Common European Framework of Reference CEFR for Languages Learning Teaching and Assessment and the World Class Instructional Design and Assessment WIDA standards Research based best practices and tools to implement effective communicative language teaching CLT online Strategies and practices that apply equally to world languages and ESL EFL contexts Key takeaway summaries discussion questions and suggestions for further reading in every chapter Free downloadable eResources with further readings and more materials available at www routledge com 9781138387003 As the demand for language courses in online or blended formats grows K 16 instructors urgently need resources to effectively transition their teaching online Designed to help world language instructors professors and K 12 language educators regardless of their level of experience with online learning this book walks through the steps to move from the traditional classroom format to effective successful online teaching environments Teaching Language and Content to Linguistically and Culturally Diverse Students Yu Ren Dong, 2006-03-01 This book is intended for high school content teachers preservice teachers preparing to teach in a subject matter area college faculty involved in both pre service and in service teacher preparation curriculum developers and policy makers in teacher education They will find teaching principles as well as concrete ideas for teaching content subject matter knowledge to diverse students Development for Content-Based Language Education Susan Ballinger, Ruth Fielding, Diane J. Tedick, 2024-09-10 This book fills a large gap in our understanding of how to prepare teachers for the challenging but increasingly popular task of integrating content and language instruction It brings together findings on content based teacher education from Africa Asia Australia Europe and North America in order to inform researchers and teacher educators and enable them to play a critical role in the continued success of such programs It offers a solid grounding in theories and applications of content based approaches with empirical studies investigating teacher identity materials design use of cognitive discourse functions and best practices for teacher education Responding to the growing popularity of content based programs and the shortage of qualified teachers for these contexts this book promotes teacher researcher collaboration and provides support for trainee teachers in service teachers and course leaders Teaching Language as Action in the ELA Classroom Richard Beach, Faythe Beauchemin, 2019-03-14 This book explores English language arts instruction from the perspective of language as social actions that students and teachers enact with and toward one another to create supportive trusting relations between students and teachers and among students as peers Departing from a code based view of language as a set of systems or structures the perspective of languaging as social actions takes up language as emotive embodied and inseparable from the intellectual life of the classroom Through extensive classroom examples the book demonstrates how elementary and secondary ELA teachers can apply a languaging perspective Beach and Beauchemin employ pedagogical cases and activities to illustrate how to enhance students engagement in open ended discussions responses to literature writing for audiences drama activities and online interactions The authors also offer methods for fostering students self reflection to improve their sense of agency associated with enhancing relations in face to face rhetorical and online contexts Teaching Language Arts to English Language Learners Anete Vásquez, Angela L. Hansen, Philip C. Smith, 2013-03-12 This thoroughly revised and updated edition of Teaching Language Arts to English Language Learners provides readers with the comprehensive understanding of both the challenges that face ELLs and ways in which educators might address them in the language arts classroom The authors offer proven techniques that teachers can readily use to teach reading writing grammar and vocabulary as well as speaking listening and viewing skills A complete section is also devoted to ways teachers can integrate all five strands of the language arts curriculum into a comprehensive unit of study with meaningful accommodations for ELLs An annotated list of web and print resources completes the volume making this a valuable reference for language arts teachers to meet the challenges of including all learners in effective instruction New features to this edition include An updated and streamlined Part 1 which provides an essential overview of ELL theory in a language arts specific context Additional practical examples of language arts exercises all of which are closely aligned with the Common Core State

Teaching Language and Literacy in the Early Years Diane Godwin, Margaret Perkins, 2013-01-11 The early years are increasingly recognized as a priority time for the education of children and language and literacy are key elements of any early childhood program This second edition provides an accessible text on the current research and thinking surrounding these areas and demonstrates clearly how this theory can work in practice The authors provide guidance on planning assessment and recording suggest appropriate activities resources and play ideas to help those who work with or are planning to work within the foundation stage The second edition includes specific reference to both the curriculum guidance for the Foundation Curriculum and the framework of teaching objectives for the National Literacy Strategy and puts these within a framework which acknowledges the centrality of play and talk in the early years The book is firmly grounded in the requirements of the Foundation curriculum and is a suitable textbook for undergraduate early childhood courses all those following routes into early years teaching and existing practitioners in all types of early years settings. contexts and geographic regions which demonstrate these models in practice with a focus on the implementation of technology in such instances The book also introduces resources for aligning projects with government standards in the classroom but also frameworks for researching and assessing PBLL This comprehensive collection is essential reading for students and researchers in language learning and teaching language education curriculum design and applied linguistics

Science Education as a Pathway to Teaching Language Literacy ,2010-01-01 In this era of mandated high stakes and standardized testing teachers and schools officials find themselves struggling to meet the demands for improved student achievement At the same time they are also expected to teach all subjects as required by national and state curriculum standards Because of these competing demands science is not even taught or taught less often in order to make more room for mathematics and language arts drill and practice and teaching to the test Anyone concerned with providing students with a well rounded education should ask whether these drastic measures even if they were to show improvement in achievement justify denying children access to the unique opportunities for intellectual growth and social awareness that the effective instruction of science provides Will these students have enough exposure to the science curriculum to prepare them to do well later in middle and high school How is this current situation going to help ameliorate the pervasive achievement gap in science and how is it going to motivate students to pursue science related careers The authors of this book believe that instead of sacrificing the science curriculum to make more time for drill and practice in mathematics and language arts what should be done is to connect current research on literacy and science instruction with effective pedagogy Therefore this volume provides fresh theoretical insights and practical applications for better understanding how science can be used as a pathway to teaching literacy and hence as a pathway to improving teachers practice and students learning
