Teaching Thinking Robert J. Swartz, D.N. Perkins, 2016-07-15 Originally published in 1990 this title attempts to provide for the educational practitioner an overview of a field that responded in the 1980s to a major educational agenda This innovative agenda called for teaching students in ways that dramatically improved the quality of their thinking Its context is a variety of changes in education that brought the explicit teaching of thinking to the consciousness of more and more teachers and administrators Teaching Thinking Across the Curriculum Vincent Ryan Ruggiero, 1988 Grade level 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 k p e i s t Teaching Thinking Robert J. Swartz, David N. Perkins, 1990 This teaching guide provides an integrated framework for teaching thinking skills which involves both teaching thinking in a separate program or course and infusing the teaching of thinking into standard subject area instruction across the curriculum Individual chapters deal with the following topics 1 the nature of thinking skills and evidence that people can learn to think better 2 the improvement of thinking 3 kinds of thinking broad categories specialized kinds of thinking metacognition and some thinking frameworks 4 the infusion of teaching thinking into regular subject area instruction 5 choosing and using separate instructional programs designed to teach thinking 6 program development and selection of thinking skill goals 7 lesson design and instructional strategies structured thinking teaching for transfer and metacognition 8 support systems for teachers and schools in the teaching of thinking 9 approaches to evaluation and 10 types of tests objective and interpretive Individual chapters contain references DB EBOOK: Developing Thinking; Developing Learning Debra McGregor, 2007-03-16 This highly informative book provides a comprehensive guide to the teaching of thinking skills in primary and secondary education Learning and Teaching Update It is now recognised that thinking skills such as problem solving analysis synthesis creativity and evaluation can be nurtured and developed and education professionals can play a significant role in shaping the way that children learn and think As a result schools are being encouraged to make greater use of thinking skills in lessons and the general emphasis on cognition has developed considerably This book offers a comprehensive introduction to thinking skills in education and provides detailed guidance on how teachers can support cognitive development in their classrooms Developing Thinking Developing Learning discusses how thinking programmes learning activities and teachers pedagogy in the classroom can fundamentally affect the nature of pupils thinking and considers the effects of the learning environment created by peers and teachers It compares the nature design and outcomes of established thinking programmes used in schools and also offers practical advice for teachers wishing to develop different kinds of thinking capabilities This is an indispensable guide to thinking skills in schools today and is key reading for education studies students teachers and trainee teachers and educational psychologists Thinking in Education Matthew Lipman, 2003-01-20 In our increasingly complex world the teaching of thinking has become imperative Yet evidence shows that our children are not learning how to think Matthew Lipman a leading educational theorist gets to the heart of our educational problems in Thinking in Education and makes profound and workable suggestions for solving those problems Thinking in Education describes procedures that must be put in place if students at all levels of education are to become more thoughtful more reasonable and more judicious It recommends that the classroom be converted into a community of inquiry and that the discipline of philosophy be redesigned so as to provide the concepts and values now missing from the curriculum These recommendations have now been carried out the community of inquiry is a recognized pedagogical strategy and traditional academic philosophy has been transformed into a discipline that offers a model of higher order thinking and an image of what all education can be Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved Teaching the Process of Thinking, K-12 Kenneth R. Chuska, 1986 Noting the lack of definitive information about teaching thinking skills and how they are implemented throughout the year or how they are coordinated among subject areas and articulated along grade levels this booklet is intended to provide school districts with a successful plan for developing a comprehensive thinking program for grades K 12 The introduction to the booklet outlines six prerequisites for such a program including a common vocabulary of thinking for all teachers distinctions between process and product with regard to thinking and an inservice program to acquaint teachers with the elements of the thinking instruction model The first section of the booklet discusses conditions necessary for thinking something to think about something to think with some ways in which to think and something to think for The next section then presents a five step model for developing a thinking program using the existing K 12 curriculum and discusses major implications of this model for teaching and learning The remaining sections of the booklet offer suggestions for implementing the model and for evaluating thinking HTH
