Teaching Meaning In Artmaking:

Teaching Meaning in Artmaking Sydney R. Walker, 2001-01-01 The Art Education in Practice series provides working art educators with accessible guides to significant issues in the field. Developments in the field of art education are consolidated into a clear presentation of what a practising teacher needs to know. Each title in the series delivers sensible solutions transforming research and theory into tangible classroom strategies. Paramount to the series is the concept of informed practice whereby important and often complex art education topics are put into the context of the working art teacher and real classroom environments.

Teaching Toward Democracy William Ayers, Kevin Kumashiro, Erica Meiners, Therese Quinn, David Stovall, 2015-11-17 Teaching Toward Democracy examines the contested space of schooling and school reform with a focus on the unique challenges and opportunities that teaching in a democratic society provides. Teaching in and for democracy involves developing particular qualities of mind that teachers explore and work to develop as they become more effective educators. Some chapters open with familiar experiences in the lives of teachers in schools working with parents and communities or dealing with classroom discipline and management and illuminate that commonplace in new helpful and sometimes startling ways. Other chapters present possible interventions any teacher might make in any classroom for example using the arts as an organizing center and metaphor for teaching more generally or rethinking the press of politics on our every day practice. This book foregrounds the central idea that democratic ideals are a necessary starting point and context in which to enact our teaching here and now.

Handbook of Research and Policy in Art Education Elliot W. Eisner, Michael D. Day, 2004-04-12 The Handbook of Research and Policy in Art Education marks a milestone in the field of art education. Sponsored by the National Art Education Association and assembled by an internationally known group of art educators, this 36 chapter handbook provides an overview of the remarkable progress that has characterized this field in recent decades. Organized into six sections, it profiles and integrates the following elements of this rapidly emerging field: history, policy, learning, curriculum, and instruction, assessment, and competing perspectives. Because the scholarly foundations of art education are relatively new and loosely coupled, this handbook provides researchers, students, and policymakers both inside and outside the field an invaluable snapshot of its current boundaries and rapidly growing content. In a nutshell, it provides much needed definition and intellectual respectability to a field that as recently as 1960 was more firmly rooted in the world of arts and crafts than in scholarly research.

Makers, Crafters, Educators Elizabeth Garber, Lisa Hochtritt, Manisha Sharma, 2018-09-03 Makers Crafters Educators brings the do it yourself DIY ethos of maker and crafter movements into educational environments and examines the politics of cultural change that undergird them. Addressing making and crafting in relation to community and schooling practices, culture, and place, this edited collection positions making as an agent of change in education In the volume s five sections Play and Hacking Access and Equity Interdependence and Interdisciplinarity Cultural and Environmental Sustainability and Labor and Leisure authors from around the world present a collage of issues and practices connecting object making participatory culture and socio cultural transformation Offering gateways into cultural practices from six continents this volume explores the participatory culture of maker and crafter spaces in education and reveals how community sites hold the promise of such socio cultural transformation

Counternarratives from Asian American Art Educators Ryan Shin, Maria Lim, Oksun Lee, Sandrine Han, 2022-12-26 Counternarratives from Asian American Art Educators Identities Pedagogies and Practice beyond the Western Paradigm collects and explores the professional and pedagogical narratives of Asian art educators and researchers in North America Few studies published since the substantial immigration of Asian art educators to the United States in the 1990s have addressed their professional identities in higher education K 12 and museum contexts By foregrounding narratives from Asian American arts educators within these settings this edited volume enacts a critical shift from Western Eurocentric perspectives to the unique contributions of Asian American practitioners Enhanced by the application of the AsianCrit framework and theories of intersectionality positionality decolonization and allyship these original contributor counternarratives focus on professional and pedagogical discourses and practices that support Asian American identity development and practice A significant contribution to the field of art education this book highlights the voices and experiences of Asian art educators and serves as an ideal scholarly resource for exploring their identity formation construction and development of a historically underrepresented minoritized group in North America

Artistic Mentoring as a Decolonizing Methodology Kryssi Staikidis, 2020-07-20 To expand the possibilities of doing arts thinking from a non Eurocentric view Artistic Mentoring as a Decolonizing Methodology An Evolving Collaborative Painting Ethnography with Maya Artists Pedro Rafael Gonz lez Chavajay and Paula Nicho C mez is grounded in Indigenous perspectives on arts practice arts research and art education Mentored in painting for eighteen years by two Guatemalan Maya artists Kryssi Staikidis a North American painter and art education professor uses both Indigenous and decolonizing methodologies which involve respectful collaboration and continuously reexamines her positions as student artist and ethnographer searching to redefine and transform the roles of the artist as mentor historian activist ethnographer and teacher The primary purpose of the book is to illuminate the Maya artists as mentors the collaborative and holistic processes underlying their painting and the teaching and insights from their studios These include Imagined Realism a process excluding rendering from observation and the fusion of pedagogy and curriculum into a holistic paradigm of decentralized teaching negotiated curriculum personal and cultural narrative as thematic content and the surrounding visual culture and community as text The Maya artist as cultural historian creates paintings as platforms of protest and vehicles of cultural transmission for example genocide witnessed in paintings as historical evidence The mentored artist as ethnographer cedes

Arts Education and Literacies Amy Petersen Jensen, Roni Jo Draper, 2015-06-26 In a struggling global economy education is focused on core subjects such as language arts and mathematics and the development of technological and career readiness skills Arts education has not been a central focus of education reform movements in the United States and none of the current education standards frameworks deeply address the processes texts and literacies that are inherent to arts disciplines This lack of clarity poses a problem for state and district leaders who might be inclined to advocate for the arts in schools and classrooms across the country but cannot find adequate detail in their guiding frameworks This volume acknowledges the challenges that arts educators face and posits that authentic arts instruction and learning can benefit a young person's development both inside and outside of the classroom. It presents ways that arts teachers and literacy specialists can work together to help others understand the potential that arts learning has to enhance students' 21st century learning skills.

New Museum Theory and Practice Janet Marstine, 2008-04-15 New Museum Theory and Practice is an original collection of essays with a unique focus on the contested politics and ideologies of museum exhibition. Community-Based Art Education Across the Lifespan Pamela Harris Lawton, Margaret A. Walker, Melissa Green, 2019-07-19 This book is a comprehensive introduction to the theory and practice of Community-Based Art Education (CBAE). CBAE encourages learners to make connections between their art education in a classroom setting and its application in the community beyond school, with demonstrable examples of how the arts impact responsible citizenship. Written by and for visual art educators, this resource offers guidance on how to thoughtfully and successfully execute CBAE in the pre-K-12 classroom and with adult learners, taking a broad view towards intergenerational art learning. Chapters include vignettes, exemplars of practice, curriculum examples that incorporate the National Coalition for Core Arts Standards and research frameworks for developing, implementing and assessing CBAE projects. This is the book I have been waiting for: carefully researched, thought-provoking and inspiring.

Lily Yeh, Barefoot Artists Inc. A practical guide for community-based art education that is theoretically grounded in social justice. Insightful suggestions for working with communities, planning, creating, transformative learning and evaluating outcomes are based in the authors' deep experience. This book is a timely and welcome volume that will be indispensable to individuals and community organizations working in the arts for positive change.
