Primary School English-Language Education in Asia Bernard Spolsky, Young-in Moon, 2013-03-05. In Asia, English is no longer a foreign language but a key resource for education, government, business and the general public. Whereas thirty years ago British and American experts believed that the best way to improve the quality of English teaching was to cancel any programs below the secondary level, Asian nations as well as European are now introducing English in primary school. But there are major obstacles to overcome: the training of enough local teachers or the hiring of English speakers, the preparation of suitable teaching materials, the development of useful tests and the design of workable curriculums. The chapters in this book, written by leading English teaching professionals in seven Asian countries and originally delivered at the 2010 annual conference of Asia TEFL, which took place in Hanoi Vietnam describe and analyze national policies and how they are implemented The coverage is wide China with its huge number of students learning English Japan working to make the transition from elementary to secondary school seamless Singapore continuing to use English as medium of instruction for its multilingual population Korea developing English education policies to recognize the increased role of English alongside the national language India building on its colonial past to make English an economic resource Vietnam fitting English into a program of national rebuilding and Taiwan spreading its English teaching outside the national capital This is not a report of the views of outside experts but of local experiences understood by local scholars of international standing Policy makers educators researchers and scholars will be able to gain valuable insights from Asian experts      Creative Teaching: English in the Early Years and Primary Classroom Chris Horner,Victoria Ryf,2007-06-11 Presenting a range of exciting activities that support the development of creative English lessons within the existing structures of the Foundation Curriculum and the National Curriculum this book is packed full of interactive and creative teaching strategies provides guidance on assessing creative work highlights opportunities for creative literacy activities across the curriculum covers ages 3 11      Teaching English as a Foreign Language in Primary School Mary Lou McCloskey,Janet Orr,Marlene Dolitsky,2006 In this volume language educators and program implementers from various EFL settings worldwide describe programs and practices designed to support English instruction for primary aged learners      Primary English: Teaching Theory and Practice Jane Medwell,David Wray,Hilary Minns,Vivienne Griffiths,Elizabeth Coates,Liz Coates,2017-05-22 This is the essential teaching theory and practice text for primary English that takes a focused look at the practical aspects of teaching      Teaching and Learning English at Primary Level.
